HOLD GRADUATING EXERCISES

The graduating exercises of students of the North Pacific Sanatorium were held last night at the First Presbyterian Church. After an invocation by Rev. E. Hill, the Lakme Quartet gave a musical selection. Dr. R. C. Coffey delivered the opening address, followed by a solo by Mrs. A. T. Bushong. Dr. W. C. Williamson addressed the graduates, after which they were presented with diplomas by Rev. Mr. Hill. Several musical selections closed the exercises, which were well attended by friends and relatives of the graduates. The graduating class was composed of Valeria Martin, Helen Jackson, Lela Knight Bayne, Mahala Matt, H. Josephine Nelson, Nora Kesting and Emma Royal Singleton.

NOBLEBLED ALMOST CALLED DEATH.—Plugs in the nose of J. J. Clark, a fireman on the steamer Red, saved him from bleeding to death last night. Clark's nose was broken by a fall on the curbstone at Seventh and Morrison streets. Dr. E. Hill, called at Clark's home, and he telephoned to police headquarters, and Desk Sergeant Parker went to his assistance. Clark was taken to the offices of Dr. E. Hill, where he was treated. He is in his nose temporarily until he could be taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital. On arrival at the hospital he was so weak from loss of blood he had to be assisted to the operating-room. There the flow of blood was stopped with considerable difficulty. Clark will recover.

DEAR OLD HOME.—Oscar Conrad Ordemann died at his late residence, 569 Fifth street, yesterday morning at 2 o'clock. Mr. Ordemann was born at Bremen, Germany, March 11, 1854. He came to Portland in the year 1872, married Miss Caroline Lampert, of Portland, October 26, 1881, who with four children—Miss Helen Caroline, Thomas C., Edward L. and Miss Hazel E.—survived him. For years he was the senior deacon of the Immanuel Baptist Church. The funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Immanuel Baptist Church, corner of Mead and Second streets, conducted by Rev. Henry A. Barden, assisted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Griffin.

BAKERS OPENING TODAY

AMUSEMENT PARK WILL BE IN FULL SWING. New Attractions and Concessions on "The Avenue" Will Make the Resort Popular.

Everything will be in full swing at The Oaks this afternoon, which will be opened to the public for the first time since the many improvements were made during the past winter. The park has been almost entirely reconstructed, and the casual visitor will scarcely recognize the place, so great have been the changes. A complete transformation has been accomplished, not only in the grounds and lawns, but in the addition of what is known as "The Avenue" where a trail so novel amusement devices that occupy a space of nearly one mile in length will be seen for the first time. Nearly every show with the exception of last season's most pronounced successes has been torn down to make room for new and more modern productions. All of the beautiful promenades have been provided with the electric clusters that were so effective in lighting up the Lewis and Clark Fair, and these will be among the most noticeable of the pleasure features. A depot 500 feet in length has been built to insure not only safety, but quick exit and entrance to and from the park. Greater facilities have been added for the handling of large crowds, so that it will be an easy matter for the railway to handle 50,000 visitors a day.

Every known comfort and convenience for the patrons has been added, including an entirely new system for the furnishing of Bull Run water. In addition to the improved and beautiful Tram which has been much improved, a large and commodious popular-priced restaurant has been built that will accommodate 150 people. The famous Royal Italian Band has been augmented to 40 picked musicians, who will present many musical novelties that have not been heard on the Pacific Coast.

The Oaks Company purchased from the Lewis and Clark Fair all of the cosy benches, which will surround the band stand, so that fully 200 people can enjoy the music. Among the new attractions on "The Avenue" is the largest and most complete skating rink in the world. There is also the great figure 8 roller coaster, the Old Mill, or Aquarama, a device which takes passengers on water in original craft through all the most exciting spots of the world. There is the wonderful $20,000 Gregg Carousel, the very funny zigzag, a stairway that few can climb without a laugh, and many other novelties.

Among the novelties is a remarkable Japanese exhibit of life-size carved figures that tell a famous story in the history of the Japanese empire. The exhibit will be seen for the first time in the world.

"The Avenue" is literally crowded with a host of novelties, and of course the chutes, mass bumps, temple of mirth, the giant whirl, the spacious bath-house and other attractive amusement features will be retained. The new garden has been improved upon at considerable cost, and will prove most attractive to lovers of terpsichore.

There are also two Hale's tour cars in the city, the most expensive of "The Avenue." It is said that these two cars cost more than any others of their kind in America. The Japanese tea garden has been improved upon at considerable cost, and there is everything on "The Avenue" to interest and delight as well as to satisfy the wants of every visitor to The Oaks.

OFFICERS ARE ACCUSED. Patrolman Wade Gets Into Trouble for Not Reporting Case.

Upon charge by Captain of Detectives Bruin, Patrolman Wade was taken before the Police Commissioners Thursday, charged with not reporting a case of child molestation which he was working. The case was against John Hammer, a saloonkeeper, accused of having minors in his saloon.

The boys whom Hammer was accused of having in his saloon had tried to sell him some cigars which they are said to have stolen.

When the charge was brought against Hammer in the Municipal Court, he said that he had an agreement with Patrolman Wade whereby the boys were to be asked to come to the saloon at 6 o'clock on a certain day, in order that the officer might detain them until he found out how they had come into the possession of the cigars. The charge against Wade was taken under advertisement by the commission.

A Shapiro appeared before the commission to complain that he had been mistreated by Police Captain Bailey. He had been arrested for keeping his saloon open after hours, and thought he had been unjustly dealt with because Captain Bailey had ordered him locked up in lieu of $100 bail. Mr. Shapiro thought that the bail was exorbitant and had asked to be released on $27.50 bail, which was all he had with him.

Patrolman John Barri appeared before the commission to explain a quarrel which he had had with a neighbor, Philip Ream, over the trespassing of Ream's chickens. Ream had filed a complaint in which he asserted that the officer had assaulted and abused him. The case was dismissed, as Mr. Ream was not present to testify, and the commission gathered from the story of Barri that the fault was not all on one side.

East Side Property Sales. An unusually large number of property sales is being made at present on the East Side. Since the sale of the Brown Hotel for $50,000, which was the most valuable building in that part of the city which has been transferred for some time, there have been many smaller real estate business deals. One of the most valuable pieces of property, J. N. Peal has just purchased two pieces of East Side realty on Grand avenue upon which improvements will probably be made soon. Mr. Peal is a trustee of the Thompson estate bought the half

The Consumption Death-rate in New York has decreased 33 1/2 per cent in the past seven years.

This is due to corrected public opinion and enforcement of laws in regard to the spitting nuisance; also compelling physicians to report consumption, just as they report scarlet fever, diphtheria and small-pox.

Other cities can improve the same way—read Eugene Wood's "Campaign Against Consumption" in Everybody's for June.
