One thing is sure, those Portland baseballers are not cut out for army society. From Manager McCredie down they might have had some grand and noble notions about being a soldier's society, but since meeting and conferring with Heavy Artillery Myers, who was the chief gunner at yesterday's local useless session, they are now convinced that the climbers, who up to now had the hereditary appearance thereunto pertaining were previous property of some one else.

So this being the case, a slender young man, wearing Uncle Sam's blue, drawing $15 a month for using the index finger of his right stem to yank the lanyard and gathering in a streamer from Parkie Wilson, using the aforementioned stem to heave twisters down the groove, and ordering the ground-keeper to bring from hiding the whitewash and brush off the old cowboys which had gathered since "last used."

Citizen Garvin seemed to have lost his curves. The rest of the players, left at home the route around the bases for Moore was the only local to reach third.

Being presented with nine big horse collars was only a little of the afternoon's diversion. Some one wrote something one time about the fellow who out-Heroded Herod. McCredie must have slept with the quotation pinned to the wishbone part of his night gown. Twice during the horse collar parade Manager Mc juggled the ball round to have an active hand in presenting the collars with their four runs. Bill Sweeney took a hand in the Herod business and Bill's chuck to third was a triple "X" beauty. Lucky there weren't 200,000,000 Seals with their hands at the time, for the heavy vest visiting into the grandstand and bumped into Bill Pangle and stayed to discuss the relative merits of theater and beef tallow.

Easy Victim for Seals.

Citizen Garvin fell an easy victim to the Seals in the second inning. Hildebrand and Irwin both singled. Williams was mugged. Seals poked out a single that hit McCredie on the funny bone and then took an exploration expedition around his face. Manager Mc finally clutched the ball and chucked it to Sweeney and heaved into the grandstand. Two runs. Wilson and Myers hit safe in the fifth. Spencer advanced two numbers on a sacrifice. Wheeler hit to Manager Mc and again the juggling scene took place. Wilson scored on the poke and Soldier Myers came home while the local manager was finding the ball. This time it was all Portland could do with the solidly silver. Nine was what they fell upon Citizen Garvin for.

JIM McDONALD IS OUT.

Hoddy Hodson Appointed as Umpire in His Place.

Poor old Jim McDonald. He belongs to the Down and Out Club now. McDonald was one of the best-known umpires, ball-players and general all-around good fellows on the Coast. For three seasons past he has officiated as an indicator knight, and during the first season he gave great satisfaction. Sickness took hold of the old warhorse and for two years he has been trying to keep up with the umpiring game, and because he was liked both managers and players stood for a lot of McDonald's rough work. Last year he had to give up, and for a time it was believed that he would die. A long rest and sojourn at Los Angeles apparently brought back a flicker of health, and when the season of 1906 opened Jim McDonald's name was sent out by President Bert as one of the umpires.

McDonald has not been seen in the north this season, but from reports of his work it has been very bad. The other day Judge McCredie received a letter from Cal Ewing, asking for the removal of McDonald and the appointment of Hoddy Hodson. Acting as president in the absence of President Bert, Judge McCredie consented to the appointment of Hodson. Hodson is well known to the Coast League fans. He was a member of the San Francisco team when Uncle Hank Harris was at the helm, and was a pretty fair twirler until the league got too fast for him. What sort of an umpire he will make remains to be seen. One thing is sure, he will not have to be anything great to have it on Phil Knell and "Bull" Perrine. Knell's work of the past two days has had yellow trimmings, and yesterday he called balls twice when the ball was wished at by the batter. He wants to go. He should be allowed to do so.

Yale Defeats Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 21.—Heavy batting and excellent pitching won for Yale today from Harvard. Score: R.H.E.
Harvard 3 3 1 Yale 3 10 3

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—(Special.)—Roy Elliott, captain of the University of California football team, resigned today because President Wheeler has insisted that the Rugby game be played.

ROGERS CHAMPION AT TRAPS.

Makes 94 in Possible 100 With Gale Blowing.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 21.—F. B. Rogers, of St. Louis, won the first prize in the grand American trap-shooting handicap today with a score of 94 targets out of a possible 100, shooting from the 17-yard line. A strong and variable wind blew across the field all day, which caused the 268 contestants to make lower records than they had hoped for.

Five traps were used, the guns working in squads of five, 20 targets being shot at from each trap. The prize money amounted to $274, which was divided among the 60 high gunners. Mr. Rogers was awarded $267, together with the silver pitcher which represented the high gun of the day.

Tomorrow the amateur and professional championships will be contested.

HOBENS LEADS FIELD IN GOLF.

Englewood Man Stands Well for Western Champion.

CHICAGO, June 21.—John Hobens, professional of the Englewood, N. J., Golf Club, led the field of 47 starters in the Western open golf championship at the end of the first 36 holes of play over the Homewood links today. With the wind blowing a gale from the southwest, Hobens made the two rounds in 78 and 76, a total of 154 strokes. Willie Smith, of Mexico, and Willie Anderson, of Ontonagon, the open champion of the United States, were both two strokes behind, while Gilbert Nichols, of Denver; Fred McLeod, Midlothian, and Aleck Smith, Nassau, were tied at 357 each.

Champions Lose in Second Round.

OMAHA, Neb., June 21.—There were some surprises in the results of today's play in the sixth annual tournament of the Trans-Mississippi Golf Association. Warren Dickinson, of Des Moines, and Walter Fairbanks, of Denver, respectively championship winner and runner-up in last year's tournament, were both beaten in the second round, as was H. P. Bend, of St. Paul, champion in 1904. The playoff of yesterday's tie for 224 place in the qualifying round was won by H. C. Sumney.

Women's Tennis Championship.

GO-BETWEEN WINS

Head Behind Him in Suburban Is Dandelion.

DRIVING FINISH FOR RACE

Shaw Rides Shields' Colt at Sheephead and Captures $20,000 Purse. Dandelion Doomed to Second Place in Big Events.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Alexander Shields' five-year-old gelding Go Between, carrying 116 pounds and third choice at 6 to 1, won the $20,000 Suburban Handicap today. Go Between was but a short head in front of F. R. Hitecock's four-year-old Hamburg colt, Dandelion. Colonial Girl was third, three lengths behind the first two horses and the same distance in front of the field. The finish was a terrific drive. Go Between catching Dandelion at the sixteenth and fighting it out head and head to the wire. Shaw, on the winner, outrode Miller. As the two leaders rushed past the stand the 30,000 or more enthusiastic spectators rose to their feet and wildly shouted encouragement.

Splendid Race Throughout.

There was a delay of 10 minutes at the post. Cedarstrom and Astronomer rushed away into the lead, with Dandelion third. Around the paddock turn and into the back stretch Cedarstrom opened up a gap of three lengths. Go Between was in the bunch and Colonial Girl was trailing in the pack. Coming out of the back stretch, Cedarstrom had begun to tire and the entire field closed up, so that seven or eight lengths covered the distance from leader to last horse.

Sweeping into the stretch, Dandelion was leading by the stretch. Cedarstrom was falling back, but Cairngorm, Dolly Spanker and To Kalon were to be reckoned with. And behind these was Go Between with Shaw sitting still in the saddle. The gelding's stretch running qualities are well known. Once the horses had straightened, Shaw let his mount have his head. In a few jumps Go Between had passed all but the flying Dandelion and, running straight and true, was going away at the end. The time was 2:05 1-5, the record, 2:05, being made by Hermis in 1904.

Dandelion's Bad Luck.

Dandelion has been an unfortunate horse this year. He was beaten but a length in the Metropolitan Handicap, a neck in the Brooklyn Handicap and a head in the Suburban.

Apart from the Suburban, interest centered in the running of the first part of the Double Event, one of the richest of the two-year-old stakes. Walter Pearl, the unbeaten Pagan colt, was held at 2 to 1, but was soundly whipped by James R. Keene's Ballot.

Results.

Steeplechase, short course—Colony won, Paul Jones second, Kismet third; time, 4:07 3-4. Six furlongs—Brookdale Synch won, Tradition second; time, 1:12. Two starters.

The double event, 6 1/4 furlongs—Ballot won, Walter Pearl second, Edith third; time, 1:24. The suburban handicap, mile and a quarter—Go Between, 116, Shaw, 6 to 1, won; time, 2:05 1-5. Second, Colonial Girl, 115, Dandelion, 3 to 1, second; time, 2:05 1-5. Proper, To Kalon, Cairngorm, Oxford, Dolly Spanker, Astronomer, Cedarstrom, Kuroki, Aggie also ran.

Five furlongs—George S. Davis won, Alton second, Yankee third; time, 1:11. Mile and a sixteenth on turf—Benevolent won, Prince Frederick second, Lancasterian third; time, 1:48 2-5.

Running Races at the Meadows.

SEATTLE, June 21.—The results at The Meadows:

Four furlongs—Grace St. Clair won, Katherine C. second, St. Albans third; time, 0:51. Six and a half furlongs—Yeoman won, C. of Diamonds second, Ramus third; time, 1:22 1-2.

Seven furlongs—Watchful won, Kuniten second, Ebel Thatcher third; time, 1:30 1-4. One mile—Funnyside won, Wenick second, Harbor third; time, 1:43 1-2.

Six furlongs—D. Boland won, President Wheeler second, Pelham third; time, 1:16 1-2. Mile and a sixteenth—Major Tunny won, Duclat second, Irae third; time, 1:51 1-2.
