GRAND JURY AT SEA

Will Ask Court for Instructions in Election Cases.

MUCH HINGES ON RESULT

If Certain Acts Constitute a Crime, Six or More Indictments for Frauds at Sellwood May Be Returned.

Three days have already been consumed by the grand jury in investigating the charges of election frauds in Sellwood precinct, during which time nine witnesses have been examined, besides County Clerk Fields and George H. Thomas, chairman of the Democratic Central Committee. Comparatively little satisfactory headway is being made by the inquisitorial body. Eight new witnesses were examined during yesterday's session. Then the jury adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning. It is understood no further probing will be attempted until a successor to Olat Akeyson, excused, has been chosen. Although official confirmation is lacking, it is understood that the jury has progressed up to a point of uncertainty and that therefore a presentment will be made to Judge Sears at the opening of court this morning, asking if certain acts may be considered as constituting the commission of a crime. If an affirmative answer is given, no less than a half-dozen, and perhaps more, indictments will be returned during the day, upon what information has already been secured. Names Are Kept Secret. Who will be indicted is still a matter for conjecture, but according to the evidence so far collected, it is thought the list will include J. W. Reed, Mayor of Estacada, foreman in charge of the construction work at the Oaks, as he is alleged to have been active in registering what are claimed to have been illegal voters. At least six of the Sellwood freeholders whose names appear most frequently upon the affidavits by which votes were sworn in on election day are also said to face indictment. These names are known only by the members of the grand jury and those intimately connected with the investigation. Only one of the many witnesses subpoenaed and examined by the grand jury, it is understood, has furnished evidence of the expected incriminating character, and the showing which George H. Thomas, chairman of the Democratic Central Committee, who has been engaged in gathering evidence ever since the charges of fraud were filed, promised to make, has also failed to materialize. It is stated that the only witness who has given the evidence expected from him was Harry Young, of Pulten, the first witness examined by the jury, who testified that he was induced to vote in Sellwood precinct by J. W. Reed, and instructed to vote against Prohibition. Landlord Fosdick on Stand. The most important witness examined by the grand jury yesterday was A. M. Fosdick, proprietor of the Sellwood Hotel, who testified that J. W. Reed engaged lodging for 36 strangers at his hotel on Sunday evening preceding the election and that Reed paid for their accommodations with a check for $25, bearing the stamp of the O. W. F. Ry. Co. This testimony was verified by Reed's stepson, J. A. Morgan, who also related his experience with a mysterious old gentleman who engaged accommodations at the hotel on the following night and was discovered in the act of tearing out the pages of the hotel register containing the names of the transient guests under suspicion. The old man left before morning without paying his own bill. The identity of this aged stranger is still enshrouded in mystery, so far as those who are conducting the grand jury investigation are concerned. Louis Gordon, a carpenter of Sellwood, employed at the Oaks, was an unimportant witness; his testimony bearing principally upon the alleged batching up of the scheme for voting Sellwood "dry." Clerk Says Strangers Voted. C. F. Fetich, a plumber and clerk of the day election board at Sellwood precinct, and George L. Read, Democratic member of the election board, told of the number of strangers who voted in that precinct, and whose faces were unfamiliar to them and who swore in their votes. Mr. Read challenged a number of these strange voters. J. M. Groom, a member of the executive committee of the Democratic Central Committee, has been engaged in gathering evidence and submitted what he had gathered. William J. Fabian, a former employee of the Oregon Water Power Company, is thought to have been called in to identify several of the men who are said to have voted illegally in Sellwood precinct. Among those he named were Ed Bellinger, of South Portland; Alfred Drill, an electrician for the Oregon Water Power Company, whose residence is at Scott Hotel, Baker, also an electrician for the same company, who resides at Estacada. Otto Prag was also among the witnesses examined yesterday, who testified to could not be learned. Frank J. Berry, judge of election in precinct No. 8, the polling place for which was at the Scott Hotel, told of happenings in that precinct on election day. Harry Young Called Again. Harry Young, who was the first witness called before the jury, appeared again yesterday afternoon, as did also County Clerk Fields, whose testimony had to do with the electoral affidavits, which are in his official custody. Beyond revealing the fact that virtually the same six freeholders made affidavit for every suspected voter sworn in, little light was thrown upon the investigation by these affidavits. Whether or not the investigation of the alleged fraudulent voting in Sellwood precinct will proceed further after today will be determined by the instructions of the court in reply to the presentment which will be handed in by the jury this morning. It is understood that the testimony furnished by the witnesses so far examined, with the exception of that of Harry Young, is disconnected and not of an incriminating character, and it seems to be a question whether the investigation will proceed along the lines it has heretofore followed. Demands Back Rent and Wages. Demanding judgment for an aggregate of $908.33, and costs, and disbursements, John P. Christensen, under the firm name of Christensen Machinery Company, has brought suit in the Circuit Court against the Marine Iron Works. Plaintiff alleges that $155.95 of the amount asked is balance due for rental of the plaintiff's property in East Portland, occupied by the defendant, and the remainder, or $422.33, is due for labor performed for the defendant corporation. Lumber Company Incorporated. Articles of incorporation of the Union Lumber Company were filed with County Clerk Fields yesterday. The capital stock of the new company is $25,000, the place of business Portland, and E. O. Polter, R. J. Potter and A. M. Potter, all of Washington County, are the incorporators. The company will engage in a general sawmill and lumber business in this state. Why don't you try Carter's Little Liver Pills. of Astoria: W. B. Dillard, of St. Helens; W. R. Bilyeu, J. K. Weatherford, of Albany; J. D. Mallock, Lark Blizue, of Eugene; O. P. Coburn, of Roseburg; Bernard Dalry, of Lakeview; George Hallowin, St. George; Blainey of Klamath Falls; J. E. Hodges, of Oregon City. The committee in charge sent out the speech requests yesterday afternoon. Those present were George L. Hutchins, R. D. Inman, John Manning and Alex Sweek. Hon. W. C. Hawley Speaks. Congressman-Elect Addresses Montavilla Graduating Class. Hon. W. C. Hawley, Congressman-elect, delivered the address to the graduating class of Montavilla School last night. He congratulated Montavilla on its patriotic showing in behalf of the public schools, and also remarked that Portland stood high in the ranks of cities with fine schools. The speaker then reviewed the history and progress of the country, pointing out the men who had brought things to pass in this country and showed how they did it. The address was full of thought and was delivered with force and effect. Mr. Hawley's reference to President Roosevelt as the man who did things and kept the country guessing what would be his next move called out applause. He said that such a man as President Roosevelt was the product of the country—it had produced him from the raw material, the same as the Montavilla class was composed of. County School Superintendent R. F. Robinson followed with the presentation of the diplomas. The opening selection was a piano duet by Miss Johnson and Miss Jeffers, which was followed by a chorus by the pupils, directed by Miss Flora Kreglow. Harriet Vilas gave the salutatory and Ethel Dickinson the valedictory, after which Principal Bowland introduced the speaker of the evening. The members of the class follow: Ethel Dickinson, Harriet Vilas, Hazel Washburn, Charles Wheeler, Forrest Janna, Helen Sullivan, Bernice Scott, John Schwartzman, Victor Hibbard, Alice May Sisley, Mignon Martin, Myrtle Payne, Lulu Bell Morris, Lillie Stein, Ruth Alderman, Anna Graf, Louise Simonsen, Arthur Small, Harry Gibbs, Clarence Farrier, Bessie Ziddell, Clifford Lancaster, Franklin Graf, Marie May. PLAN A LOVEFEAST

Democrats Will Hold Jeffersonian Banquet July 2.

INVITE ALL THE FAITHFUL

Bryan Asked to Attend and Senator Gearin Expected to Be Present—Affair Will Be a Dollar Dinner.

The salt of the Democratic earth will assemble in Portland July 2, one week from next Monday, at a lovefeast of the Jeffersonian unfettered. Governor Chamberlain will be one of the exalted speakers; also Senator Gearin, if he shall have come back from Washington by that time, and ever so many other war-horses, bringing tidings of great joy from the four corners of the state. All the faithful, Bryan and others, are summoned to taste of prosperity's sweet viands, and no special invitations have been issued. So long as the banquet tables are set, and other fees will be suffered to attend on payment of the same fee as the very best Democrat, namely, $1. All the needed preparations will be under supervision of D. M. Watson, a local warhorse of renown. A large number of eminent patriots from all parts of the state have been invited to make short speeches. Their roster includes: National Committee-man F. V. Holman, State Chairman Alex. Sweek, Mayor Harry Lane, C. E. Wood, Thomas O'Day, Councilman W. T. Vaughn, County Chairman George H. Thomas and M. A. Miller, of Portland; Samuel White, William Smith, W. F. Butcher, of Baker City; Judge T. G. Hallowin, J. H. Riley, A. D. Stillman, Walter M. Pierce, of Pendleton; W. H. Holmes, William Kiser, of Salem; W. R. King, of Ontario; C. V. Galoway, of McMinnville; Thomas H. Crawford, Turner Oliver, of La Grande; A. S. Bennett, of The Dalles; J. H. Smith, George Nolan,

ACCEPTS THE BISHOPRIC

REV. CHARLES SCADDING TELLS GRAPHS HIS DECISION.

Illinois Churchman Feels Deep Sense of Responsibility in Becoming Head of Oregon Diocese.

CHICAGO, June 20.—Rev. Charles Scadding, of LaGrange, Ill., recently elected Episcopal bishop of Oregon, decided tonight to accept, subject to the decision of House of Bishops and the standing committee. The doubt expressed as to whether Rev. Charles Scadding, who was elected bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Oregon by the last annual convention, would accept the bishopric has been finally dispelled by the foregoing special dispatch, received by The Oregonian, and by a telegram of the bishop-elect to Rev. Dr. G. B. Van Waters, chairman of the convention, received last night. Rev. Charles Scadding telegraphed the following as his official notification of the acceptance: "With a deep sense of responsibility I accept the election as bishop of Oregon, subject to the approval of the house of bishops and the standing committee." Before an Episcopal bishop can be consecrated he must have the consent of the standing committee of all the Episcopal dioceses in the country and the house of bishops, which is composed of all the Episcopal bishops in the United States. The proceeding is a mere formality. During the convention one of the delegates suggested that Bishop Scadding should be consecrated in Portland. This matter has been laid before him and it is very probable that he will follow the suggestion. In any case the bishop-elect is not expected here before Fall, or at least the end of Summer. The Portland clergymen are elated over Rev. Mr. Scadding's acceptance, and so soon as the consent from the house of bishops and the committee is received the entire diocese will plan elaborate preparations to receive the successor of the late Rt. Rev. E. Wistlar Morris. Rev. Charles Scadding was born in Toronto, Canada, on November 25, 1882. He was educated at Trinity University and was ordained to priesthood in 1888. Rev. Scadding is an American citizen, and his
