PRESERVATION OF GAME

H. T. Payne, of San Francisco, Tells What California Has Done.

Steps taken last night at an informal meeting of the Oregon Fish and Game Association, held in the Commercial Club rooms, which may result in a great crusade throughout the state for a betterment of game laws and a more stringent enforcement of them. The meeting was called to listen to H. T. Payne, of San Francisco, president of the California Fish and Game Protective Association, which has a membership of 20,000 scattered among 37 organizations.

About a dozen enthusiastic game protectionists were present and they were treated to an interesting address on the progress of game legislation in the southern state. "In 1905," said Mr. Payne, "it was worth a game warden's life to go into an interior locality and attempt to enforce the law. Now we have some of our strongest associations in these same towns, which but a few years ago were so opposed to legislation."

For several years Mr. Payne toured the state at the expense of the California association, making converts to the cause and organizing associations. He was very successful in the work and the great strides made in game protection in his state have been largely through his efforts.

At the close of the meeting last night a committee of three—Quimby, Cran and Taylor—was appointed to confer with Mr. Payne to see what could be done towards securing him to carry on the same kind of work in this state. Unofficially Mr. Payne said that he might be able to lend his services to the work in Oregon, and it is quite possible some arrangement may be made with him to tour this state in the interests of enlightened game legislation.

OPEN EAST TAYLOR STREET

Minority Report in Favor Substituted for Majority Against.

At the Council meeting last night, when the question of the adoption of the majority or minority report of the subcommittee relative to the opening of East Taylor street came up, Kellaher's motion to substitute the minority report for that of the majority prevailed 5 to 7 after a warm discussion.

The minority report, which was signed by Councilman Kellaher, recommended the opening of the street through the Hawthorne property, while the majority report of the subcommittee, bearing the signatures of Councilmen Annand and Willa, opposed this idea.

Mr. Kellaher was highly elated over what he considered a victory, but after adjournment the discovery was made that the minority report had merely been substituted for that of the majority, without the question of the adoption of either one coming up; leaving the matter in the same position as before.

Mr. Kellaher says he will bring it up at the next meeting and feels confident of winning out.

Files Supplemental Articles.

Supplemental articles of the Board of School Trustees of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Oregon, Elks Will Dedicate Temple.

Portland Lodge No. 142, B. P. O. E., will dedicate its new temple next Tuesday evening with fitting ceremonies, in which Elks only will participate. Prominent members will deliver addresses, and musical selections appropriate to the occasion will be rendered. The most interesting event will be the installation of new memorial tablets in place of the old. On these will be inscribed the names of deceased members.

Ascension Day at St. David's.

Ascension day services at St. David's Episcopal Church, East Twelfth and Belmont streets, will be held today as follows: Holy communion, 8 A. M.; holy communion, 10:30 A. M.; choral even song, 8 P. M.

NEEDLEWORKERS ACTIVE.

Will Make Nightgowns for Destitute Women and Children.

Women's and children's nightgowns are much needed at Oakland and San Francisco for the use of the refugees, the Oakland branch of the Needlework Guild of America having sent a request to the Portland branch of that institution for a large supply of these garments in all sizes. Mrs. James S. Reed, president of the Portland branch, called a meeting yesterday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. rooms to present the needs of the Oakland branch, and it was determined to make an appeal not only to all Portland members of the Guild but to outsiders as well. All women of Portland and vicinity are therefore asked to make new nightgowns of either muslin or flannelette and send them to Mrs. James S. Reed, 741 Hoyt street, from which place they will be expressed to the Oakland branch.

The work of the Needlework Guild is now recognized as an important factor in all lines of charity, and the fact that only new and substantial garments are handled by it makes the demand in this emergency unusually heavy. The Guild has made an enviable record for itself since the San Francisco disaster and will probably have its membership much enlarged as a result of this popularity obtained by doing much good.

Made a National Depository.

LA GRANDE, Or., May 23.—(Special.)—The cashier has received word from Washington that the La Grande National Bank has been made a depository of United States moneys. This will keep about $50,000 of United States money, which has heretofore been shipped to Portland, for deposit in this city and gives to La Grande the distinction of having the first United States depository in Eastern Oregon.

To the People of Portland

We do not belong to the Butchers' Board of Trade, nor any other combination that seeks to control the price of meat. We believe in the spirit of liberty. It has ever been our policy to give the people the very best of meats at the lowest possible price—this has ever been our policy. This will ever be our policy and this is why we are fighting the beef trust. We are the only meat dealers in Portland who have defied the beef trust. Yours truly,
