

FEARS PEOPLE Great Precautions for Safety in St. Petersburg.

WHEN PARLIAMENT OPENS Best Detectives in Russia Guard Him Against Terrorists—New Era of Repression Violates the Pledges of Freedom.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 8.—Although there are few serious indications of the fact that an earnest duel is in progress between the police and the terrorists and revolutionists who are thronging to the capital, a stern effort is being made by Emperor Nicholas or other marked men among the officials gathered here for the opening of the National Parliament, preliminary measures of an extreme nature have been taken. The police have been reinforced by the keenest men from inland cities. The railways are being watched most diligently, but search of the baggage of three members of the lower branch of the Parliament was the only public indication of a campaign to quell which several terrorists were so quickly bagged that the general public was not aware of the arrests.

In order to safeguard the Emperor in his passage up the river to the city of his arrival and departure is being kept at a strict secret. The Nicholas Palace bridges, through the draws of which the imperial yacht must pass, will be closed to traffic from daylight of Thursday until the departure of the Emperor. The general public will not even be admitted to a long-range view of the river front, the presence of the Admiralty or the quays lining the river front, admission to which and to the Palace Square will be by ticket only.

The Prefect of Police, in an order issued, which is worded, in contrast with former notifications, in the most polite terms, asks the public to keep moving along in the streets, and commands that "in order to avoid encounters which might cast a shadow over the solemn day, processions and demonstrations will not be permitted."

LIBERALS AGAIN UP IN ARMS Fundamental Law and Suppression of Meetings Show Bad Faith.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 8.—The danger of an early collision between the government and Parliament has been greatly increased by what has happened within the last 24 hours. The good impression produced by the official invitation of the new Premier that the Emperor and government were sincerely desirous of working in harmony with Parliament, which was accepted in the Emperor's new collaborators in legislation.

An article in the law not mentioned in last night's dispatches, exempting crown lands from taxation and expropriation, and another reserving the power of amnesty for the Emperor, in the Emperor, run counter to the already expressed will of the majority, and are bound to produce a clash. The only commensurable new feature of the fundamental law is a provision to the effect that imperial orders must be countersigned by the President of the Council of Ministers or the member of the cabinet whose department is affected. But so long as the cabinet is not responsible to Parliament it is easy for the Emperor to dismiss an unwilling minister and replace him by one who will do his bidding.

The indignation aroused by the Emperor's attempt to build an artificial dike around the prerogative of the crown has been intensified by the action of the police last night, in dispersing a meeting of some members of the lower House of Parliament at the hall of the Emperor or new Council of the Empire, at the Hall of the Economic Society. Without any warning, the building was surrounded by the Imperial Guard Regiment and a detachment of cavalry.

Meetings Broken Up by Police. A hundred policemen marched into the hall, where Count Heyden, a Marshal of the Nobility and a member of Parliament, was presiding, and ordered the meeting to disperse, under instructions from the Chief of Police. In spite of vigorous protests that the meeting was entirely legal under the regulations covering the Society, the Police Captain, who was in charge of the police and troops was inexorable, and the members of Parliament were compelled to yield to force and left the hall, after drawing up a formal protest, which was signed by 25 members of Parliament. M. Rodicheff, a member of Parliament for St. Petersburg, hurried after midnight to the hall where the Constitutional Democrats were holding their convention and announced to them the action taken by the police. An indescribable scene of fury followed, after which Rodicheff, in a speech, which was cheered to the echo, declared that the government's appeal for confidence had again been false and that the people must resist upon themselves.

On the eve of the meeting of Parliament the Government has done all that is possible to the people by the suppression of the fundamental law and by depriving their representatives of the right to resist. The ruling bureaucracy resumed its ancient position of Parliament, the center of the people's hopes, is shown of the rights solemnly conferred upon it by the manifesto of October 17. The party of the people's representatives in the National Parliament see in this act an open and flagrant violation of the people's rights and announce that no bureaucratic government can stop the people's representatives from accomplishing their duty.

When the reading of the resolution was finished there arose a storm of cries of "too weak" but M. Rodicheff appealed to the members of the convention not to lose their heads. His appeal carried the day and the convention adopted the resolution by a standing vote.

Aroused by the outcry caused today by the closure of the meeting, the police tonight published an explanation of their action, justifying it under the strict letter of the law which permits of the presence of only members at meetings of societies. The presence of members of Parliament and other outsiders, the explanation says, made the meeting illegal. The explanation has not allayed the public irritation, as the law in this respect has not been enforced strictly.

As if these incidents were not sufficient to excite the members of Parliament, the local authorities inflamed the working classes yesterday. Without warning, they ordered many of the leaders of the workmen to leave the city. They were not even given time to remove their families. The matter was brought to the attention of a meeting of 122 peasants and workmen members of Parliament, who denounced it as an attempt on the part of the government to bring about a strike on the eve of the assembling of Parliament for the purpose of providing a struggle and under cover of the disorder to dissolve Parliament. Nevertheless, the meeting appealed to the workmen at this critical juncture to do nothing rash and to trust in Parliament in the fight for liberty against oppression.

This meeting also appointed a scandal committee to collect evidence of violations of the rights of members of Parliament, two of whom, in a petition, have been searched since their arrival in St. Petersburg, and also to investigate the conspiracy on the part of the ministers to induce members of Parliament to lodge in government buildings.

A mass meeting of "Black Hundreds" held yesterday under the presidency of M. Bubornin poured oil on the flames by exciting an oath from all present to the effect that if Parliament is found to consist of "traitors" they will offer their lives to protect the autocracy. No better evidence of the feverish haste of the government to strengthen its defense at all points before the assembling of Parliament could be given than the fact that 12 columns of the Official Messenger today are devoted to ukases and orders.

The Emperor has yielded to the demand of the Russian people of the Baltic provinces and Poland, where no elections have been held, granting two seats in Parliament to each. They will be selected from the purely Russian inhabitants. Thirteen members are also assigned to Central Asia, Samarkand, Russian Turkestan and Syr-Darya, Asiatic Russia, with the restriction that the appointees must be natives of the Ussuri, South Siberia and Trans-Baikalian provinces, and one for Yakutsk, East Siberia.

The Constitutional Democrats concluded at 4 o'clock this evening after Professor Milukoff had delivered a speech during which he congratulated the party on the victory of its enemies, who predicted a split. He believed the ideas for which it early stood were constantly growing in the country, while on the contrary the extreme revolutionaries and organizations were passing through a crisis. While the struggle might be prolonged, the Professor declared amid applause, victory was certain in the end.

Washburn, of Montana, has been invited to the Emperor's audience by Emperor Nicholas today. The czar looked pale, but healthy and serene. In the course of his conversation with the Senator he said:

MAY ASK GORKY'S EXTRADITION Russia Charges Him With Rebellion. Exposure of Cossacks Forbidden. MOSCOW, May 8.—In addition to the accusation against Maxim Gorky of engaging in a political propaganda, the Procurator charges him with participation in the December uprising here, and it is rumored that his extradition from the United States will be asked for.

The Gork has been confiscated and prohibited from publishing pictures taken by an American photographer, showing the life lived in prison by M. Spiridonov, who killed Police Chief Lichonovskiy at Tamboff. She was sentenced to be hanged, but her sentence was commuted to 20 years' imprisonment, after she had been most brutally treated by Cossack officers, one of whom was assassinated for so doing.

WAS IT STOLEN? Lawyers Argue About Perkins' Campaign Gift.

JEROME INSISTS IT WAS Question Whether It Is Crime to Take Policy-Holders' Money and Give It to Campaign Committee Disputed.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Argument was begun today upon the George W. Perkins case in the appellate division of the Supreme Court. Mr. Perkins was formerly vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Company. He was brought before the court in March on a charge brought to test the question of whether the making of political contributions by the insurance companies constituted a crime. The case now comes before the appellate division on an appeal from a ruling by Justice Greenbaum that such contributions constitute a felony.

Mr. Perkins was represented by ex-Judge William N. Conen, Lewis L. DeLoach and Howard S. Gans. In opposition to the appeal, the District Attorney Jerome and Samuel Untermyer. Judge Cohen contended that there is not sufficient legal evidence to justify the Magistrate in assuming jurisdiction in this case, and that the property taken was contributed for the benefit of the public interest. The case is set for trial on June 10.

Jerome Argues It Was Wrong. District Attorney Jerome made an argument in support of Justice Greenbaum's decision, saying: "If I bring to the attention of the courts, would you doubt that he has been prohibited by injunction from taking the property of policy-holders who are of an opposite political party? To take the property of those whose families will have to rely upon it for support, to advance the interests of a party which is the enemy of the majority of the whole fundamental conception of this community, I think is a criminal act."

Perkins Compliant to Know. As to showing the criminal intent, a great deal of discretion resides in the court. It is not the duty of the court to inquire into the moral intent of the defendant, but to determine whether the act was felonious. The act of taking the property of those who are of an opposite political party, to take the property of those whose families will have to rely upon it for support, to advance the interests of a party which is the enemy of the majority of the whole fundamental conception of this community, I think is a criminal act.

OPENS WITH ENTHUSIASM (Continued From Page 1.) should and wisely do protect capital in its investment. The vast resources of our state call for the investment of capital for its development. It is necessary that our laws should be conceived in a spirit of fairness and should hold out to capital the assurance that its just and honest claims will be safeguarded. It is certainly possible to so frame our laws that they will guard every interest of the people and at the same time by their justness and moderation invite to investment in the upbuilding of our state. In all of these matters the duty of the legislature is to be just to all parties, and a good judgment is necessary. It is a wild and reckless system of legislation to alarm the cautious investor, and to invite the speculative investor to invest in the state.
