Beyond the explanation of the bill by Fors of Illinois, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, and the run-ming fire of questions which his presenta-tion called forth. If the interest was shown in the early part of the debate that ensued. Toward the close of the day, however, a lively colloquy occurred among Bates of Pennsylvania, Williams of Mississippi, Clark of Missouri and Payne of New York over certain state-ments made by Bates in relation to the price of steel rails. The discussion took on a wide tariff range, a forerunner of action LONDON, May 3-Great Britain's posi-tion regarding the fining of American fish-ing vessels by Newfoundland magistrates for violation of the colonial fishing regulations is that American vessels must obey the regulations of the colony which do not conflict with their rights under the treaty of 1815. This is the answer, the price of steel rais. The discussion toos on a wide tariff range, a forerunnier of still further tariff discussion as the ses-ston nears its close. The speakers today, except Fors, Meyer of Louisiana and knowland of California, discussed no feaknowland of California, discussed no lea-lure of the bill, counting themselves free under the latitude furnished by "general debate," to discuss subjects in which they have a particular interest. It is said that general debate will run tomor-row, the bill being taken up by sections on Saturday. profit in Newfoundland waters.

Williams Begins Filibuster.

Williams (Aliss.) reserved the right to object, and said, while this investigation was exceedingly important, it was not half so important as providing schools for the children of the Indian Territory contemplated in the statehood bill. contemplated in the statehood bill. Payne (N. Y.) rose to object, but Will-iams had his say before the Republican floor leader could protest. "I don't care about the gentleman's resamps for objective.

"I don't care spout in genitation of reasons for objecting: I want to know whether he objects," said Littlefield. "And the gentleman dors not care if the, gentleman cares or not. I object," said Williams, and the resolution went over.

Struggle to Get Quorum.

Fors then moved that the House rewhole for the consideration of the naval appropriation bill. Williams called for a division and then raised the point of no quorum. The doors were ordered closed quorum. The doors were ordered closed and the Sergeanit-at-Arms was ordered to bring in the absentees. Almost an hour was consumed before a quorum was re-ported, the final vote on going into the committee of the whole being: ayes, 218;

Foas said, in explaining the provisions ross said, in explaining the provisions of the bill, that it carried $31,000,000 less than asked for by the Navy Department, and very considerably less than was ap-propriated in last year's bill.

No Increase in Personnel.

No Increase in Personnel. The Navy Department asks for 3000 ad-ditional men, but the committee, after exhaustive hearings, decided to provide for the present quota of 37,500 men, the prosperous times making it culleuit to enlist men in the Navy, as the rewards for labor are much greater in civil life. Speaking of the personnel of the Navy, he said in January last the number was 1,547. Of the 41,600 men seeking enlist-ment last year, 25,000 were rejected. He said that the department was put-ting forth every effort to increase the ef-ficiency of the Navy and "Americanizing" in Getting rid of the foreign element, as he called it, was the particular aim of the department. As a result of tus effort, 35
