With a splendid gallery and the greens at the Waverly Golf Club links in fine shape, the annual golf tournament for the open championships for men and women began yesterday. The first day's play gave the visitors a chance to see some very good golf, as all of the contests be-tween the players were stiffly contested in the matches. Mrs. Mabel Keyes, of Scattle, formerly Miss Lanyon, of Port-land, won the qualifying rounds in the women's open championship, playing in 103, and Chester Murphy won the man's 103, and Chester Murphy won the men's qualifying rounds in 83.

The playing of Mrs. Keyes and Mr. Mur phy was the feature of the day. Mr. Van Tuyl, of Seattle, won the cup in the put-ting contest, and he was tied with Will-lam Castleman in the three-hole competition, each scoring 8.

After a breakfast Mr. Shonts was escorted to Drake University, where he made the address before an audience of 2000 persons. He said there had never been a time in the history of this country when the need of the higher education, which the universities alone are competent to supply, was so great as it is today. He said in part:

"In a time like the present, when a spirit of discontent and of revolt against existing conditions is abroad in the land, the harm which an ignorant mind, no matter how sincers and well meaning, may do is incalculable. Even yesterday the moving of the Acolian library and the transferring of The Oregonian premium talking machine department, which will be found in Acolian Hall for the next few days, caused considerable annoyance to patrons selecting instruments, and after noon today there is bound to be more or less interference by employes taking down fixtures, furniture, signs and general equipment. These warercoms must be vacant by tomorrow at midnight, and they shall be so.

Meanwhile carpenters are at work setting partitions, etc., but the work of selling planos will proceed nevertheless. At the saving you can now effect in the buying of a good piane you can afford a little inconvenience, and we'll guarantee to deliver each and every instrument in the very best possible condition, no matter what disadvantage we are under.

Let us urge you once more, then, to come today. Come early this morning, or late this evening, and depend upon finding here the greatest amount of intrinsic plano value that has ever been offered, or ever again will be offered by any responsible firm on standard instruments.

Hundreds of your friends and neighbors have participated in this sale, coming from every direction of the city and state, and you can yet do likewise.

We offer this morning an elegant used fancy oak Chickering upright, $15; a superb little rosewood-cased Weber, worth $500, for exactly half, or $300; a Knabe for $255; a Steinway, just received toward payment of a new Chickering upright, for $255; a nother Steinway upright, also in good shape, for $17. This latter was received on account of a Weber baby grand and comes from one of Portland's finest homes.

Payments of $10, or $20 down and $4, $6 or $8 a month buys one.

Piano-Owners Get a Player. You can still get a fine plano-player if you attend to it this morning—we must get rid of them, hence these ridiculously low prices. Slightly used Planolas in excellent condition; one Cecilian, two Simplexes, a Harmonist, at $55, $57, and up to $105. They are all in fine condition, and may be exchanged in six months or a year at price paid toward payment of a fine new Metrostyle Pianola. Pay as best suits your convenience. Act quickly. We also throw in free a library of music.

The Residue Goes Free. The Residue Goes Free.

Whatever instruments remain unsold by tonight will be sent free of charge to the homes of responsible persons who will agree to take good care of such an instrument until such time as we may want to get it back again. If you are not ready to buy and will take good care of a piano or an organ, or a Pianola, send in your name and address. No cartage, no insurance, no "strings"! We'll take care of all that. All you do is to take good and proper care of the instrument until we want it in the Fall. Come in today and choose your instrument.

TRADE OF POLITICS IS IGNOBLE

Mayor McClellan Says the Profession of Politics Is Different.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 14.—Speak-ing from the topic, "The Profession of Politics," at the commencement exercises at Union College yesterday, Mayor George B. McClellan, of New York, said he wished it understood that by the profession of politics he did not mean the trade able, than the trade of politics. There was none more inspiring, more capable of good, than its profession.

The theory that graft could, under cirumstances, be honest, had done more to iscredit a great profession than all the mud-slingers, yellow journalists and muck-rakers combined. The standard by which the politician should be judged could not be too high. What was wanted n public life in this country, the Mayor maintained, was not so much financial in-tegrity and money bonesty, but moral courage and intellectual honesty. There were certain essentials to success in poli-tics, without which no man should undertake its profession, and these essentials were four—a sense of honor, common sense, a sense of proportion, and last, but not least, a sense of humor.

In the course of his address Mayor Mc-Ciellan defended District Attorney Wil-liam T. Jerome. The Mayor referred to the public as a "hard master to serve."

NEW YORK, June 14.—Replying to riticisms by Governor Folk, of Missouri, District Attorney Jerome said today the difficulty in the way of convicting a rich man arises, not from a disinclination to punish him on the part of the prosecutor, but because it is difficult to get evidence to connect him with the crime.

"The public is inclined to think that no man of wealth and power can be con-victed of a crime, when the evidence and not the law is at fault," said Mr. Jerome. Of the difficulty of convicting wealthy men, Mr. Jerome said:

"To bring the responsible man to trial there must be legal evidence, and frequently we find those persons connected with it are accomplices, the accomplices under the law cannot correporate each
