

RATES NOT EQUAL

Commission Takes Up Complaint of Walla Walla.

DATE FOR HEARING SET

Railroads Accused of Discrimination Against Walla Walla in Favor of Spokane and Cities on Puget Sound.

OLYMPIA, Wash., May 29.—(Special.)—Complaints have been received on the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern, the O. R. & N. and the Washington & Columbia River railway companies, as defendants in the case in which the Railroad Commission is plaintiff, set for hearing at Walla Walla Tuesday, June 26, to pass upon the demand made by the business men of Walla Walla for a jobbing rate.

The O. R. & N. Co. has in force a freight tariff from Walla Walla to points on its own line within the state, and the commission charges that these rates are excessive and in many instances double the charges made for the same route in other parts of the state on their lines for like distances and for points similarly situated, and that the railroads are therefore "unjustly discriminating against the shippers in the locality of Walla Walla, to their great detriment and damage."

The probable intent of the commission to relieve the situation by the lowering of distance tariff rates is indicated by the substance of the complaint, which deals with this phase of the situation at length. It is alleged that the railroads have established what is known as class and commodity rates on freight consigned from Seattle, Tacoma, Everett, Snohomish, Bellingham and Spokane, and that all other shipments in less than carload lots—excepting the special rate for lumber—referred to from Walla Walla—are governed and controlled by the distance tariff enforced by the different railroads.

This distance tariff, it is alleged, fixes rates that are greatly in excess of the commodity rates, and in many instances double the amount of the commodity tariffs for like distances and for points similarly situated, particularly in relation to rates in Eastern Washington; that, therefore, an unjust discrimination exists, the railroads unjustly discriminating in favor of certain localities as against other localities, "in this, that freight originating in Spokane and destined to other points in Eastern Washington can be and is carried for approximately one-half the rate that similar freight originating at other points of like distance can be and is carried under similar conditions."

The commission, it is alleged, then charges "that said distance tariffs, as charged by said defendant railroads, are unjust and unfair and greatly in excess of what would be fair, just and reasonable rates, and the same are unjustly discriminatory against localities other than those which would be benefited by such rates, and the same should be nullified and changed, and a fair, just and reasonable rate or rates substituted therefor."

What is known as the Eureka Junction grain rate is fairly just and reasonable, it is alleged, that wheat shipments originating at Summit, 40 miles beyond Eureka Junction, pay 15¢ cents to Puget Sound, and that wheat shipments originating at Pleasant View, only 20 miles from Eureka Junction, must pay 15¢ cents to Puget Sound, shipments in both instances being carried through Eureka Junction. This, it is charged, is in violation of the law.

In addition to the foregoing, it is believed the complaint about the condition of the Puget Sound coast, and the one from the Colfax hearing to that at Walla Walla a week later.

WHO STIRS BLACK HUNDRED

Douma Addresses Question to Cabinet. Neglect of Famine Sufferers.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 29.—The spirit of the lower chamber of the Russian Duma today. At the opening of the session a communication from Premier Goremykin was read regarding the death sentence imposed on the Russian anarchist Riga on eight workmen accused of political murder and robbery had been transmitted to War Minister Rudiger.

M. Nabokoff, a member of the Constitutional Democrats, presented an interpellation demanding to know who was responsible for the provocative black hundred telegram sent to the Russian Duma since the assembling of Parliament. The interpellation asks specifically whether they were printed with Premier Goremykin's permission, and if so what was the purpose of its publication.

Michael Stakovich, a Marshal of the Nobility of Orel, and Count Heydon, a Marshal of the Nobility from St. Petersburg, while supporting the interpellation, objected to the statement that such publications were shaking the authority of the Emperor, to whom they were addressed, and upon their request the words referred to were withdrawn and the interpellation was unanimously adopted.

A long discussion of the famine existing in several districts followed, during which the government was most severely denounced for its refusal to help the peasants who had participated in agrarian wars.

M. Losoff, a peasant member from Tambour, in a heated speech, declared that Russia is being punished for the sins of the people. He recalled that in the days of old there were elements in Jerusalem, in the time of Christ who did not desire peace, and that similarly the Russian government refused to heal the wounds of the country and compelled the people to suffer famine. Other speakers charged the government with being responsible for all the agrarian disorders. Several of the orators were so vehement that the president called them to order.

The debate ultimately was interrupted by the news of the sudden death of M. Averlanoff, a member from Simbirsk, whereupon the House adjourned.

Proclamation of Reds Tells People to Kill Off Officials.

SEVASTOPOL, May 29.—(Special.)—The recent bomb outrages here have been the result of well-printed proclamations exhorting the people to prepare for a coup d'etat.

"Reliable bombs," it is stated in these notices, "which a year ago cost five rubles (42.50) now now be made for 30 kopecks (30c), thanks to the universally diffused knowledge of the construction of the popular arm.

no law, any more than a general measure of food inspection. Under that I will provide inspection for meat killed within this state. But the independent butcher cannot compete with the packers. If he could save the expense of a plant and kill his cattle in a municipal abattoir, he could then compete with the beef interests and the municipality would have supervision of the inspection."

Dr. Cutler said he had frequently found meat bearing the Government stamp that was purple and black, and some showing blood-clotted veins. He said that was evidence that the animal was in fever when killed, and the meat should not be sold.

WILL SEND REPORT THURSDAY

Neill and Reynolds Await More Facts From Chicago.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The report of Messrs. Neill and Reynolds, special commissioners of the President, regarding their investigation into the sanitary and other conditions existing at the several packing plants, probably will not be submitted before Thursday. To supplement the report, the investigation is still going on, based on certain charges which it is the President's desire to have either confirmed or denied.

When this information reaches Messrs. Neill and Reynolds it is expected that they will introduce a bill to amend the meat inspection act, whereby the expenses of the inspection shall be borne by the Government. Mr. Garner said tonight he had been informed that the bill would not support this modification.

Representative Garner, of Texas, and other members of the Texas delegation in Congress today received a dispatch from John T. Lytel, secretary of the Texas Cattle-Raisers' Association, recommending a modification of the meat inspection amendment, whereby the expenses of the inspection shall be borne by the Government.

Mr. Garner said tonight he had been informed that the bill would not support this modification.

SULZER WANTS MEAT REPORT

Moves in House for Publication of What Inquirers Found.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Representative Sulzer, of New York, today introduced a resolution calling upon the President, "if not incompatible with the public interest, to send to the House at his earliest convenience the reports of Charles P. Neill and James Reynolds" in connection with their investigation of "the meat trust, the stockyards and the meat packing-houses of Chicago and other places, and all data, exhibits and correspondence in any way relating to the same."

It is understood Representative Phelan, of a congressional committee, will introduce a resolution at the suggestion of Minority Leader Williams.

Say Charges Are Untrue.

CHICAGO, May 29.—(Special.)—Packers deny as false and ridiculous the charges which would be fair, just and reasonable rates, and the same are unjustly discriminatory against localities other than those which would be benefited by such rates, and the same should be nullified and changed, and a fair, just and reasonable rate or rates substituted therefor."

"We have never concealed anything about our operations," declared R. C. McMillan, president of the National Live Stock Association, "and, on the contrary, the packers keep open house all the time and their work is under the actual inspection of the public. The Chicago packing industry is not in any way dishonest, and if any of the charges made were true, no one should be more glad to welcome the inspection and cooperation in procuring sanitary conditions."

"The packers are agreed that if the Government will appoint a sanitary engineer who will devise a system to more effectively procure sanitation, they will gladly act upon his recommendations, even to building an expensive system of sewers. The charges, in the main, are preposterous and untrue."

British Public Is Excited.

LONDON, May 29.—The revelations regarding the Russian industry in the United States have created a tremendous sensation here. Questions will be raised in the House of Commons today with a view to ascertaining the extent of the Government's power to protect the British public. The London newspapers this morning praise President Roosevelt for his courage in probing the matter.

Inquiries at Liverpool in the American Provision Exchange yesterday elicited the view that the local supervision was too keen to permit of bad goods reaching British importers.

Mrs. Davis Must Stand Trial.

Nelle Davis, the woman held by the police as a diamond thief, was arraigned before Judge Cameron yesterday morning on a charge of larceny from a residence. She pleaded not guilty, and was held to the Circuit Court. After her advent in court the woman was asked to pose for her photograph for the 'rogues' gallery collection. She refused to do this, and a photographer had to be brought to the jail and considerable difficulty was experienced before the picture was secured.

Mrs. Jefferson Gets the Money.

BOSTON, May 29. In the Supreme Court today Justice Henry N. Sheldon handed down a decision upon the will of Joseph Jefferson, the actor, in which the disposition of a fund of about $250,000, realized from the sale of his pictures, was involved. Under the decision his widow, Mrs. Sarah Jefferson, will receive the bulk of the proceeds.

Only Fines for Ohio Bridge Trust.

NORWALK, O., May 29.—A jury in the Federal Court yesterday rendered a verdict of guilty against seven bridge companies for restraint of trade. The seven bridge agencies, indicted for conspiracy against trade, were fined $500 and costs each, and five agents $250 and costs each.

FRAUD ON MUTUAL

Grand Jury Discovers Fake Bills for Printing.

INDICTMENTS TO FOLLOW

Punishment Awaits Former Officials Who Winked at Stealing of $1,000,000—Economy Made by New Management.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Tribune tomorrow will say: The grand jury, in its investigation of the Mutual Life Insurance Company's affairs, obtained evidence yesterday that many thousands of dollars were taken annually for 29 years from the treasury of the company by means of fake bills, purporting to be for printing and supplies for the company furnished through the firm of George McKibben & Son, bookbinders of No. 35 Park street. Part of the evidence was furnished by George McKibben, head of the firm, who was a witness in the afternoon.

It was said that the Criminal Court building yesterday that the unearthing of such proofs of fraud probably would result in indictments against former officials of the Mutual who had guilty knowledge of the frauds. The entire amount of money taken from the Mutual treasury in such fashion, it is believed, amounted to more than $1,000,000.

An official of the Mutual said yesterday that since the change of administration a saving of $100,000 a year in the expenses of the company's office building on Nassau street had been provided for by ordinary methods of economy. A saving of $10,000 a year in the cost of fuel burned in the building's steam plant was obtained merely by changing the size of the coal.

FIGHTS FOR ITS BUSINESS

New York Life Sends Man to London for Purpose.

LONDON, May 29.—The arrival in London of Emery McClintock, vice-president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, has renewed the interest in the fight for the business of the Mutual Life. He is spending his time with the agents of the company, going over their books.

Mr. McClintock says he probably will secure an opportunity to give evidence before the House of Lords committee on insurance. He considers it would be absurd to ask the Mutual Life to put up $5,000,000 reserve in England and cannot see how Great Britain could require American companies to keep reserves in Great Britain and refuse a similar requirement in the case of Canadian companies.

The report published in London and cabled to New York that the Duchess of Marlborough had transferred her policy to the North British & Mercantile Insurance Company is untrue, and it is also not true that the policies of Lord Wharcliffe and those held by W. N. Rutherford, M. P., for friends have been transferred.

HOLD BIENNIAL CONVENTION

Delegates From Women's Clubs Leave for St. Paul.

Mrs. W. Wynn Johnson, the newly-elected president of the Women's Club, left Portland last night en route to St. Paul, Minn., where she will attend the biennial convention of the National Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Johnson will not represent the Women's Club individually as she has not yet been installed in office as president, but goes as the delegate of the Portland City Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. A. H. Broyman, the outgoing president, will represent the Women's Club and has already gone East, accompanied by Mrs. J. D. Hays.

Other delegates to the biennial convention from Oregon are Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Anderson, of Roseburg, and Mrs. Sengstacker, of Marshfield.

Following the adjournment of the biennial convention at St. Paul, Mrs. Hays expects to attend the convention of the Knights of Columbus at New Haven, Conn., where she will be accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, of Ashland. The other members of the Oregon party will return in about ten days, but those delegates will of necessity make a more extended visit East.

AT THE THEATERS

What the Press Agents Say.

BAKER COMPANY VOICES. Extraordinary Collection at the Baker Theater.

The voices of the Baker company would attract the attention of anybody of discrimination. Never in Portland has there been a more meritorious set of voices for stage enunciation in the drama than is presented by the members of the Baker company. Riggs Baume is famous all over the country for his voice. It is a clear, ringing, earnest voice that reaches down into your soul. William Harris has a resonant, clear, and strong voice that could be distinguished among a thousand others. Donald Bowles has an ideal voice for sentiment and delicate intonation of subtle moods, and his face and manner are upper and lower registers makes him a positively unique actor. The people will laugh even before Howard Russell begins to speak. No higher compliment could be paid to the effect of his voice. The dry humor of Billy Dilla's voice never fails to start applause in the audience, and those who have known him longest like him best. That is the truest test of an actor—the test of time. The list could be extended until each member of the company were mentioned. They all have good chances in "Hands Across the Sea" this week.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Orpheum Vaudeville at the Grand.

There is no mistake about the Grand show this week being first class. It is a typical Orpheum vaudeville, and the specialties are excellent. The Broadway Trio are singers and dancers who give an imitation baseball game, which is a distinct novelty. The two girls and the man in the trio are expert dancers. The Clemence Brothers are eccentric musical comedians and acrobats. The act is a big hit and the audience enjoys them repeatedly. Their musical dinner is something new. For this week the feature act that gives the best entertainment of the evening is an amusing woman who has a bullseye, chop wood, playing musical instruments and does other things with his feet. The three Ketchum Sisters are dancers and singers and Tom Ripley is a blackface comedian, with songs and stories.

PATRICK CASE A SCANDAL

Attempt of Legislature to Grant Rice's Murderer Another Appeal. Blocked by Governor With Vigorous Message.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 29.—"Little less than scandalous" is the phrase used by Governor Higgins in a veto memorandum issued tonight regarding the law's delays in the case of Albert T. Patrick, convicted of the murder of William M. Rice in New York City in 1903.

The Governor's veto is of two bills introduced by Assemblyman Wade, of Chautauque, to amend the code of criminal procedure so as to permit an appeal from an order denying a motion for a new trial in a criminal case on the ground of newly discovered evidence. The bills, which were introduced in the Senate also by Senator Smith, were generally understood to have reference to the Patrick case, and the Governor so describes them in his memorandum. The Governor says:

Prolog Law's Delays. Waiving the objection to the bills that, though general in form, they are special in their application and are intended to grant a right of appeal to Albert T. Patrick to obtain a review of an order, if such order be made, denying his pending motion for a new trial on newly-discovered evidence, I disapprove them for the reason that they interfere with the law and tend to indefinitely the termination of a capital case.

Patrick Case Scandalous. Rice, of whose murder Patrick is convicted, died on September 23, 1900, nearly six years ago. The law's delays in this case are so little less than scandalous in case of extreme hardship, where the Judge before whom the motion for a new trial is made denies the defendant's motion without giving proper consideration to such evidence, the constitution provides a practical remedy. An amendment to the code of criminal procedure might, however, well be made, which would permit defendant's application for a new trial in a capital case to the Justices of the Supreme Court within the judicial department where the conviction was had, so that the defendant may not be required in any case to present his motion to the Judge presiding at the trial.

Recorder Goff, before whom Patrick was originally tried, has now under consideration such a motion for a new trial for Patrick, and the Governor has reviewed the condemned lawyer for a third time until June 15 on this account.
