PLAIN LANGUAGE USED TO KAISER

Organ of German Government Criticises Him Without Stint.

SHOULD GRANT AMNESTY

National Discontent Because Birth of Grandson Was Not Occasion of Clemency-Losing Touch With His People.

BERLIN, July 13 .- (Special.) -- All Germany is discussing the remarkably bold personal attack upon the Kaiser published in the National Zeitung of Barlin, apropos of William's disap-pointing failure to declare a general amnesty on the occasion of the birth of his grandson. Such plain speaking regarding the person of the Emperor is unprecedented, and is all the more astonishing because the journal question is commonly regarded as the nouthpiece of the government. The Kaiser is grilled for granting the band on the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern 'gracious permission" to play a certain parade march on festive occasions in honor of the Prince's birth, which up to date is the only sign of imperial recognition that "this truly national event" has called forch.

The article charges that Emperor William is losing touch with the people through surrounding himself with fawning courtiers, who are afraid to speak their minds and who keep him miserably misinformed as to the real state of public opinion. It is intimated that this practice is becoming a danger to the welfare of the state and must

Notwithstanding the well-known difficulties which the Kaiser's nature put in the way of persons who attempt to advise him. William is informed in plain words that the German nation feels affronted because of King Ed-ward's estentations refusal to meet him, the recent attempt of the Duke of Connaught to steal by German shores without paying his respects to his imperial nephew, the refusal of King Edward's daughter, the Queen of Norway, to accept the Kaiser's invitation to supper in Trondhjem and the mck of enthusiasm on the part of King Victor Emanuel of Italy as to meeting

The Kalser is told that Germans expect other recompense for their un-yielding loyalty than permission for a yacht band to play a march, which, it is intimated, borders closely on intol-erable flouting of the people.

REBELS MARCH ON CAPITAL

Outbreak in Southern Brazil May Involve Whole Republic.

LONDON, July 14.—The Leader's correspondent at Lisbon says that, according to intelligence received there, the insurrection in Matto Gresso, Brazil, is swelling to huge proportions. The insurgents, it is reported, have organized a large army and are march ing on Rio Janeiro, and already have captured several cities. General Roberio, with 40,000 federal troops, has been sent against the revolutionists. Fearful carnage is re-ported and the killed are said to be already more than 4000.

LOCUSTS DEVOUR HUNGARY.

Swarm Eats Up All Vegetation on

BUDA PEST, July 12 .- (Special.)-A BUDA PEST, July 12—(Special.)—A swarm of locusts has appeared and completely destroyed the garden produce of the finest part of the Hungarian Pussta, the great plain of Hungary. The insects have come from Morocco in extraordinary numbers. They have destroyed all the vegetation on about 15,000 square kilometers (II.000 square miles), devouring barley, rice, wheat, beet roots and turnips. It is feared that famine in cattle fodder will ensue. tle fodder will ensue.

REVOLUTION BEGINS IN PERSIA

Riot at Teheran Caused by Demand for Parliament.

TEHERAN, Persia, July 13.-There is a TEHERAN, Persia, July is—there is a recrudescence of the political unrest among the muliabs and divinity students noticed earlier in the year, and it is caus-ing great uneasiness in Government cir-cies. The divinity students broke out into cies. The divinity students broke out into active opposition to the authorities yesterday and forcibly released a professor who had been imprisoned on the charge of using seditious language. In an affray a student was killed and two were wounded. The heads of clergy immediately assembled in the great Mosque and leased insisters demands for the immediated of the immediated of the immediated of the state of issued insistent demands for the immediate granting of the reforms previously promised in January.

All the shops except the butchers' and bakers' are closed, the city is pairolled by troops and the Grand Vizier and other Ministers, who were in the country, have hastily returned to their posts. Constant conferences of the authorities are taking place, but the situation remains strained and nothing thus far has been done to satisfy the demands of the malcontents.

In January a movement was on foot in Persia to obtain a constitutional govern-ment. A thousand merchants and mul-lahs suddenly left Teheran, the capital. as a protest against the government of the Shah, and in a neighboring village took steps to establish a representative body known as the "House of Justice," over which the Shah was to preside. The members of this assembly were to be elected by the mullah, herchants and landowners it was to aversize adminislandowners, it was to exercise adminis-trative and legislative powers and the equality of all before the law was to be proclaimed.

Early in February the revolutionary upheaval in Persia had begun to assume a more acute character. The Shah, in alarm, summoned his most trusted advisers in Europe, in order to consult with them on the best methods to meet the popular movement, and while a constitution had not been granted, even on paper, the powerful mullahs were pressing the advantage they had already gained and were hopeful of attaining their ends. It is understood that the advisors whom the Shah summoned from Europe urged a the Shah summoned from Europe urged a progressive policy, and the Babists, a strong sect of Mohammedans; exerted strong pressure in the same direction. The question of the official establishment of a representative assembly was thoroughly described as a second of the official establishment of a representative assembly was thoroughly described. oughly discussed, and the Grand Vigler was charged with the task of formulating the plans.

The Shuh, in a rescript address to the Grand Vizier, laid down as a cardinal principle under the new ideals of goverament the equality of all persons before the law, regardless of rank or influence. It was also contemplated to establish representative assemblies or "houses of justice," of a local charac-ter in the larger cities of Persia with a view to checking the venality and rapaciousness of the local officials.

Italy Proposes to Reduce Army.

ROME, July 13.—Italy has proposed a vital reduction in the fighting strength of herself and her sister powers, Great Britain and France, and these nations have, it is said, entertained the project favorably. Signer Tittoni, the Minister of Foreign Affairs of Italy, who has been in London and Paris, holding conferences. ration of Danish, Swedish and Norwegian grain importers is coming to Germany to discuss measures for common action regarding American grain alleged to be improperly graded. The Scandinavian importers recently adopted the policy recommended by the Congress of German Chambers of Commerce in 1996 of buying American corn only according to the so-called rye terms contract, which makes the American seller responsible for delivery in merchantable condition at the European port. It is said that the ing from her effective force 60,000 men.

Japan Says Door Is Wide Open. Washington, July 12.—Complaints which have been made recently against the supposed discrimination on the part of the Japanese military authorities in Manchuria in favor of Japanese subjects in allowing them trade advantages denied to merchants from other countries were answered today in a statement by Counsellor Miyakoa, now in charge of the Japanese Embassy here. He declares that the Japanese are only profiting by natural advantages, and that the policy of the open door will be strictly observed.

FEMALE NEMESIS APPEARS

Girl Who Has Suits Pending Against Him for Assault Testifies-Insanity Plea Is Abandoned, to Thaw's Great Joy.

NEW YORK, July 13.-Harry K. Thaw in the Tombs for the murder of Stanford White, is reported to be without funds, and it is stated that the elaborate plans which have been made for his defense cannot be put into execution until the prisoner's mother, Mrs. William Thaw. of Pittsburg, arrives from Europe and approves the necessary expenditures. What money the young man has had since he has been in jail has been supplied personally by his counsel, pending the arrival of Mrs. William Thaw.

New Witness Against Thaw.

life of Thaw in all the phases that may have a bearing upon his trial, Assistant District Atterney Garvan had an Interview today with Joseph A. Shea, a lawyer of 396 Broadway, and obtained papers in a case in which Shea is counsel for a Miss Ethel Thomas, who has several suits pending against the prisoner. The suits grew out of alleged former relations existing between Thaw and Miss Thomas. One specific charge is that of assault, for which the plaintiff asks $30,000 damages. While the suits have been pending some time, it is said, the subject matter is of such an intimate nature that it has never been published.

ompanied by Assistants Garvan and Van Diver, leave tomorrow for a short trip

It was reported today that Thaw's counsel have decided to abandon the in-sanity plea, although no verification of the statement could be obtained. It was said that this was the good news Mrs. Evelyn Negbit Thaw took to her husband in the Tombs yesterday. Thaw is reported to have said that he preferred death in the electric chair to life in an insane asylum. He prefers to have his acts judged as those of a sane man, and is confident that he will not be convicted.

THEY GLOAT OVER HER MISERY

Mrs. Thaw's Bitter Complaint of "Rubbernecks" Around Prison.

NEW YORK, July 13 .- Mrs. Harry Thaw, after her visit to her husband today, had great difficulty in making her way from the doorway of the Tombs prison to her cab. There was a large crowd at the doorway waiting to see her, and the extra policemen who are on guard daily at the time of her visit were almost swept off their feet as the crowd surged forward. One woman selred Mrs. Thaw's veil and attempted to raise it to get a glimpse of the young woman's face.
