Reactionary Tendency Develops in Stock Market.

Recovery From Depression Caused by San Francisco Fire Believed to Have Run Its Course. Setback to Coppers.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The early stock market today gave no evidence of a change from the advancing tendency of last week, but before the day was over a clearly defined reactionary tendency developed. An explanation which semed sufficient to satisfy the professional trading view was that the recovery from the depression caused by the san Francisco calamity had run its due course.

There was no atriking new development in the situation today to warrant a renewal of positive degreesion, but some consideration was given to a number of factors which were prominent at the time of the downward course in prices. The news of a large temporary loan by the Feynmylvania Company and the reports current of a high rate of interest to be paid on the loan called renewed attention to the heavy capital requirements yet to be met in the money market. Western news dispatches this morning gave large space to the extensions projected by the Great Northern Railway and mention was made also of plans by the Enion Pacific for lines into new territory. The St. Paul extension to the Pacific Const is known to be actively underway. An early issue of part of the $100,000.000 of new capital authorized by the New York Central is expected. There are also large holdings of railroad bonds already issued and still in first hands, with resulting heavy loans from the banks to carry them which are expected to come upon the market with any improvement in the investment demend.

Another incident of the day which affected peculative sentiment unpleasantly was the reduction in the dividend by the Parrott Stiver & Copper Company, a minor subsidiary company of the Amalgamated Copper Com-pany. This operated to Interrupt heavy speccompany of the Amaigamated Copper Company. This operated to Interrupt ficavy specimitive buying in the copper grout maded on the excited advance in the price of copper metal and copper mining stocks in London. The strength in this group was being used as the mainstay of the market to bold it against the selling to take profits which was going on at other points. When the copper stocks gave way the whole market yielded.

News of general conditions continue uniformly favorable today. Hates for money continued to work-caster and the London market was cheerful over the prospect of declining money rates there, the Bank of England having secured all newly arriving gold in that market.
