how many natives were killed. At that time Pastor was known to have 300 natives in his party.

TERMS OF PEACE TREATY

Central America to Settle Down. America and Mexico as Mediators.

SAN SALVADOR, Sunday, July 22.

The conference board the United States cruiser Marblehead was conducted under the honorary presidency of William L. Merry, American Minister to Nicaragua, Costa Rica and San Salvador; the American Minister to Guatemala and Honduras, Leslie Combs, and the Mexican Minister to Guatemala, Gambon. After the exchange of credentials there was a long deliberation on the object of the conference, and the terms of the treaty, and then the treaty was signed. The principal clauses are as follows:

First—Salvador and Honduras return to a state of peace with Guatemala, forgetting past differences. Therefore they will concentrate their armies of disarmament within eight days from the date of the signing of the treaty, leaving only the troops previously stationed in the various garrison towns and the firing columns required for police service.

Second—The contracting governments will reciprocally deliver up the prisoners of war and take care of the contracting of the wounded in their respective territories who are unable to return to their homes. All political prisoners will also be immediately released, and each delegation will recommend to its government the issuance of a decree of amnesty as soon as possible.

Third—The high contracting parties agree to concentrate all the political refugees now in their respective territories or who may hereafter enter their respective territories and likewise to watch their conduct so as to prevent them from abusing the right of asylum in conspiracy against the order and tranquility of the country from which they emigrated.

Fourth—Within two months of the date of the signing of the treaty the contracting parties will sign a general treaty of peace, friendship and commerce, etc. The capital of Costa Rica is designated as the place for the fully authorized representatives of the three representatives to meet. Any further possible differences are to be submitted to the arbitration of the Presidents of the United States and Mexico.
