Tariff Speeches for Campaign Made in House.

LANDIS A STANDPATTER

Befends Watch Trust, Advises Cockran to Sell Out, Dilates on Coxey Army and Draws Out Williams' Eloquence.

WASHINGTON, May 23.-The issues destined to be uppermost between the two great parties during the coming campaign are already being joined, if the speeches now being made in the House of Repre-sentatives are a safe index. Several weeks ago Rainey of Illinois made a carefully prepared speech on the watch trust, ashe United States had one price for ratches at home and a lower price abroad, oday in the House, Charles B. Landis, f Indiana, in a sense answered Rainey. frankly admitting that American manu-facturers had one price at home and an-other abroad, and defended the practice as in accord with good business methods, elsting that all countries sold their ares for lower prices abroad than at Tells Cockran to Sell Out.

Landis also paid some attention to a speech made by Bourke Cockran, wherein the latter denounced the policy of pro-tection as one of public plunder, the fountain source of all corruption and the cause of total demoralization of the American Republic. This Landis denied. He said that every poor but ambitious emigrant who landed here during the last ten years who isneed here curing the list ten years would refute the allegation. Referring to Cockran's speech, be said:

"This is the best country on earth and in the worst country on earth And if I thought about it as the gentleman from York, I would resign my seat this. House, sell out my belongings and move to some other country nearer in harmony with my political notions."

Pictures of Coxey's Army. Landis displayed a number of picture of Coxey's army and commented on its appearance in Washington and the demand of its members for work.

mand of its members for work.

'That was the condition during the last years of Democratic rule,' said he.

In reply to this, Williams, the Democratic lehder, stafed that he had walked through Coxey's army while it was encamped on the grassa in front of the Senate entrance to the Capitol, and at that time the Wilson-Gorman bill was under discussion in the Senate. He insisted that the Government was still operating unthe Government was still operating un-der the McKinley bill at that time and that revenues were being collected under that Resublican measure,

Williams said he was encouraged in the fight the Democrats were making in faor of tariff reform because of the num-er of Republican leaders who were wish ing for relief from the protective tariff. He said the sledge-hammer debater, Hep-burn of Iowa, the chaste and brilliant Boutelle, and even the humorist of the Republican side, Cushman of Washinghad been all commandeered to sur port the protective theory, and he in-ferred from this that the attacks were having effect. It was Williams' solid belief that the worst thing about the protective tariff was that it corrupts the friends of good government. He said the Republicans would come into the Democratic party and may to the friends of free trade, "we will protect you against frost, we will pro-tect you against hall," and so the Demo-crats yielded and even be had been directly approached along similar lines, but he had been thus far able to say, thee behind me, Satan."

Deny They Burned Corn.

Landis took up the assertion of Williams that corn was so low in 1890 and 1891 that the farmers were compelled to burn it for fuel. He said he came from a corn belt in Indiana and he denied that farmers were compelled to burn their corn because it was a drug on the market. Williams insisted that he was right in his granuser.

This brought Hinshaw of Nebraska into the arena to say that, while he did not know what Kansas did in 1890, he knew as a Nebraskan that corn was not burned in his state.

Reeder of Kansas followed to repudi-ate the statement that the farmers of the Sunflower State had burned their corn. When Landis concluded, the Republican side rose and accorded him an ovation.

WILLIAMS THUNDERS PROTEST

Speaker Ignores Demand for Vote and Leaves Him Talking.

WASHINGTON, May II. - When the House met today an unusual scene oc-curred. Williams, the minority leader, denantied the ayes and noes on a motion of Adams (Pa.) to go into committee of the whole for the further consideration of the diplomatic and Consular bill. This was refused, the Speaker holding that one-fifth of the members present had not risen to demand the ayes and noes.
"I demand that the other side be taken," called out Williams.

The speaker refused to take the negative on a rising vote, stating that but a short time before it had been demon-strated that a quorum was present, 195.

Then Williams thundered out a protest against the Speaker's ruling.

An attempt to secure order was in vain, and, leaving Williams standing, the Speaker left the desk, and Curtis (Kan.) took his place, as chairman of the com mittee of the whole, and in a general de-bate the bill was discussed.

Question About Oil Monopoly Considered at White House.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—An impor-tant conference was held at the White House late this afternoon, participated in by the President, Attorney-General Moody and James R. Garfield, Commissioner of Corporations. It is understood that, in connection with some features of the recent report on the oil indus-try by Mr. Garfield, the question considered was whether a legal remedy is to be applied or whether the rate bill now pending, when finally passed, will not furnish a remedy for some of the mat-ters complained of. Purpose of Immigration Bill Passed by Senate.

HEAD TAX IS INCREASED

Bureau of Information to Tell Immigrants Where to Go-Newcomers Must Have Money and Education.

WASHINGTON, May 23 .- In addition to passing a half-dozen bills to which no ob-jection was made, the Senate devoted its entire session today to the immigration bill, which was passed just before the hour of adjournment. The major portion of the discussion was devoted to the prodision for supplying information concern ing the different sections of the country to newly arrived immigrants.

The bill consists of a series of amendments to the existing law, all of them intended to permit stricter regulations for keeping out the defective classes of aliens. The head tax is increased from $2 to $5. Information for Immigrants.

When the Senate resumed consideration of the bill, the committee amendment au-thorizing the creation of a bureau of in-formation for the benefit of immigrants was taken up.

Gaillinger moved to strike out all of the amendment except that portion permitting the various states to be represented by gents at the immigrant stations, and McCreary opposed the motion, Nelson advocated the retention of the ommittee amendment as calculated to prevent the huddling together of immi-grants in the large Western cities. After further debate, Gallinger's amend-tent was modified and adopted. As agreed to, it authorizes the creaion of a division of information, limits the expense to $30 000, and authorizes states, territories and corporations interested in immigration to corporations interested in immigration to maintain agencies at the immigrant sta-tions.

Education and Cash Required.

An amendment requiring an educational est for immigrants and also requiring that no immigrant carrying less than $35 should be admitted was presented by Sim-mons, who spoke in support of it. Lodge offered a substitute confining the test to an educational requirement and providing that no alien more than 15 years of age who cannot read in some language shall be admitted except members of the fam-ilies of male adults now residing in the Inited States. Simmons accepted the substitute and it was adopted. The bill was then passed without di-

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—According to the report of the statistician of the Southern Pacific, that company up to and including May 15 tast had handled free into this city 1835 cars of supplies for the relief of the fire sufferers. The entire country responded to the appeals for help. California rose mightily to the occasion California rose mightily to the occasion. Sixty-seven cities and towns of the Golden State gave a carload or more of provisions to the Southern Pacific to transport to San Francisco within ten days after the disaster. Hardly less enviable is Oregon's record. Down over the Shasta route 22 Oregon cities sent a carload or more of supplies to San Francisco before the end of April the end of April.

the end of April.

Of the Eastern states sending generous contributions in carload lots, the Nebraska towns along the lines of the Harriman system, availing themselves of the offer of free transportation, secured for Ne-braska the first place among Eastern states in the number of cities contribut-ing a carload or more. Up to the end of April 23 cities and towns in Nebraska had collected and forwarded a carload each.

The largest single item carried was flour, of which over 6000 tons were brought to San Francisco between April 19 and May 10. In the three weeks succeeding May 10. In the three weeks succeeding the fire the potatoes delivered aggregated 127 cars, or 15 pounds for every inhabitant of the city. Canned goods amounted to about ten pounds each. The provisions and supplies that had no other designation totaled over 14,000 tons before May 19, or 69 pounds for every resident of the city.

SAVINGS BANKS ARE ALL OPEN

the Eager People. FRANCISCO, May 23.-At 10 SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—At 10 o'clock this morning practically svery bank in this city that has been able to secure temporary quarters threw open its doors to the public. An unique feature connected with this general resumption of business after the suspension caused by the recent great calamity was the fact that never in the history of San Francisco was there so much bank money on hand. For the past week money has been pouring into the various financial institutions from all parts of the world.

Superintendent Leach, of the United States Mint, has received many large transfers from Eastern and European centers, and still the money is coming. What the total is to date is not known, but some time ago it exceeded $20,000,000.

The last transfers consisted for the greater part of large sums for the savings banks. When their doors opened this morning, they by no means had to depend upon the money received from outside sources. Great savings institutions like the Hibernia, the Humboldt and the Mutual had millions in coin and valuable securities in their vaulta, which were undaturhed by the fire.

The first named of these banks had

In its list of depositors are included a great number of the working classes. Most of these people lost their all in the recent great fire, and at an early hour they began to line up before the bank's doors. By 5 o'clock the lines were over a block long, and the police were summoned to maintain order and be prepared for any possible emergency. Their duties, however, consisted of little more than keeping the patient men and women in line. There was no disorder and not an anxious face in the long line. Features were stamped with expectancy rather than worry, for in the long line. Features were stamped with expectancy rather than worry, for confidence in the banks' ability to pay in full was questioned by no one. Resignation of Taylor as Assistant Secretary Makes a Place for Edwards, Whom Ankeny's Secretary Succeeds.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Wash ington, May 23 .- Arthur F. Statter, of Walla Walla, private secretary to Secretary Ankeny, was today appointed private secretary to Secretary of the Treasury Shaw and will enter upon his duties about June 1. Mr. Statter has been a personal friend of the Secretary for many years, having campaigned with him in Iowa years ago, and it was because of this friendship and because of the admiration which the Secretary had for Mr. Statter that he gave him this important office.

Mr. Statter received his education in the public schools of Sloux City, and later public schools of Sloux City, and later at Cornell College, the same institution from which the Secretary of the Trees-ury graduated. He is well fitted for his position, having had ten years' experies as a newspaper man at Sloux City and Walla Walla, where he was editor of the Walla Walla Union until 1903. Since that time he has served as private se tary to Mr. Ankeny and as cierk of senate committee on irrigation. Is Disease a Crime?

Not very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must appeal to every reasonable individual as radically wrong.

It would be harsh, insympathetic, cruel, yes criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, over-worked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens, and suffers from weaknesses, various displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its ex-organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its exacting demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weaknesses, derangements and debility which are aggravated by the many household carea, and the hard, and never-ending work which the mother is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce, the maker of that world-famed remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ills—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—says that one of the greatest obtacles to the cure of this class of maladies is the fact that the poor, over-worked housewife can not get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Prescription" its full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which his treatment falls by reason of the patient's inability to abstain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, antewerston and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the womanit organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription" they abstain from being very much, or for long periods, on their feet. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important. Let the patient observe these rules and the "Favorite Prescription" will do the rest.
