IMPROVEMENT OF GRAY'S HARBOR

Chief of Engineers Recommends an Appropriation of $187,500.

EIGHTEEN-FOOT CHANNEL

Congress Will Probably Act Favora bly in the Matter Next Year-Sum of $3000 a Year for Maintenance.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Wash OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAL, Washington, April B.-In view of a recent recommendation made by the Chief of Engineers, it is quite probable that the next river and harbor bill, which will be passed one year hence, will contain an appropriation for the improvement of inner Gray's Harbor, on the Washington coast. The last river and harbor bill authorized a survey of this harbor to determine whether or not it justifies further improvement by the general Government.

This survey has been made, and in the opinion of the engineers, justifies a fur-ther appropriation. The result of the ther appropriation. The interest of the chief of Engineers, in which he says:
"The inner portion of Gray's Harbor and the Chehalis River to Montesano are and the channe tree to a project which provides for dredging a channel about 100 feet wide and 15 feet deep at low water through the shouls below Aberdeen and the removal of snags and other obstructions above that point. No Improvement for River.

"In his report on the preliminary ex-Major Millis recommended a survey of Chehalis River from the head of Gray's Harbor to Montesano. This re-port having been referred to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors for review and recommendation, as required by law, the board in its report thereon expressed the opinion, for the reasons given, that it is not advisable for the United States to undertake the improvement of Chehalls River to a greater ex-tent than now provided for under the present project, but recommended that a survey of the Inner portion of Gray's Harbor be authorized, with a view to an extension of the existing project therefor. The Chief of Engineers concurring in the views of the board, a survey of Gray's Harbor as proposed was recommended to the Secretary of War and authorized in accordance with the law.

"In his survey report Lieutenant Pope aubmits an estimate for securing a 200-foot channel 20 feet deep at mean low water, amounting to $270,000 for first cost and $5000 annually for maintenance af-ter completion; also an estimate of $157,-$500 for securing a channel 200 feet wide and 18 feet deep at mean low water, with $3000 annually for maintenance. The larger project is recommended by him, Lesser Scheme Recommended. "In its final report of January 31, 1966, herewith, the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors expresses the opinion that the commercial interests involved are sufficient to justify the cost securing in the improved channel of the inner portion of Gray's Harbor a depth of 18 feet, and recommends the adoption of the lesser project outlined in Lieutenant Pope's report at an estimat-ed cost of $187,500, with $3000 annually for maintenance "I concur in the views and recommenda-

ROOM FOR A COUNTY ROAD

Aberdeen Has Claim on Right of Way Used by Northern Pacific.

ABERDEEN, Wash, April 15 .- (Spe ABERDEEN, Wash, April Is.—(Special.)

The Chamber of Commerce, at its last meeting, decided to take up the question of completing the county road between this city and the city limits. For years the citisens have demanded a wagon-road between the county seat and Abardeen, and finally the County Commissioners pushed the work through from Montesano to the Aberdeen city limits. Aber-den was then in no position to complain, but the fire of 1866, the building of a City Hall and a new steel bridge across the Wishkah River put the municipality in a position financially where it could not very well take up the county road enter-nrise.

very well take up the county reaching prine.

The road is made a serious problem by the fact that it must be built practically in the Chehalis River, parallel with the Northern Pacific Railway track. An almost insurmountable bluff runs close to the railway track, and to pierce it would entail enormous expense. The expense of going in the river will be from $12,000 to $15,000. The Northern Pacific Company, too, is likely to fight the road for the reason that it will cross their tracks and make the highway more hazardous. maks the highway more hazardous.

To offact the action of the railway company, if it should be taken, the city holds that the roadbed of the Northern Pacific Company is an old county road never abandoned, and that the railway company has no right to it. At an early day, when the road was desired badly, the ties were leid over this highway to save expense, and the city was then indifferent to the wagon-road, as it needed the railway more. Now the city desires the wagon-road as well. But it is expected the Northern Pacific Railway Company is disposed to put up an active fight. In the long run the city is bound to win

CANNON BOOM IS NOW ON

Speaker's Friends Push Him for the OREGONIAN NEWS BURBAU, Washington, April II.—Friends of Speaker Cannon are busy reviving the Cannon Presidential boom, evidently alarmed over the progress that has been made with the Fairbanks been in all parts of the United States. Up to this time little has been said about Cannon, but whenever the name of the venerable Speaker has been mentioned for Prusilent, objection has been raised that he is too old. It is this charge that mys—interests the friends of the Speaker.

When, the next Republican National convention is called, Speaker Cannon will be Z years old. That means that, if elected to the Presidency, he would be it at the supiration of his term. That would be the limit for the United States and would be a jump from one extreme to the he the limit for the United States and would be a jump from one extreme to the other.

It is a fact, as contended by Cannon's friends, that the Speaker does not look and act his age; he would readily pass for a man ten years younger; his friends say 20. It is also true that the Speaker is still in full possession of his mental faculties, as has been demonstrated by his management of the House this Winter. But for all that, 12 years is a ripe old age for Presidential candidates, and a man can retrogress rapidly after he turns the three-score-and-ten mark. When the convention is called it will be found that a large number of delegates have their doubts about the propriety of nominating a man who has passed 20.

But when the convention meets, it will be found that there are other objections to Cannon besides his age. During the present session of Congress be has, on occasion, exhibited an utter disregard for public sentiment on more than one occasion.

It was he (for the Speaker is ad mittedly the committee on rules) who rode rough-shod over a tlear majority of the House in a frantic effort to pass a statenood bill that was unpopular and generally disapproved. It was he who denied the House the right to amend the rate bill; it was he who railroaded through the Philippine bill in the same manner. in the same manner, and again it is Cannon who denies the House the right to even consider a tariff revision bill. for it is Cannon, and not Payne.

has shut off this right.
In all his course Cannon acts for what he believes to be the best inter ests of the country, but he has folhis judgment superior to that of a majority of the House, and when Reed made that reputation he lost all chance of becoming President. There are two more sessions before the next National convention, and there is no reason to suppose that in that time Speaker Cannon will become more submissive to the public desire. It is therefore only reasonable to suppose that, when Cannon's name is placed before the convention his course as Speaker, rather than his advanced age, will be the strongest factor to operate against his nomination. The Cannon boom is not as serious a thing as it might be notwithstanding the personal popular

OLD-TIME ILLUMINATION. How Startling Effect Was Produced

Before Gas and Electric Light.

Youth's Companion.

In these days of electric lights, with all their possibilities for brilliant illumination, it is amusing to read what the subjects of George II considered a dazziling effect. A Frenchman visiting in London at the time of the coronation of that monarch in IIE, writes enthusiastically of the lighting of the city, as well as of a banquet display.

"Most of the streets," writes Monsieur Saussure, "are wonderfully well lighted. In front of each house hangs a lantern or large globe of glass, inside of which is placed a lamp which burns all night. Large houses have two of these, suspended outside the doors by Iron supports. Some even have four."

How one are light would have dazzled the good people of that day.

"When the coronation procession entered Westminster Hall," the writer continues, "the light of day was beginning to fade. Porty chandellers, in shape like a crown, hung from the celling, each having $5 wax candles.

"On the King's appearance all suddenly lighted, and every one in the room was filled with astonishment at the wonderful and unexpected illumination. Little cords of cotton wool, imperceptible to the eye, saturated with sulphur of saltpeter, spirite of wins and other ingredients, had been prepared and arranged so as to carry the fiame rapidly from one candle to another. The arrangement has been so skilfully prepared that scarcely a candle failed to take fire."

The Negro's Decline?
In interesting contrast with the Rev. Thomas Dixon's assertion that 58 years from now the negroes will number 80,000,000 and force social equality for themselves, are Professor Walter F. Wilcox's statistics showing a steady decrease from 35 per cent of the Southern population in 1840, to 12.4 per cent in 1900 and probably to 17.4 per cent in 1900 and probably to 17.4 per cent in 2000. These statistics are in line with the figures and emphatic conclusions of Professor W. B. Smith, of Tulane University, who, moreover, indicates in his book, "The Color Line," the complete extinction of the negro race.—Exchange.

over a considerable portion of the Willamette Valley and have talked to a great many farmers and sportsmen, both in Portland and other Valley towns in regard to our game laws. All are agreed that the game laws should be amended, that the figum license should remain in the County Treasurer's office and be the property of each county and be paid out by each County Court for bounties on coyotes, cougars, wildcats, skunks, owls, crows, kingfishers and hawks. It is also agreed that a law be passed requiring the County Courts of the Willamette Valley counties to pay a reasonable bounty on all these destructive animals and birds.

In other words, this would allow the counties of the Willamette Valley to make up and pay the balance on bounties that the General Manager Vollva Creates Stir Among Dowle's ex-Followers by Producing Old Letters of a Sensational Character.

CHICAGO, April 15.—General Overseer Voliva produced the first of his batch of documentary evidence today, by which he documentary evidence today, by which he, hopes to confound John Alexander Dowie and his followers. The Instrument was a letter, written under date of April 13. 1894, and addressed to Dowie, who was then in Zurich, Switzerland. The letter was signed by Overseers John G. Speicher, Charles J. Bernard and Judge V. V. Barnes.

er, Charles J. Bernard and Judge V. V. Barnes.

In the document they warned Dowle that unless he changed his ways in the management of Zion City a clash was inevitable. They stated that from their examination of the conduct of affairs of the colony, it was evident that Dowle had overdrawn his account at the bank in Zion City: that he received deposits when the the conduct of the colony in the conduct of the colony in t Zion City: that he received deposits was known that the bank was insolvent; that he had used funds otherwise than in accordance with the representations made by the stock contracts and certificates; that the proof of the approing that the crow destroys thousands of Chiresentana' pheasants and native pheasants annually

It is conceded that the Willamette Valley except that the goats are kept more in the timber and brush than sheep are.

Now these are only a small percentage of the facts along these lines, and we farmers and sportsmen want notice taken of these serious facts by our Representatives and Senators. In fact, it should be made an issue in this campaign. One of the wealthiest farmers in Yamhill County recently mid that he would and kill them.

I have only mentioned these facts in a general way to bring out a general discussion of a subject so important to farmer and mortsman alike; in fact, to every one interested

The letter further implored Dowle to exercise a rigid economy on the part of himself and his family, saying that expenditures to this end should be based on needs rather than upon a fictitious

General Overseer Voliva then called that the letter was received by Dowle in
