Multnomah County gave the Republican ticket a sweeping victory yester day. Democrats concentrated their efforts on United States Senator, Governor and Sheriff, but they made no impression on the solid pluralities returned for the Republican candidates except on Governor and Sheriff. With some of the country precincts missing the incomplete returns indicate that Bourne, Chamber lain and Word have carried the county

The vote cast yesterday was light. The total registration was 23,366 votes, while the total vote cast in the county was about 18,000. Women workers at the polls added a picturesque element to the ordinary election scenes, and the woman's suffrage issue was one of the most inter esting in the campaign. At 1 A. BAKER CITY, Or., June 4.—(Special.)
—Although returns from but one or two of the small outlying precincts have been received, and the count is now in progress in every precinct in the city, the indications are that Governor Chamberlain will carry Baker County by a much smaller majority over Withycombe than was anticipated. It is believed tonight that his majority will not exceed 200 against his 581 four years ago. The race of the United States Senator is neck and neck between Bourne and Gearin, but the strongest precincts for Bourne have not been heard from as yet.

Graham is running ahead of his ticket for Congressman against Ellis, and will have a good majority in the city and probably the county. Benson will have a big majority for Secretary of State. It is believed now that woman's suffrage has met defeat in this county,

State. It is believed now that woman's suffrage has met defeat in this county, although a strong fight was made for it. The amendment to the local-option law is believed to have carried. Indications are that Hart has a large majority for Joint Senator from Baker, Harney and Malheur Counties, over his Democratic opponent, Saxton. The race for Representative between Moore (Rep.), and Beck (Dem.), is very close. It is believed that the entire Republican county ticket is elected.

Clackamas County.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 4 .- (Special.) Bourne has a safe lead over Gearin, while Galloway leads Hawley in the Ore-gon City precincts so far as counted. Chamberlain's stight lead in the town will be reduced and a plurality gained for Withycombe when returns are received from country precincts. Benson and other candidates on the Republican state ticket have big leads. On the county ticket, Huntley and Jones, Republicans, are elected Representatives, with Dye, Rep., having a good lead over Eby. Dem., for third place. The election of Dye is reasonably certain. For State Senator the race between Brownell, Rep., and Hedges, Dem. in clear indirectors. race between Brownell, Rep., and Hedges, Dem., is close, indications pointing to the probable election of Hedges by a small plurality. Latourette, Dem., is elected Clerk over Greenman, Rep., present incumbent. The vote on Sheriff is close, with the election of Beatie, Dem., probable, over Maddock, the former haven and together the beautiful and the probable. probable, over Maddock, the former nav-ing a lead tonight. A big negative vote was cast against the woman's suffrage amendment, with the result close on the local option measure. All other proposed constitutional amendments and proposed laws, including referendum on the appro-priation bill, are receiving a strong affirmative vote.

Congress Will Return It to Conference.

OBJECTS TO NEW PROVISIONS

Rules Violated in Injection of New Matter.

FIGHT ON PASS AMENDMENT

Railroad Employes Object to Losing Their Privilege of Riding Free. Battle on Statehood Is Coming Again.

WASHINGTON, June 4 .- It is expected hat the conference report on the rail road rate bill will be sent back to con erence as a result of the injection of new matter in the bill. Efforts to induce the Senate conferees to ask for the recom mitment of the bill have been unavailing, however. They met with the House conferees today and considered the criti cisms. Leaders of both bodies decided to 'stand pat" and not to reconsider the report unless it is sent back on points of

It is conceded that there are four changes in the bill to which points of order might be sustained. The first is the incorporation of the words "transportation or facilities" in the provision requiring every common carrier to file with the Commission copies of all contracts with other common carriers in relation to any traffic, "transportation or facilifies" effected by this act.

In section 4 the words "or transporta tion" were added to the provision author izing the Commission to pass on the reasonableness and justice of "any regulations or practices whatsoever of such carrier or carriers affecting such rates." Another amendment of the same character was made to this section. The fourth amendment subject to a point of order is that declaring that the act shall take effect 60 days after its passage, The conferees have held that the provisions in relation to lateral or branch lines, fixing the salarles of the secretary and assistant secretary of the Commisper of others to which objections have been raised are not subject to points of order for the reason that, while they are new matter, they were inserted in amendments under dispute and are germane to such amendments.

The pass amendment was considered and the indications are that it will be amended except railroad employes and their families, if the bill is sent back to conference. A campaign has already be gun to defeat the anti-pass amendment, Foraker Will Lead Opposition to Union of Territories.

WASHINGTON, June 4 .- When the conference report on the statehood bill is called up for action in the Senate, a repre sentative of the opponents of the union of Arizona and New Mexico-probably Senator Foraker-will make a point of order against the compromise provision on the ground that it is new legislation. The fact that the new proposition is in the language of the Foraker resolution of the previous Congress, they contend, will not relieve it of this charge, and they will make an effort to have the report rejected on the ground that the conferees had no right to initiate legislation The anti-statehood Senators confess to having lost a few votes on the real question, but they hope to gain others on the parliamentary point. The friends of the bill still claim to have 41 votes assured and may that there are nine other votes which are doubtful, from which they hope to draw the three additional votes necessary to insure success. They do not count upon any Democratic votes, notwithstanding Senator Clark, of Arkansas, voted with them when the bill was originally before the Senator

WASHINGTON, June 4.- The report of Charles B. Nelli, Commissioner of Labor, and James Bronson Reynolds to the President on the sanitary condition of the meat-packing houses of Chicage, which was transmitted to Congress today, together with the President's message on the same subject, is as follows:

"As directed by you, we investigated the conditions in the principal establishments in Chicago engaged in the slaughter of cattle, sheep and hogs and in the preparation of dressed meat and ment food products. Two and a half weeks were spent in the investigation in Chicago and during this time we went through the principal packinghouses in the stockyards district, together with a few of the smaller ouses. A day was spent by Mr. Reynolds in New York City in the investigation of several of its leading slaughter-houses. During our investigation, statements of conditions and practices in the packing-houses, together with affidavits and documentary evidence were offered to us from numerous sources. Most of these were rejected as being far from proving the facts alged and as being beyone

ity of verification by us.

Tell Only Verified Facts. "We have made no statement as a fact in the report here presented that was not verified by our personal examination. Certain matters waich we were unable to verify while in Chicago are still under investigation. The following in therefore submitted as a partial report touching upon those practices and conditions which found most common and not confined to a single house or class of houses.

"A more detailed report would contain many specific instances of defects found in packing-houses." The opening paragraphs of the report are devoted to descriptions of the stockyards and the buildings occupied as packing-houses. The difficulty of keeping the open yards and pens closed, especially in wet weather, is emphasized. The buildings are stated have been constructed with little regard to either light or ventilation. The workrooms as a rule are poorly ighted. Many of the inside rooms are described as vaults in which the air

The working tables upon which the meat is handled, the floor carts on which it is carried about and the tubs and other receptacles into which it is thrown are generally of wood. In all the places visited, but a single porcelain-lined receptacle was seen. Tables covered with sheet iron, iron carts and iron tubs are being introduced into the better establishments, but no establishment visited has as yet shandoned the extensive use of wooden tables and wooden receptacles. These wooden receptacles are frequently found water-soaked, only half-cleansed, and with meat scraps and grease accumulations adhering to their sides and collecting dirt. This is largely true of meat racks and meat conveyors of every sort, which were in nearly all cases inadequately cleansed and grease and meat scraps were found adhering to them, even after they had been washed and returned to service.

Conditions Are Abominable.

Nothing shows more clearly the indifference to matters of cleanliness and sanitation than do the privies for both men and wamen. The prevailing type is made by cutting off a section of the workroom by a thin wooden partition rising to within a few feet of the ceiling. These privies usually ventifate into the workroom, though a few are found with a window opening into ally ventilate into the workroom, though a few are found with a window opening into the outer way. Many are located in the inside corners of the workrooms, and thus have no outside opening whatever. They are furnished with a row of seats, generally without even side partitions. These rooms are sometimes used as cloakrooms by the employes. Lunchrooms constructed in the same manner, by boarding off a section of the workroom, often adjoin the privies, the edors of which add to the generally unsanitary state of the atmosphere.

Abominable as the above-named conditions are, the one that affects most directly and seriously the cleanliness of the food products is the frequent absence of any lavatory provisions in the privies. Washing sinks are either not furnished at all or are small and dirty. Neither are towels, soap or tollet paper provided. Men and women return directly from these places to plunge their unwashed hands into the meal to be converted into such food products as sausages, dried beef and other compounds. Some of the privies are situated at a long distance from the workrooms and men relieve themselves on the killing floors or in a cor-
