TRIES TO FIND POKER GAME

DETECTIVE KAY MAKES UNWEL-COME VISIT TO IMPERIAL.

He Is Accused of Sneaking Upstairs and Making Himself Generally Disagreeable.

Tom Kay, who boasts a roving commission as a city detective under Mayor Lane and whose specialty is the purification of public morals, attempted to cover himself with glory by raiding one of the leading hotels of the city yesterday afternoon in search of a quiet game of poker. Either because the game of poker. Either because the game had never existed elsewhere than in his vivid imagination, or because he had been given what in police circles is succinctly referred to as a "burn steer," the raid was fruitless, except in the way of trouble for the star-spangled crussder's superiors. except in the way of trouble for the star-spangled crusader's superiors.

All Detective Kay got out of it was the satisfaction of escaping a sound thrashing at the hands of the indignait employes of the hotel, who arrived on the acene just too late to give Kay and his understudy, Charles Hill, a plain-clothes man of recent creation, a dose of the treatment usually prescribed for trespassers and inby prescribed for trespassers and in-terlopers. The vials of wrath intended for them were accordingly poured out on the unoffending head of Acting Chief of Detectives Bruin over the

The Imperial Hotel, at the corner of Seventh and Washington, conducted by Phil Metschan, one of the best known and most highly respected business men in the city, was the scene of the attempted raid. It may or may not be a coincidence that Mr. Metschan is an ardent Republican and works for his party in every campaign, wails his head clerk, Douglas R. Ladd, fought Tom Word for Sheriff in the recent campaign.

The two detectives entered the hotel The two detectives entered the hotel at about 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and sneaking upstairs without a word to the management, secreted themselves in the ladies' tollet room, near the room in which their excited imaginations had located the poker game. The hotel was crowded with guests, and before very many minutes Clerk Ladd was driven frantic by the complaints of the women on that floor.

Just when the demands for the ejection of the intruders were becoming hysterical, an irate guest of the sterner sex sent down word that two strangers had invaded his room, forcing their way in behind him when he unlocked the door to enter.

the door to enter.

Clerk Ladd rushed upstairs, but to his deep regret found that the detectives had made a hasty inspection of the room and had departed as they had come, escaping from the house without the formality of apologising for their intrusion. Ladd quickly ascertained the identity of his unwelcome visitors and then proceeded to make the dry bones rattle at police headquarters.

He rang up Inspector Bruin and after informing him of the insult offered the women of the hotel by the detectives, expressed his opinion of such conduct in Shakespearean Eng-lish. Bruin promised to come up at once and investigate. He falled to do so, however, and Ladd finally went so, however, and Ladd finally went home in disgust.

"I would just like to catch them sneaking around upstairs again," remarked Mr. Metschan dryly.
This is the second time that the Imperial has been made the victim of police invasion. Several months ago a squad of detectives descended upon the hotel and arrested several participants in a private card game, among them being the Mayor of Pendleton at that time. The cardplayers were taken to police headquarters and there released without charges being filed.

RAISE SALOON LICENSES

Committee Favors Fixing Amount at Six Hundred Dollars.

Begining July 1, it is probable that saloon licenses in Portland will be raised to $600 per annum or $100 above the present figure. The ordinance introduced by Councilman Wills, advocating a $1000 license came up for the consideration of the liquor license committee yesterday and was recommended to the Council for passage with the figure reduced to $600. It was thought that the higher price would drive out all of the poor saloonmen and allow only the richer to continue in

At the same time, the city attorney was asked to prepare an ordinance in which the liquor license of grocers and restaurants shall be raised from $200 to $300. Grocers who sell to dealers will have to pay the regular wholesalers license of $400 which will not be raised owing to the strong competition from without the state.

The following licenses were allowed.

The following licenses were allowed: A The following licenses were allowed: A. Gerde, Hawthorne avenue and Water street; Max Smith, restaurant, 149 Seventh; Albert Hoert, 748 Hood street. Licenses were refused Ward & Ritameger, 755 Savier street; Albert Sering, Jr., 721 Mississippi avenue, and George Mazzer 355 Third street. 325 Third street

CRAIG SEVERS THE BOND

RESIGNS OFFICE WITH O. R. & N. TO JOIN HILL LINES.

Successor to Be Named This Week, Possibly McMurray-Commercial Club Will Banquet Craig.

CHICAGO, June 18.—(Special.)—Traffic Director Stubbs, of the Harriman lines, stated tonight that he would announce his appointment of a successor to A. L. Craig, general passenger agent of the O. R. & N. Co., before the end of the present week. Mr. Craig's resignation to leave the Harriman service to become passenger traffic manager of the Great Northern has been formally accepted, and he will has been formally accepted, and he will leave the O. R. & N. Co. at the end of this month. William McMurray, of Portland, Mr. Craig's assistant, is looked upon as his possible successor.

In connection with the appointment of Mr. Craig there is a rumor that C. E. Mr. Craig there is a rumor that C. E. Stone, general passenger agent of the Great Northern, is to leave the employ of that company. Mr. Stone was but recently elevated to the position of general passenger agent of the Great Northern, and was the natural successor to Mr. Whitney. Rumor has it that Mr. Stone will accept service elsewhere, but confirmation of the report is not to obtained.

Mr. Craig will be tendered a farewell banquet by the Portland Commercial Club in the near future. The board of governors, of which Mr. Craig is a member, decided yesterday at noon to give the dinner at 7 o'clock next Thursday evening, it being assumed in his absence that that date would be satisfactory to Mr. Craig.

Craig.

Later in the day Mr. Craig notified the club that it would be a fortnight or more before he would leave to take his new position, and requested that the dinner be postponed a week or more.

A new date has not been definitely agreed upon, but it is probable Thursday evening, June 28, will be chosen.

Mr. Craig has been a member of the Commercial Club for several years, and has hosts of friends in that organization who regret that business compels him to sever his connection with it.

Will Dine A. L. Craig. General Passenger Agent A. L. Craig, of the O. R. & N., will be given a dinner by the Commercial Club before dinner by the Commercial Clin perfore he leaves to take up his new duties as head of the passenger department of the Great Northern. Local railroad men will also participate in the din-ner, and a few intimate friends of Mr.

Craig who are outsiders will also probably be asked. The dinner will be given Thursday evening, June 28, at 7 o'clock P. M. Hill Officials Visit Portland. Many high officials of the Hill roads have been in Portland during the past week looking after traffic matters. Last night Ben Campbell, fourth vice-president of the Great Northern, and president of the Great Northern, W. W. Broughton, freight traffic manager of the same road, left for St Paul after spending a few days here. C. M. Levey, president of the Portland & Seattle, arrived in Portland Sunday and left yesterday for Tacoma. J. B. Baird, general freight agent of the Northern Pacific, reached the city Sunday and left last night. A. D. Charlton, assistant general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific, left yesterday for Seattle, where he will meet A. M. Cicland, general passenger agent, and return with him to Portland. S. G. Yerkes, assistant general passenger agent for the Great Northern, reached the city yesterday and left last even-ing for Scattle in company with Mr.

J. B. Baird on Flying Trip.

J. B. Baird, general freight agent for the Northern Pacific, with offices at St. Paul, reached Portland yester-day and spent the day in consultation with local officials of the line he rep-resents. Mr. Baird stated he was in Portland on one of his regular trips and was looking over the line as usual. "I was here about a year ago," he said, "and I find that Portland has said, "and I find that Portland has made great advances since that time. Portland seems prosperous. The freight business is very good in this territory and there is every indication that it will increase. The lumber business especially has outgrown the business especially has outgrown the business especially has outgrown the ability of the railroads to handle it." Mr. Boird left last night for Eastern Washington, where he expects to attend the hearing of the Washington Railroad Commission at Colfax. He will probably return to Portland be-fore going back to St. Paul.

Reduction on Sugar Rates.

A new proportional rate on sugar between Portland and the Sound will be put into effect immediately by the Northern Pacific that will reduce the tariff on sugar between the two points about 50 per cent. The former rate was 20 cents a hundred in carload lots and this will be reduced to 10 cents. The new rate will become effective only on sugar shipped from La Grande, Or., Idaho Falls, Ida., or Crockett, Cal., where sugar factories are located. The carload shipments must have a minimum of 50,300 pounds to secure the new rate. This tariff is a benefit to Portland dealers who buy in carloads at the factories and ship direct. The strictly local rate will remain 20 cents.

C. A. Hunter, New General Agent. C. A. Hunter, ex-commercial agent for the Rock Island at St. Paul, who was recently appointed general agent for the company at Portland, will reach the city this morning and will take charge of the local office at once. He succeeds Thomas E. Wallace, who has been acting general agent since the retirement some time age of A. H. McDonald. Mr. Wallace will resume his former position of traveling freight agent. F. W. Thompson, of San Francisco, general Western agent for the Rock Island, reached Portland yesterday and will arrange the transfer of the office here to Mr. Hunter.

PUTER PRAISES TOM

WORD'S HOTEL King of the Land Fraud Operators Says Even the Waldorf-Astoria Is Not Its Superior.

S. A. D. PUTER, who has the "king of quently described as the "king of the land-fraud operators," was very comnunicative yesterday relative to prison surroundings. He has been confined in a double-cell corridor at the Multnomah County Jail along with George Biodgett, the condemned murderer, and Gus Wirtanen, who was sentenced to three years in the state prison at Salem recently for manslaughter. In discussing several features of his quar-

discussing several features of his quarters yesterday Puter said:
"I have traveled around this country a great deal, and have stopped at all of its leading hotels, including the Waltorf-Astoria in New York, Palmer House in Chicago, Palace Hotel in San Francisco, and our own Hotel Portland, besides many others, and cannot refrain from saving that I have found Tom from saying that I have found Tom Word's hotel without a superlor in many essential respects.
"In the first place, it is strictly burg-lar proof, as well as fire proof, every room being steel-lined. In front of each bedchamber is a small screened vestibule, and while the wire thereon may be somewhat coarse, it affords ideal ventil-

"The hotel is crowded with guests near-ly all the time, many of whom are dis-tinguished in one way or another. The tinguished in one way or another. The Kangaroo Court occupies chambers on the south side of the caravansary, its officers being Judge 'Slim.' Sheriff 'Cockney Kid,' Prosecuting Attorney Longshoreman, Clerk Shooman, and Bailiff 'Tacoma Kid.' There is also a prominent occupant of this apartment known as 'High Binder Jew Nun.'

"On the west side the population is exceedingly cosmopolitan in character, and nearly all are patriotic to the exand nearly all are patriotic to the ex-tent that they devote their entire time to their country gratis. Every morning they are escorted to the river by one or two clerks of the establishment and are given a fine ride on the bosom of the Willamette to an attractive resort known as the Rock Pile, where they indulge in a game resembling golf some-what. The generosity of these boarders will some day make Multnomah County famous for the character of its macadamized roads.

"The culinary department is located on the north side of the hotel, the head chef being known as "Burn-Em-Up Juke." He has several assistants, who are certainly polished in their manners, if the condition of the silver stew pans and other bric-a-brac is any criterion.
"The hotel is conducted on the American plan, and a person is never ejected if he fails to settle his bill. Another if he fails to settle his bill. Another pleasant feature exists in the fact that all meals are served in the private rooms. "Harry Grafton, the chief cierk, can always be found at his post, and his smiling countenance is frequently visible as he passes through the various corridors looking after the welfare and personal security of his guests."

Gus Wirtenan, one of Puter's cellmates, was taken to the Salem State Prison yesterday afternoon. He is quite an accomplished musician and owns an acrdeon valued at several hundred dollars, upon which he has frequently re-galed the inmates of the establishment with the latest popular selections. Before his departure yesterday he played several favorite airs of those who have been his companions for the past few weeks, and it is evident that the lighthearted Finn and his musical instrument will be greatly missed.
