IRVINGTON PEOPLE OPPOSE ERECTION OF CITY BARN.

Steps Taken at Indignation Meeting Last Night to Carry Fight Into the Courts.

last evening in the open air at East Sev-Holladay Addition and Irvington over the proposed erection of city barns in that neighborhood. About 50 representative citizens were present. D. G. Thomasini was elected chairman and J. A. Patterson secretary. The statement was made that the city had purchased the proper-ty unknown to the citizens of that local-ity, and had gone ahead with the foundatrary to a city ordinance.

The lots at the corner of East Seventh by the property-owners had been ignored.

Patterson were appointed a committee to secure the services of an attorney, the object being to ascertain if an injunction against the erection of the city barn on its present location be advisable. If this is advised the proceedings will be started at once to injoin the construction of the barn.

A city ordinance provides that an advisable are a construction of the barn.

A city ordinance provides that no stable containing more than six stalls shall be erected without the written consent of all property-owners within 20 feet of such structure. A property-owner on the opposite corner was recently refused a permit for a stable on this ground, and G. Tomasini was made chairman with authority to name his assistants, and this committee will get to work at once. E. J. McKittrick was made assistant solicitor. The sum of $100 was collected on city should be no exception to its laws.

LONE ROBBER SECURES CASH-DRAWER CONTENTS.

Thomas Ellerby Turns to Serve Supposed Customer and Faces Ugly Revolver.

Turning to give his customer a glass of beer Thomas Ellerby, proprietor and bartender of the Ellerby saloon Third and Columbia streets, looked into the barrel of a highwayman's revolver at midnight, and was compelled at the muzzle of the gun to deliver the contents of the cash drawer, amounting to between $10 and $15.

Just before making up the day's receipts the highwayman, who from his description is thought to be the one who held up a saloon at First and Mill streets a week ago, entered the place and asked for beer. turned to draw the liquor and while his back was turned the highwayman drew a revolver. On turning to put the glass on the bar Ellerby looked the glass on the bar Ellerby looked into the revolver barrel and threw up his hands without orders. The high-wayman asked for the money in the till and it was given him quickly. Ordering the battender to retreat and placing his hands against the wall with his back turned, the highwayman backed out of the swinging doors and disappeared.

Ellerby notified the police and Policeman Wendorf was sent to the saloon. The highwayman is thought to be an Italian who lives in the neighborhood. In holding up the saloon at First and Mill streets the same performance as that of last night was gone through with, and the description tailies exactly with that of the man who did the former job.

NEWBERG, Or., July 17.—(Special.)—
The first conviction for violation of the local option law in Yamhill County was scored here today, when a jury, composed of George Sykes, O. K. Edwards, Delano Estle, J. C. Clemenson, W. R. Scott and J. C. McCrea, found Ed Kinney guilty of selling to Mr. Egland a bottle of beer and a flask of whisky.

The case was tried before R. B. Linnville, Justice of the Peace, with Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Raswell Conner, of McMinnville, and Clarence Butt, of Newberg, representing the state. Kinney was
