FIELDS ARE SOAKED

Cool Weather Has Greatly Benefited the Wheat.

PRIME CROP OF BARLEY

Small Fruit Yield Will Be Smaller in Wasco, but the Quality Will Be Far Above the Average.

THE DALLES, Or., June 5.—(Special.)—
The cool weather of the past week, together with the continued rain, have made a great change in the hopes and fears of the wheat farmers in this section. Those whose crops are in Spring srain now feel that they are on Easy street, while the Fall grain that escaped
the March freeze is flourishing.
Tuesday a soaking rain fell all day, carrying joy to the heart of the farmer whose acres were sown to grain. The resecded barley crop is also in prime condition.

Fruit throughout the county will fall short somewhat in quantity, particularly the strawberry and peach yield. Fruit-raisers report that what is lost in quan-tity is already showing again in quality, as both cherries now ripening and peaches are larger and fluer than usual. A large yield of plums and prunes is anticipated

Grain Promises Heavy Yield.

SALEM, Or. June 8.—(Special.)—Grain on the hill lands of Marion and Polk Counties has the best standing in many years. In this respect the improvement is more noticeable than on the level lands, though the crop is excellent in all localities. The wheat is headed out well and promises a heavy yield. There is an increased acreage of barley this year and a fine crop. Oats are very heavy. The aphis and Hessian fly are only in a few places and bothering only wheat.

Apples are a heavy crop and clean; prunes are also fine. The berry crop is provided to the continued rains.

Pastures and meadows are the best lo years. Vetgetables are all doing well. The agricultural prospects in this valley were never brighter than now.

Rain Soaks Into Ground.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 6.—(Special.)— From all sections of the Spokane country come optimistic reports of the condition of cereal crops. The least optimism is from Pullman, Wash., and even that states that the crop will be fair. Rains have continued at intervals during the last seven days, but not so copious as to interfere with farm work.

The air has been cool and little moisture has evaporated, so the ground has absorbed all the rain. Even in spots where it was feared the rain had beaten dawn the property wheat the plants have down the growing wheat the plants have

The Oregonian reports include the Big Bend, all of Central Washington and the Palouse; Camas and Nez Perces Prairies, Poliatch and Latah Counties in Idaho. The fruit has not fared so wen, but there will be a fair yield this year.

Storm Benefited the Crops.

PENDLETON, Or., June 6 .- (Special.) he recent storms, generally speaking, hough some sections have suffered heavy loss. In the wheat belt and on high lands the conditions seldom have been better for a heavy yield and a sure harvest. On the lowlands, however, in the flooded districts, the present outlook is gloomy, though the ultimate effect will not be determined.

Many acres of alfalfa have been ruined, and fields spoiled for immediate irriga-tion, but the land has been covered with crease its value. The wheat is in good ondition and now promises a normal gon. Class day exercises and alumni re-union Tuesday June 12. Wednesday, June 13. commoncement address before the class, President P. L. Campbell, of Urged to Present State's Claims, as Oregon Legislative Fund Will Then Not Be Available for the Work.

> SALEM, Or., June 6 .- (Special.)-Governor Chamberlain today sent the following letter to Senator Gearin at Washington: "I have just wired you as follows 'Am informed appropriation of $200, 000 for hydrographic surveys cut one half. State appropriation of $2500 not available without Government appropriation. Urge restoration of appropropriation. Stream measurements es-sential for state's development. Letter today.

"I now confirm said telegram. It explanation thereof permit me to say that I have been informed that the usual appropriation of $20,000 for stream gauging work in the United States has been cut to $100,000, probably upon the assumption that the Reclamation Service should take care of this work in the protection of the stream of the stre this work in the western part of the

"During the past four years, and since the passage of the reclamation act, $230,000 has been appropriated each year. During this time $2000 has been allotted to Oregon annually. At the legislative session of 1903 co-operation was provided to the extent of $250), contingent upon the Government making an equal appropriation for similar ork in this state, thus making in all 200 for stream measurement and her hydrographic work in Oregon.

"If the Government appropriation is cut down and no money allotted to Oregon except from the reclamation fund, the absence of the Government appro-priation will make it impossible to utilize the state appropriation of $2500.

"In addition to the $5000 now being spent by the state and Government in co-operation, the Reclamation Service has been spending annually something over $7000 in preliminary hydrographic transferations, which are absolutely investigations, which are absolutely es sential in any undertaking of irriga-tion or power development, whether by the Government or by private enter prise. Much of the Government hydro graphic work has been discontinued except under the more feasible pro-jects, as the money thus expended car

"For this reason, their preliminary investigations are only carried long enough to determine the feasibility of the project, and most of the hydrographic work of the Reclamation Service will be discontinued in the near fu ture. As streams fluctuate from year to year, records of discharge should extend over a considerable period in order to be of much value, and outside capital will not begin construction of any important or extensive work with out this information, "The knowledge of the available or surplus water supply of this state is as essential for record and publication As a result of Garfield's escapade the vessel is liable to a fine of $500 for carrying passengers, for Garfield, not helding papers, cannot be held as anything but a passenger. Captain Bjerck is also worried, fearing he may be subject to punishment, and Garfield is liable to be held as is that of our state or public lands. I would urge, therefore, that you en-deavor to restore the appropriation to the usual amount of $290,000, in order that Oregon may receive its usual share of $2500, which is necessary in order that our state appropriation of an equal amount may become available.

"I will be glad to have you take this matter up with Senator Fulton and trust that together you will do all in your power to restore the appropriation OLYMPIA, Wash., June 5.—(Special.)—Superintendent E. A Rare Opportunity

TO BUY THE BEST

Wheat, Beet and Fruit Lands

We will sell at public auction 1324 acres of the best land in the Palouse country on June the 19th and 20th, 1396.

This land will be sold at public auction in 40 and 80-acre tracts and upward to the hignest bidder.

This is the famous C. K. Wood farm land, situated four miles northeast of Oakesdale. Every acre is number one. New and up-to-date buildings, an abundance of running water and springs. All in a high state of cultivation. There are no better farm lands in the State of Washington. We will sell the same day 6? head of high-grade Percheron and Shire horses. This is one of the best bands of horses in Whitman County.

For full particulars correspond with the undersigned or with Joseph MacEachern, of Oakesdale, Wash.
