HEIRS SEEK TO OUST LADD

WANT HIM REMOVED AS AN ADMINISTRATOR.

Mismanagement in the Affairs of the Johnson Estate Is Charged in Court Against Him.

The hearing of the heirs of A. H. Johnson for the removal of William M. Ladd as administrator of the estate, is set to begin this morning in the County Court, and it will probably take at least a week to complete it. Grave charges of mismanagement are made against Mr. Ladd, which the court will be asked to investigate.

A. H. Johnson was a prominent citizen of Portland, and Johnson street and Johnson's Addition were named after him. He was one of the founders of the Union Meat Company, and owned most of the stock of the corporation. When he died in 1884 his estate was appraised at nearly $200,000. The heirs have never received anything. There was an indebtedness against the estate of $266,000.

William M. Ladd sustains a dual relation toward the estate—that of trustee for property bequeathed to him by Mr. Johnson before his death, and also that of administrator, having been appointed to that responsible position in 1888. In both positions, the petitioners allege that instead of administering the property for the benefit of the creditors and heirs he has acted solely in the interests of the banking firm of Ladd & Titton, to which Mr. Johnson was indebted at the time of his death to the amount of $128,000. The petitioners—C. N. Johnson, T. M. Dunbar and J. R. Hibbard, represented by H. H. Blodell, as attorney, ask that he be removed and his letters of administration be revoked, and that some competent and trustworthy person be appointed administrator in his stead.

To secure the indebtedness due Ladd & Titton, Mr. Johnson, before his death, transferred a great deal of his property to the firm by trust deed. The balance of the property, except some which has been disposed of, comprises the estate. Mrs. Cordella Johnson, the widow, was the executrix of the will, and after her death Mr. Ladd became administrator.

FALSE FRIEND IS FREED

Miss Hornshaw May Never See Her Watch and Money Again.

Miss Anita Hornshaw, who arrived in this city yesterday morning from South-oregon, is decidedly put out over the methods used by Captain Slover in the releasing of prisoners, for the act of that official in turning out J. S. Massey on $100 bail about 7:30 o'clock last evening may cost the young woman $50 and her gold watch. Miss Hornshaw, who is acquainted with Massey, turned over to him the money and watch, she said, at the station at 7:30, or an hour and 30 minutes earlier than the time set, and imagine her chagrin to find that her quarry had been freed on $50 bail, taken from $125 found on his person by Captain Slover. A search is being made for Massey.

PERSONAL MENTION.

M. R. Jones, a pioneer resident of Montavilla, has gone to Nelson, Neb., in the hope that the change in climate will benefit his falling health. Mrs. Jones accompanied him.

Mrs. Sallie B. Forbes, who has been seriously ill of pneumonia at her home, 623 Salmon street, is reported by her physician to be past the crisis and progressing favorably.
