age to the English hop crop has a flurry in the hop market here. Con price was reported from various parts of Valley yesterday. Nothing higher than ents was announced during the day, but opinion was freely expressed that the Lachmund & Co., of Salem, ought the Major and Jacobsen crops in Aneny Bottom at that price, and the Salem erent of Klaber was also reported to have id 12 cents, but this was not confirmed at Klaber's local office. Buyers around Woodburn have been offering this price and word was received from McMinnville that 12 cents is in a bad way. Vermin, according to all reports, are multiplying, and repeated spraying does not check the cvil. Various estiintee are made of the size of the coming English crop, ranging from 500,000 cwt. down-ward. What is of equal importance from a market standpoint is the news received from many that the Continental crop will also be less than first catimated. Vermin and weather have caused the damage there-

The New York crop, according to most of information at band, will be less than ast year's. On the Pacific Coast, everything orable, fortunately, for the growers, in probable that the three Coast states will not dicted a short time ago, yet humper crops are luce more hops than can be cared for and for this reseon many dealers are making their estimates on the picking capacity rather than

LEMON SUPPLY GIVES OUT. Delay in Trains Causes Famine in Local Market.

The delayed trains yesterday caused a famof lemons in the market and stocks were lieved somewhat late in the afternoon on the arrival of the San Francisco steamer, which brought up a small supply. There should be plenty of lemons on hand today, as four or five cars were due last night. Two cars of mixed fruit, peaches, plums, apples and pears, reached the market yesterday and sold well. straight car of apricots is due from Wenatches today. Blackberries have begun arriving from Dillard. Logan berries have become scarce.

Cabbage has become scarce on Front street, as local gardeners' stock is nearly exhausted. A car of California cabbage is on the way quantity of celery arrived on the San Francisco steamer. Two cars of California onlons will be in on hand this morning.

Clark County Prune Crop Immense. A Portland man who visited the prune disof Clark County, Washington, yesterhusy building new drying houses or additions to the old ones. Unskilled inborers were being given work at $2.50 a day and board. The ards never looked better than they do now, and even if there should be no more rain, the crop will be a phenomenal one. The only damage that could come now would be from rain in the drying season.

The number of shares deaft in was somewhat in excess of the total of hast Thiesday, which made the low record for the present year, but the character of the trading otherwise was much the same. Professional board-room traders openly expressed skupptions of the stability of the higher level on the ground that covering of shorts was wholly responsible for the rise and the reduction of the short interest leasened the potential support of the market at every step of the advance. It was only with the most extreme caution that purchases

Western Growers Disposed to Accept Fair Prices for Their Clip. Fine Pulled Grades in Demand.

BOSTON, July 17.—The improved conditions shown in the wool market are a distinct encouragement to the trade. A hopeful symptom is the disposition by the Western woolgrowers to accept fair prices for their clip. The finer grades of pulled wools are in best demand and a fair business is being done.
