the Shaniko sales, which will be held on June 5 and 6. Between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 pounds will be offered there and as the Shariko wools are classed as the choicest prices of the season will be bid there. Last year the Shaniko wools brought 22 and 23 cents. Local dealers believe that the price this year will be about 21 cents. The tone of the Eastern Oregon market apparently is easier than it was at the opening of the season, as the prices paid a gradual decline from those of the first Pendieton sale. A good many clips days at prices under those first quoted. Trading is also more active in the Ellensburg and fakima districts in Washington where cross breds are bringing 17 to 18 cents. A little bought at 23 to 24 cents.

Frank Green, representing J. Koehland & Co., of Boston and San Francisco, who came down from Eastern Oregon yesterday, states that the market is decidedly weaker than is was and that growers are ready sellers now at the prices offered, having come to the con-

The general opinion held by Boston merchants is that prices on this market, having reached their limit, cannot go up any higher. Consequently, 74 to 75 cents cannot be paid for wool in the West that would bring only 70 cents here. Following this the majority of the leading dealers are, according to their own statements, doing no buying in the ter-riforties at growers' exception trates. Further-more, they claim that they will not buy any wool until they can "buy it right." By the fatter expression is meant the purchasing of wool at prices that would allow a reasonable

The Salem Statesman says of conditions in Marion County:

Marion County:

The prespects for an immense bop crop continue excellent in all the country around Salem; in fact, it was never better. A prominent grower who has large yards in the north-eastern part of the country told a Statesman representative yeaterday that Oregon would harvest the heaviest crop of hops this year that was ever known in its history. Of course, that prognostication is based upon present appearances, which surely warrant that hope. The good appearance is not confined to spots the year; it is universal in all the yards that are receiving ordinary care.

LOCAL BERRIES PLENTIFUL.

cerries ceased yesterday, only four crates Shipments from that point to the East have been resumed by way of Portland and Tacoma. There were plenty of local berries on hand, however, though most of them were old on the public market or direct to retallers. A few boxes of Burbank plums, the fornia, and sold for $2.50. Apricots were more plentiful and dropped to $2. The last car of navel oranges of the session arrived. Rips bananas were in small supply. Cherries were abundant and cheaper at $161.25.

There was a large supply of peas and beam on the street, but the demand was good and prices held steady.

DAY'S NEWS ALL BEARISH

Good Growing Weather Throughout the United States - Argentine Shipments Exceed Estimates. India's Immense Crop.

CHICAGO, June 1.-The wheat market opened weak and with the exception of a few slight rallies the tendency of prices was downward throughout the day. The chief factor in the situation was the gener-ally clear weather throughout the wheat-growing sections of the United States. Dur-Foreign news was favorable to the bears, the shipments from Argentina being in excess of the previous estimates and an official report placing the total yield in India at $21,856,000 bushels compared with $25,752,000 last year. The report of a St. Louis trade journal that the wheat crop in general had been benefited by recent rains, brought out fresh selling orders during the latter part of the day. The market closed weak. July opened $40 to 50 to and closed 1 to fi a $800,000 to fi to $00 to and closed 1 to fi a $800,000 to fi to $00 to and closed 1 to fi a $800,000 to fi to $00 to and closed 1 to fi to an are the corn market was strong, nearly all day, and the

The strength of corn steaded the oats market, and offset the bearish influence of the decline in wheat and the favorable weather for the growing crop. Pit traders sold freely early in the day, but later they became moderate buyers. Trading in the Stock Market Is Extremely Dull.

DRIFT IS VERY NARROW

Recovery in Prices in Last Half of Day on Publication of Preliminary Estimates of Week's Currency Movement.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The market for stocks today was hardly more than nominal, the amount of trading falling to the year's low record. The movement of prices equally low record. The movement of prices equally fafted of eignificance. The drift was exceedingly narrow. During the first half of the day the balance rather inclined towards the side of depression and in the latter half there was some recovery. More and more indifference was shown to the movements of appecial stocks, those picked for professional operations being easily recognized as favorite to the movement of the country of mediums for market operations by conspic-fous speculative leaders.

The prominent instances today were Louis-ville & Nashville and Colorato Fuel. The nominal motive for the buying in the first case was the unauthenticated rumors of an intended increase in the dividend rate at an early period. In the other stock, the buying was alleged to be for account of J. P. Morgan & Co., and the purpose to be the securing of control of the property for trainfer to the United States Steel Corporation. These assertions have figured in many previous movements of the stocks named, and nothing occurred to give added credit to them. excess of $5,607,000 of disbursements over receipts. This does not include the $1,500,-000 to be deposited with the National City Bunk against gold to be imported, which was announced yesterday and which will fig-

Bank against gold to be imported, which was announced yesterday and which will figure for one day in the bank statement averages. It does include, however, the transfers by telegraph from San Francisco, with the exception of the amount transferred today, which amounted to $500,000. The express movement with the interior has been in favor of New York to an amount variously cettinated at $900,000 to $2,000,000. The banks appear to have gained for the week, therefore, to the extent of between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000. The loan item is subject to unusually heavy operations. No one attempts to forecast the net effect on the week's averages, but a considerable expansion of loans is generally expected.

The abrogation of the privilege of receiving Government deposits on notice of an intention to import gold lowers the price at which exchange must be bought against the gold engagement in order to yield a profit on the operations. The price of exchange to-day showed no tendency to adjust itself towards uncovering the new margin of profit and consequently there was no further gold movement talked of. Rates are still must the profitable level of imports however, an easier tone of London discounts having marked the turn of the month.

The resumption of the coal roads inquity by the interstaiq Commerce Commission had some repressive effect on trasing. The late rise was not fully held, and the market closed irregular and extremely dult.

Honds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,940,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.
