Yesterday morning Sythe was wanted in Judge Cameron's court as a witness in a gambling case. He was not on hand, and the Judge sent Acting Detective Smith out to look for him. The officer found that Sythe had taken a job at the new Wells-Fargo building, under construction at Sixth aand Stark streets. Hurrying to that place he asked for Sythe. Eloquent St. Johns Councilman Loses Reputation for Oratory Ba-cause Words Fall in Midst of Per-

"WHAT is a simoleon?"
That is the rock of That is the rock on which the oratorical ship of Councilman Norton, of the St. John's Council, was splintered. Councilman Norton has been considered the orator of the St. Johns Council. When any great subject was pending and great thoughts and great words were needed, Councilman Norton was the one meeded, Councilman Norton was the one man in the Council who could easily rise to the occasion, yes, even above the occasion. The other members of the Council and the spectators usually hung on his "silvery words" with breathless, intense interest; but all this is past and gone forever. The moment Councilman Norton declared his ignorance of the nature and meaning of the word simoleon, his reputation was gone.

The cause of his undoing was the fact Take advantage of the two-day $2.50 round-trip excursion rate offered by the A. & C. R. R. to Seaside and spend Saturday and Sunday at the beach. Ample accommodations at reasonable rates for all. Tickets at 348 Alder street and the Union Depot ticket office.

that an evening paper remarked in the course of an article on the franchise of the Pacific Telephone Company, that the company "would get the franchise without glving a simpleon for it." The orator was quoting the article and had sasy sailing until he came to the word "simpleon."

"simoleon."

"Think of that, gentlemen! We are not to get a simoleon!" exclaimed Councilman Norton, "when we need a simoleon to make St. Johns a great city. A simoleon, my fellow councilmen, is what we need. A simoleon, a simole—is—a si—is something—."

Here Councilman Norton paused, and wiped the perspiration from his noble brow. Isakson's Proposal to Drop Suit Will Be Fought.

MAYOR LANE UNWILLING Recorder Thorndyke, seeing that the Councilman was in deep distress, came o his rescue. Being a newspaper man, he knew what a simoleon is, and put the orator right, but the information came too late to save Councilman Norton's reputation, and the laugh that went around squelched aby further oratorical City Executive Declares Judge Frazer's Decision Should Be Taken to Supreme Court and Settled for All Time.

A page advertisement in yesterday's issue of The Oregonian announced a great "rummage sale" at the corner of Third and Yamhili streets, the big store occupied by the enterprising Golden Eagle Dry Goods Company. Through error the name of the firm was omitted, but this did not seem to affect the attendance, as, preme Court anyway."

The Civil Service Commission heard the appeal of Isakson yesterday and took the case under advisement. W. M.
