MOVEMENT GENERALLY UP

Professionals Less Prominent in the Day's Business-High-Priced Issues Absorb Most of the Attention.

NEW YORK, June 12—Further duliness was shown by the stock quarket today. The movement, for the most part upward in the early hours, was largely in the high-priced issues, such as Delaware & Hudson, St. Paul and the Hill reads, Union Pacific, New York Central, Hillinois Central, Penagivania and its affices and the Gould properties.

Reports of a coming contest to overthrow the present management of the Delaware & Hudson Company with charges of extravagance and lack of progress received little credit. St. Paul and the other grain carriers were favorably affected at the outset by the previous day's reports of the high average shown for Spring wheat in the Northwest. Pennsylvania's strength followed unconfirmed rumors of the successful consummation of the company's Paris loan. The improved showing of the Gould properties was accepted as a direct reflection of the optical statements attributed to their titlear accepted as a direct reflection of the opti-were made by influential houses whose names are generally linked with the operations of large investors. The so-called commissionlarge investors. The so-called commission-houses and professionals, as a whole, were de-cidedly less conspicuous in the day's business. This would seem to imply that the big interests which have been under the market for months past show no disposition to aban-don their position. Business dwindled and prices sagged before the end of the morning session. Traders took a hand and played for reaction in which they were partially suc

Undoubtedly the principal reason for the sethack of the late session came from the weekly crop report, which told of a lack of rain in Nebraska. Illinois, Missouri and Virginia, while severe drouth was reported from Southern Texas and the Central Gulf districts and too much rain in the upper Missouri Vailey and upper lake regions. Concurrent with this news came a bosm in the wheat and other commodity markets which seemed with this news came a boom in the wheal and other commodity markets which seemed to be engineered by the coterie of professionals so often prominent in stocks. St. Paul's upward course was not arrested, despite the statement from an authoritative source that the company's plans for thanching the Pacific Coast extension are not to be announced in the immediate future. That stock was almost the one strong feature of the late trading, though Pennsylvania held firm. Among the weak issues were Enion Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and Reading, while the general list reflected a heavy undertone. The closing was fairly active, with a feeble raily, which advanced prices from the lowest level.

> CHICAGO, June 12.-Strength in the wheat narket developed soon after the opening. At the start, sentiment in the pit was hearish, because of the higher condition of wheat, as outlined in the Government report issued just before the close of yesterday's session. Another reason for the weak undertone was the absence of rain in the Northwest. Before the end of the first hour, sentiment had become bullish and throughout the remainder of the session the bears were in full retreat. The change in sentiment was due chiefly to numerous reports of damage by drouth to the wheat crops of Kamas, Missouri and Nebraska. A report from Kansas City claimed that the crops in that section had deteriorated 50 per cent during the past week, and that the grain was ripening prematurely. A decrease of $2,00,000 bushels in the world's visible supply, as shown by Bradstreet's, acted as a further attenulant to buyers. Trading was active the entire day. Late in the session there was a moderate reaction on profitaking, but the market closed firm, July opened %c to $2%c. and then adaynced to $4%c@$4%c. Final quotations were at $4%c. a net gain of %6%c.
> Trading in the corn pit was active, and after moderate weakness early in the day the market developed decided strength. Drouth conditions in Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska formed the basis of the urgent demand, which characterized trading during the last half of the session. Prices receded somewhat from the highest point on profit-taking, but a strong tone prevailed at the close. July closed $316,67534c, a gain of 1½c.
> Strength of wheat and own had a builtish effect on the oats market. The market closed strong with July %64%c higher, at $84.636%c.
> Prices in the provisions market were inthe start, sentiment in the pit was bearish. because of the higher condition of wheat, as strong with July %@%c higher, at 384,600%c.

Prices in the provisions market were in-clined to weakness. Liberal receipts of hogs at Western packing centers inspired selling by pit traders and the market lacked any definite support, local packers taking little part in trading. At the close, September pork was unchanged, lard was off 5@71/2c and ribs were 74/210c lower. The leading futures ranged as follows:
