Rockefeller's class has been the saddes too little religion on the part of the man with sintistics. "The reason is that there is too little religion on the part of the mem-hers and too little good-fellowship on the part of the leader. If young Rockefeller had helped slong some of the boys, he could have kept the others in line, partly out of gratitude and partly in the expec-tation of favors to come. But really, he is the chillest proposition I have ever run up against in a long journalistic ca-reer. He seems to think that we should in honored by having him as our leader. He is overbearing and concelled, and the meanest man on money matters I ever saw in my life. Why, he even makes us chip in to pay for the running expenses of the class, and gives personally the same amount that we do.

It cannot repose in security upon exalted position and the glorious beri-tage of its traditions. It is worse than folly to feel indifferent with respect to public judgment SAN FRANCISCO, April 22 --- George D. Collins, the attorney convicted of perjury, was lodged in the State Prison today, after making a desperate at-tempt to escape from the Sheriff on the ferryboat between this city and San Quentin. When the prisoners were let out of the jail, Collins was missed. A hurried search through the gloomy wildling as Bradway disclosed bin building on Broadway disclosed him hiding under a cot. separated from the Sheriffs, but the Deputies rounded them up before a landing was made. When the other shore was reached Collins was the only one not accounted for, and the boat had to be held in the slip while a hunt was begun. Sheriff O'Neil had about made up his mind that the pris-oner had jumped overboard when a cry went up, and he was dragged from his hiding place in a dark closet. As soon as Collins was taken, he was cready with an explanation, and made a speech to the other prisoners, declaring that he would be out of pris-on within 34 hours on a writ of habeas corpus. When he reached the prison no favors were shown him, for Chief Justice Beatty has suspended all fur-ther stays of execution to convicted prisoners.

It was not until the northbound train met us at Ashland that there came a chance to talk to or even seen any of the passengers fleeing from the stricken city. On this train were scores of people on their way flome. Among them was David Adler of Portland, who went to Ban Fran-cisco in search of employment, but came so near being killed that he lost no time in getting across the ferry and took the first train for home. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. James, whose home before the earthquake was at 411 Van Neas avenue, were hurrying to Portland to take refuge with friends. They lost everything, their beautiful home was burned and they were forced to flee leav-ing all their belongings behind. I was given the names of Bamuel Goldstone. A. Goldstone and Missee Anna and Mionie Bernard of Lewiston, Idaho, who escaped uninjuzed. They made their way to Golden Gate Park, where they were com-pelled to stay two days.
