WOMAN'S RIGHT TO GOOD CLOTHES

Crucial Issue Raised in Fashionable Chicago Divorce Suit.

SHE PLEADS NON-SUPPORT

Long List of Fascinating Garment Owned by Woman Who Says She Has Not Enough Clothes.

Problems for Jury.

CHICAGO, April 12.-(Special.)-It is up to the Circuit Court, divorce branch of Chicago, to decide the momentous question of how many and what sort of clothes a man shall buy for his wife and be on the safe side. Mrs. Anna E. Cubiey, wife of Edwin J. Cubley, a real estate owner and dealer in the swell suburb of Ravenswood, who was sued for divorce on the ground of desertion has countered with a cross-bill in which she charges nonsupport. Incidentally

Mrs. Cubley is 30 years the junior of her husband. As to the charge of nonsupport, Mrs Maud Cubley, a daughter-in-law, says Mr. Cubley provided handsomely for his young wife. She swears that the follow ing articles, all in good condition, are now in the possession of Mrs. Cubley, and that Edwin J. purchased all of them, and many more, which have escaped the invoice.

List of Woman's Clothes.

One black voile skirt and the drop that goes with it; two or three silk petticoats; three dresser drawers full of lingeric with French embroidery on it; one tan suit; one broadcloth suit, a very elegant thing, lined with taffeta all the way through; one dark blue tallormade suit, lined with silk; four or five China silk waists, very pretty and with real lace in them; two or three little dotted Swiss walsts; one evening gown of white net over white silk; one little tan applique; three feather boas that come to the bottom of her dress; more ostrich feathers; eight or nine hats; quite a few little dressing sacques; one walking skirt; about two dozen pairs of gloves; two Summer dresses; three pairs of shoes; one diamond ring set with a diamond teardrop; one ring set with opals and diamonds; one gold bracelet mounted with amethysts and diamonds; one solid gold pin set with diamonds; ever so many

Problems for Judge and Jury.

When the divorce case comes on for rial, if it ever does, two problems manifestly will confront the court or the jury. These two questions will be para Pirst-Did Mrs. Cubley get all these things from her husband to have and to hold, to wear and to show: secand, if so, can that be considered a case of nonsupport?

In the settlement of this delicate ques tion of how many clothes a woman should have, much will depend upon the personality and connublality of the Judge, provided it is left to the Judge jury, well, almost any 12 men could pass this season of the year.

REVELATION OF FILIBUSTERER AGAINST SAN DOMINGO.

Jiminez Sought American Aid for Revolt, Offering Samana Bay as Coaling Station.

NEW TORK, April 12.—United States Army officers and Government officials were mentioned today in testimony concerning the 1897 Fanita filibustering expedition of General Jimines, ex-President of Santo Domingo, which started from Mobile, Ala., and proceeded to Monte Cristi, Santo Domingo. The testimony was given by Joseph L. Cunningham, who sought in the a Jimmez for service which he claims he rendered to the expedition

He testified that he offered both iminez and General Morales, who was killed in the expedition, to see several United States officials and politician to obtain aid for the fillbusterers. Th real object of the expedition, he said. was the capture of Santo Domingo with a view of obtaining Samana Bay as a coaling station for the United States, a scheme which had been a favorite one of General Grant, Cun-ningham testified that he had sen in a bill to General Jiminez for $65,000 which the General said he considered was rather large for what services were really rendered, and offered him $25,000, which, he said, he never received.

Cunningham said he was not em-ployed by the United States Government in securing arms for Jiminez.
"Did you inform the United States Government the real purpose for which the arms were to be used."

PASSING INSURANCE CODE

New York House Sends Four More Reform Bills to Governor.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 12.-Four more of the bills recommended by the special insurance investigation committee were passed by both houses of the Legislature and by noon tomorrow will be delivered to Governor Higgins, lacking only his signature to make them law. In addition to these four, the Assembly, after defeating several proetaily amending the insurance law and sent it to the Senate for concurrence. The latter house made the bill a spe-cial order for next Wednesday.

The four passed today and now awaiting the Governor's approval are: The so-called anti-lobby bill, which requires registration of legislative agents and reports of their compensation and expenses to be filed with the Secretary of State.

The bill more effectively penalizing falsification of the records of any corporation by any officer or employe. The bill prohibiting political contributtons by any corporation and re-to testify regarding it, under assur-ance of immunity from prosecution upon his own testimony.

The new bill of the committee qualifying any policyholder of a stock life insurance company to act as a director therein, regardless of whether or not he holds any stock of the company.

McCurdy's Men Must Go.

LONDON, April 12.—A meeting of the British policy-holders of the Mu-tual Life Insurance Company has been called for April 20, to consider the reply of Joseph H. Choate, of counsel for the company, to the representa-tions made in their behalf by A. D. Juilliard, a trustee of the Mutual. The reply was not satisfactory. The policy-holders are satisfied with the financial condition of the company, but desire particularly the retirement of trustees who were closely associated with the McCurdys.

duel three years ago, after which the Countess came to America and the Count de Pourtailes obtained a divorce.

SOME HARD JOLTS FOR BOURNE'S MACHINE

When Jonathan Bourne, Jr., selected a legislative ticket for the people of Multnomah County, composed of men with notoriously bad political records, together with Democrats, Populists and Bryanites, and pledged himself to pay their campaign expenses, he did so for a purpose.

What is that purpose? Is Bourne interested in the revocation of perpetual franchises, the passage of a state banking law, for the protection of depositors, and the creation of the office of State Bank Examiner, the taxation of state and city franchises? We think not, but these are the questions that concern the people today, and are of vital interest to them. Does anyone suppose that Bourne would spend vast sums of money to elect a legislative ticket to bring about legislation covering these matters? We think not.

Was Bourne ever known to assist legislation at Salem in the people's interest, or was he ever seen at Salem except when a Senator was to be elected? We think not.

Does anyone suppose that Bourne, who is a business partner of Charles E. Ladd, and a golf-player with Adams, Mills and Ainsworth, would favor and assist legislation detrimental to the interests of these men! And does anyone suppose that Keady, of the Bourne slate, depending largely on the O. W. P. & Ry. Co. for his living, will vote to revoke its franchise, or to compel it to pay a franchise tax? We think not,

Are Bourne, Keady, Burke, Orton and Coffey to be depended on to give the people relief against the corporation interests? We think not, if we are to judge by their past records. Therefore do not jeopardize your interests by voting for any man on the "Statement No. 1 ticket," which is the Bourne ring ticket.

All this cry about Statement No. 1, which emanates from the Bourne political headquarters, is designed to draw public attention away from the personnel of Bourne's Statement No. 1 ring ticket, for they well konw that should the public learn the true character of his slate, it would go down in defeat.

Under the terms of an imperial ukase the Minister of Commerce will transmit the report to the Emperor for final approval.

final approval.

Upon demand of the Committee on National Defense, the project has been greatly extended since its consideration was begun. The principal modification is that the railway line shall run from Kansk to a point in the Amur Province, where it will bifurcate, one line going to Khabarovsk, the terminus of the Ussuri line, which runs to Viadivostok, the sim being practically to double-track the sim being practically to double-track the suri line, which runs to Viadivostok, the sim being practically to double-track the trans-Siberian railroad for strategical purposes, and the other line running to Nikolaivsk and the coast. A branch line also is contemplated to connect the main cust and west line with the Siberian Railway at Chita and another branch to touch the coast at Okhotsk is projected. The changes involve an increase in mileage from 4000 to 8,500 miles. The materials for the strategic portions of the roade would be admitted free of duty and the title to the land granted will pass as sections are completed. The Kha-barovsk-Kansk line will be built first.
