the inhabitants. The San Francisco tobbers' stocks were entirely destroyed, as every one of them suffered a complete loss. The San Francisco jobber carries a bigger supply of red Alaska than any others in the country, argely owing to the requirements of his foreign business.

Facis collected by the Napa Valley Packing Company show that seven cannerles were totally wiped out by the San Francisco earthquake and fire. The output of these plants estimated in the vicinity of 1,500,000 cases, and as a consequence the output of California fruit for 1906 will be practically reduced by that quantity. In a letter to their customers, the company says:

"Of can-making plants there were three in this state previous to the fire. Of them three the United Can Company is the only one that escaped without any damage. The American Can Company have lost their largest plant, and their other plant has been put out of commission, but possibly may be repaired prior to the opening of the canning season, so that one-half of its usual capacity may be manufactured for the use of canners during the coming season. This, of course, will cause another large shortage in the output. All spot stacks have either been destroyed by fire or seized by the Government for feeding the hungry and homeless, which practically wiped out all carry-over.

"The asparague situation is a very serious one. The only plant which can manufacture square case is that of the United Can Co., and their capacity is limited. They are under contract to supply us and one other can-The balance of the asparague packers the making their pack in round fruit cana, which, of course, is not very desirable." One of the firmest articles in the staple grocery line now is rice. It is estimated that a large quantity will have to be importthat a large quantity will have to be imported to supply the deficiency in this country before the season is over.

Eastern advices note renewed interest shown In future Oregon Italian prunes, with the market hardening.

The sugar market remains, as it always has been, a puzzle. It is the general opinion that Coast prices are now in condition to follow fluctuations in the East, and there s considerable curiosity to learn if this beis correct. The New York market seems to be ripe for an advance as raw sugars abow much strength.

Package coffees are quoted 13 cents lower, ancordance with reduced transportation charges in the East.

Half-Cent Decline in Lard.

There was a decline of 14 cent yesterday in local quotations of kettle-rendered and standard lard. The usual course of the mar-ket of late has been upward, but weakness has developed recently because of an accumu lation of local stocks, and also owing to the low price of buiter, which has caused the lat ter commodity to be used more largely for

GO OF STOCKS.

Increase in Amount of Trading Done in New York Market, but # Prices Suffer.

NEW YORK, May 23.-There was a de-ded increase in the amount of huminess done at the stock axchange today, but selling orders made up a large proportion of the ex-panelon in activity and prices suffered ac-cordingly. The decline in prices seemed the result in large part, of the suppone involved to apeculative holders of stocks in a pro-longed period of dulinees and singginhness. A paralyzes of speculation leads almost invol-tably to a slow sagging tendency, owing to in the quietister periods. Speculators dread the slow shrinkage or disappearance of profits posed to be by the "tired holders" of this prospect of an early revital of speculative activity.

ctivity. News of the day was not regarded as ad-activity. News of the day was not regarded as adverse to values, and some items were favor-ably interpreted. The progress of the in-vestigation into the coal carriers was not one of these. The resumption of the inquiry today may have been responsible for a feel-ing of despondency on the part of the specu-lators. The graft disclosures reaching into the railway world are dreaded for their effect on public sentiment, just as were the life in-surance exposures, with just cause in the latter case, as was proved by the event. Pennsylvania stock itself showed some resistance to the general depression in the market in contrast with its recent persistent weakness, even while other stocks were strong. This was attributed partit to the practical confirmation of rumors current for several days of a fresh bond flotation by the com-pany is Paris, estimates of the amount reaching as high as $50,000,000. Sentiment respecting the huge borrowings of Pennsylvania was not materially altered by this new development. But the effect that resources were found in a foreign market was regarded with great satisfaction for the relief afferded to the domestic market. The home market is believed to be secured from any further early demand by this company, and the operation will serve also to fund some of the isrgest indebtedness of this market in Paris and defer the necessity for its liquida-tion.
