The new duty on flour will go into effect on Oc-tober I, and, judging from the past experience of the market, it is safe to say the Japanese will buy rather heavily in anticipation of the advanced sariff. This is pretty rtain to create a stiffer market for flor on the Coast, but as the new duty will be 18 by the middle of Summer will be low, it is sot thought that a stronger flour market will retard buying by the Orientale,

It is a question where the flour will con from, should the demand be very heavy large nor is there any great quantity of wheat available in this territory. It is problately been picking up what lots of wheat could in farmers' hands, which has had more to do with strengthening the market than the sentimental effect of the flurry in the East. The price offered for club wheat millers yesterday was 72 cents, and 74 cents was quoted on bluestem. It is likely, ver, that a good lot of club could have found a buyer at a cent better. Grain Bags Are High.

The price of grain bags has advanced to 9½ to 10 cents, and may go higher before the assaon closes. The supply on the Coart is short, and some fear is expressed that there will not be enough to go around. A considerable quantity were destroyed in the San Francisco fire. It is too late now to order more, as it requires fully 60 days time to get bags here from Calcutts, and dealers are not disposed to take the risk of ordering for such late delivery with the probability of baving to carry their sufplus high-priced stock over to a low-priced year. The European situation has much improved during the last few weeks. The Moroccan affair was settled for good, the Russian revolution is progressing on more peaceful lines, and the French Republic has demonstrated to the world its stability and its power to govern by vigorous suppression of the threatened May-Day disturbances. Germany for the present at least is not a disturbing element, for the reason that owing to her recent policy she is isolated and has lost the frendship of Russia. France and England. Under such isolation German ambittons are likely to be restrained, thus making for general peace. All of this is important to the New York stock market, inasmuch as in case of need we should be more free to borrow in Loudon or Paris than if different conditions prevailed. Problem of Fall Money Situation Is Not Yet Solved-Remittances .

NEW YORK. May 22. So profoundly apathetic was the trading in the stock market to-day that there was little room left for any but negative deductions. That the formation of speculative sentiment awaits on initiative from new events is the one safe conclusion to infer. The hesitation in forming conviction on the future of the market must, of course, be based on some uncertainties in the outcome. events.

of events.

The problem of the Fail money market continues to be most considered and the day-to-day events in Wall street at present ofter little assistance in forming an opinion. The reopening of the San Francisco banks for business is expected tomorrow, and with banking resumed there it is expected that asky light will be thrown on the extent to busitiess is expected tomorrow, and with banking resumed there it is expected that early light will be thrown on the extent to which the large coash reinforcements sent there for use in the first strain of the banks will have to be retained. There were further remittances to San Francisco through the sub-Treasury today in continuation of yesterday's considerable movement. It is assumed that these later consignments are due in part to ramittances for account of insurance companies in preparation for the payment of claims upon them for fire losses rather than for purity banking necessities. The strength of the San Francisco banks and confidence in the position is inferred from the fact that they have not availed themselves of the offer of the United States Treasury Department to place on deposit with them $15,000,000 of Government funds to strengthen their position. With their ability to meet claims of depositors promptly demonstrated, a return to Government funds to strengthen their position. With their ability to meet claims of depositors promptly demonstrated, a return to New York of some of the cash forwarded to San Francisco is expected.

The money outlook abroad seems not entirely dear either. The London and Paris markets were both lethargic today on prospects of right money, although the Bertin market was cheerful in the hope that the German Imperial Bank would reduce its of ficial discount rate tomorrow. Money brokers reported some diminufion in the suply of funds offering on time in this market and rates for the longer period were firm.

The one incident of interest in the market was the efficient rise in the high-priced coalers. Lackawanus added 10 points to its former price, and sold at 380, thus measurably reducing the requisite distance necessary to the fulfilment of the speculative prediction of 1000 for this atock, with which the movement in the group is associated in public estimation. Reports were current, however, of an intention on the part of these companies to divest themselves of ownership of coal mining properties to comply with the tensienty of recent justicial decisions and with the shaping of legislation. This would involve, it was interred, a distribution of these assets to stockholders. It was pointed out also that the rise in these stocks made an additional attraction for convertible bonds of some of the companies which are now in the market. incident of interest in the market
