HOT RETORT COMES BACK

Tyrannical Conduct of Trunk Lines Forms Excuse for New Provisions-Foraker Wails Over Passes and Jim Crow Cars.

DAY'S WORK IN THE SENATE. WASHINGTON, June 5 .- The Senate today passed the naval appropriation bill and also gave consider able: attention to the conference report on the railroad rate bill. WASHINGTON, June 5 .- During the port of the railroad rate bill, Foraker indicated a purpose to insist upon an explanation of the change made by the conferees in including lateral or branch lines among those upon whose request common carriers shall be required to put in switches or switch connections.

Tillman had explained the amendments on which he thought it possible points of order could be made, because of the presence of new matter, but had not in-cluded the amendment in question. When Tillman expressed the opinion that the conferees had not transgressed their au-thority in this matter the Ohio Senator dissented, saying the suggestion had been made in the Senate, and had been voted down, and that it was clearly new matter. He therefore thought that the Senate should be told why the change had been

Tyranny of Trunk Lines.

Tillman replied that it was because of the "tyrannicsi and outrageous conduct of the frunk lines in such cases as that of the Red Rock Company in West Virginia." He expressed the opinion that the only conference change against which a point of order will lie is that extending for 69 days the time when the rate bill shall go into operation. That, he con-ceded, is clearly out of order.

The report was then temporarily laid aside, and the Senate took up and passed the naval appropriation bill.

Want Passes for Employes.

Returning again to the railroad rate bill. Foraker criticized the conferees on account of the new matter, saying that the conferees were not legislators, but mere intermediaries. He also objected to the change in the anti-pass provision. making especial complaint of the elimi-nation of railroad employes from the priv-raison of rearrange employees from the privilege of free transportation.

Tillman replied that the change had been made at the suggestion of the conference members of the House. He promised to do the best possible if the bill should be sent back. "I don't know what we can accompilah," he said, "for there are some hard-headed men in the House as well as in the Senate." as well as in the Senate."

"Jim Crow" Cars Again.

Foraker found fault with the amend-ment prohibiting discrimination for or against passengers on account of color He said several negroes had complained of the provisions as a recognition of the "Jim Crow" law of the South, but that such had not been the intention, the only purpose being to secure proper treatment for all where the "Jim Crow" system

Bailey of Texas and Bacon of Georgia denied that any discrimination is prac-ticed in their respective states. Gallinger criticized the provision fixing the salary of the secretary of the interstate Commerce Commission as new legislation, and said that Mr. Moseley, the present secretary, had tried to make it appear that he (the Senator) had spoken of him (Moseley) as an anarchist and that such was not the case. He had, however, said that he secretary would be better off if he would give attention to legislation.

The matter was still under consideration when the Senate adjourned.

At the same time the Judge will announce the clisors who will summon the grand jury.

Officials Not Trustworthy. The court also expressed the belief that the character of the testimony which was offered during the hearing of the peti-tion was sufficient to convince any court that the Sheriff and the Coroner of the city and county were not the proper persons to assist in caling such a jury and that the District Attorney was not the proper person to lay before the jury the matters to be investigated. The very nature of the testimony, the court seemed to think indicated that a bold conspiracy had been entered into by the corporation heads, who were likewise the heads of the political party with which the three officials were closely interested. Judge Mullins seemed to be of the opin-lon also that the usefulness of the grand jury would be increased with special of-ficers for the jury, whose attitude toward the interests to be investigated could not be questioned and who would be abso-lutely unprejudiced one way or the other,
