Woman Contradicts Hartje About His Illicit Amours—Madine Says Letters Were Never in Trunk.

Trunk-Robbers Arrested.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 1.—Just before the adjournment of the Hartje divorce trial today, Fred Long, a newspaper reporter, was called by the stand by John Freeman, of counsel for Mrs. Hartje. Long testified that John Marron, of Hartje's counsel, told him in February of a number of letters in the possession of the Hartje lawyers. This was several months before Fisher, Hartje's brother-in-law, said he had told counsel of the existence of the letters some months before the time when detectives said they broke open Madine's trunk and took the letters, which was in June.

John Marron became angered at Long's testimony and threatened him with violence after court adjourned. Madine is expected to go on the stand tomorrow.

Directly Contradicts Hartje.

Alma Ross, the mysterious "blonde" who kept a lodging-house, swore that Augustus Hartje and Josephine Wright frequently met at a room in her house; that the Wright woman brought him there and introduced him to Josephine in the house at which he was living was too public and too close to the Hartje warehouse. The Ross woman said Hartje paid Josephine Wright rent for Courthouse.

Hartje several days ago swore that he did not know Josephine Wright and never visited her. The Wright woman swore that she did not know Hartje until after when Hartje's attorneys were introducing evidence in rebuttal.

Denies Letters Were in Trunk.

The issue as to the disputed love letters was defined today when Tom Madine, the chairman, who is named as co-respondent, swore that the letters were in his private trunk and were taken from his trunk were never in that receptacle.

Mrs. Hartje swore she wrote only two letters to Augustus Wagner, and denied telling Blanche Ashby that testimony she would give or promising that woman $300 to testify in her favor.

Trunk-Robbers Were Arrested.

Detectives Staubb and John A. Anderson, who testified that they took the "love letters" from Tom Madine's trunk, were arrested at the Courthouse on information sworn out by Madine charging them with entering a building with intent to commit a felony and larceny. They were later released on bonds of $300 each, furnished by Edward Hartje, a brother of Augustus Hartje.

Employers' New Device Against the Forgery of Pay Checks.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—(Special.)—Officials of the paymasters departments of steel and iron companies and other large industries where large numbers of foreigners are employed in and about Chicago, are considering the installation of the finger-print system of pay checks. Instead of making his mark on the payroll, the employe, if he cannot sign his name, will leave the impression of his thumb as his receipt.

The Illinois Steel Company, it is understood, was the first large Chicago concern to investigate the new method, after the forgery of several thousand dollars worth of its paychecks several months ago.

"When the employe's thumb-mark is required on each paycheck, forgery will be made impossible. An ordinary rubber stamp pad is used. The thumb is inked and pressed firmly upon a card with the man's name for reference.
