GIVE MISSIONARY ENTERTAINMENT—At the home of H. S. Harcourt, in Kenilworth, the Hope Missionary Society, a band of more than 40 young people, devoted to missionary work, gave a pleasing entertainment on the ground Wednesday evening. The society is supporting and educating a Hindu girl who is studying to become a medical missionary in India. Besides supporting this girl, the society is raising money enough to buy a sewing machine for the mission field in which it is interested. The programme was given in the open air on a platform well lighted and was varied. The singing was of the best. The tableaux were effective. Bishop J. M. Thoburn, in a short talk, strongly commended the efforts of the children. He said that when he went to India over 47 years ago women were not thought able to learn anything and were not given an education, but all this had been changed, and several large schools for girls had been established in India. He gave a talk full of information and interest.

WAY AMERICAN GINSENG—The boycott against American goods in China is practically a thing of the past. No official notice has ever been given that it has been called off, but the taboo seems to be dying a natural death. Where the Chinese merchant sees an opportunity to benefit himself by purchasing in this country, he forgets the boycott and buys all he wants. A copy of the Daily Consular and Trade Reports issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor was received at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. It states that ginseng, which is grown to advantage in Oregon, is wanted by Chinese merchants in their native land for importation into the United States. The article says, further, that these merchants want to buy ginseng in America to avoid a monopoly at Hongkong.

THEY FOR PIPE CONNECTIONS—The eight-inch water main is being put down on East Burnside street, and it is desired that all pipe connections be made at once, so the hard surface pavement can be put down. None of the service water pipes on East Burnside street have been connected with the main, and all being connected with mains on side streets, but these are small, so that those who want better pressure can connect with the new main at once. The paving of the street is now being held up until the main is down and all connections are made.

FORGET GROVE MAN MISSING—R. M. Biesse, of Forest Grove, is missing. His wife appeared at police headquarters last night and told Captain Slover that she feared something had happened to him. PORTLAND CAMPERS SAFE

Mrs. R. R. Hoge Receives Message From Husband's Party.

The party of Portland campers headed by R. R. Hoge, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is safe from the forest fires which have been raging in the vicinity of Detroit on the Santiam canyon. Mrs. Hoge received a telegram from her husband yesterday. The party is camped at Marion Lake and in case the fire should become dangerous they have made ample arrangements to escape. A huge raft has been constructed and is kept in the water near the camp. A large boat is also moored nearby as a precautionary measure in case the fire should spread to the timber in that vicinity. At last accounts the fire was nearly 20 miles away.

A party of young college boys from this city, headed by Henry Mears, son of S. M. Mears, has joined the Portland campers at Marion Lake. The boys were camped in the mountains, and with the reports of the rapidly-traveling forest fires moved their headquarters to the lake. There are a number of other Portlanders spending their vacations in that vicinity, but according to advices received all are safe and enjoying themselves in spite of the fires in the surrounding mountains.

The Hoge party consists of R. R. Hoge, Edmond C. Giltner, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Giltner, Miss Alice Sansbury, L. K. Adams and a Detroit friend.

FROM WAITER'S VIEWPOINT

Says Patrons of Expensive Restaurants Prefer Tip System.

Walters desires to know whether the tipping or the "knock-down" system is preferable to customers who dine in high-class or popular-price restaurants. An emissary of the waiter said yesterday that patrons of high-class restaurants preferred to give tips for good service rather than to be served in a careless way by those who were working for a regular wage and did not care whether customers were pleased or not. He said that in the high-class places salaries were not more than $20 or $30 a month, and that while waiters in high-class establishments received tips, those in the cheaper cafes made their extra money by overcharging customers and dividing the receipts. A patron, he said, who was given good service expected to give the waiter something for his trouble, the average tip being about 10 per cent of the price of the meal.

SURRENDERS TO POLICE

Ernest Vannucci Admits That He Assaulted Thomas Antonelli.

The assaultant of Thomas Antonelli, a member of D'Urbano's band, who was the cause of a disagreement between Captain of Detectives Griffin and Attorney Harry Yanckwitz, voluntarily gave himself up to the police yesterday afternoon and was booked on charges of assaulting Antonelli. The man who attacked Antonelli is Ernest Vannucci, also an Italian, 23 years old and a merchant in this city. Vannucci declares he will have some startling disclosures to make today, which will place Mr. Antonelli in a hot water. Vannucci declares Antonelli ruined his home and his business, and that the thrashing he got was only a result of the service he rendered. The trial will come up this morning in Judge Cameron's Court.

SANTA FE BUYS TIE FARM

Eucalyptus Trees Are to Be Planted to Provide for Future Needs.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 16.—By a deal closed today the Santa Fe Railroad became the owner of the famous San Diego tract, just north of the city, comprising 850 acres of land. The deal was $100,000. The ranch is to be used to raise eucalyptus trees for fuel for the future use of the road. It is planned to plant about 600 acres each year, and as the trees are quick growers it is figured that in 20 years the road will be able to harvest six to eight million cords of wood. The harvest thereafter continually.

Police men were summoned by the young woman's irate mother and discovered that Antonson had been drinking. He also found a revolver in the young man's hip pocket and, fearing that the weapon might explode, he caused him to be locked up on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

ENTERS A PROTEST

Brooklyn Republican Club Condemns O. R. & N. Franchise.

FREE GIFT IS OPPOSED

Property-Owners on Division Street Object to Loaded Wagons Standing in Thoroughfare—Favor Purchase of Hawthorne.

Whereas, There is pending before the Council an ordinance which confers a franchise practically free upon the O. R. & N. Co., and without adequate compensation to the City of Portland, on East Third street; and

Whereas, This is a public matter in which the whole city is interested, and not the abutting property-owners exclusively; therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Brooklyn Republican Club that the pending franchise should not be granted, and that an ordinance be granted on East Third street without ample compensation being paid to Portland for the same.

The Brooklyn Republican Club at a meeting in Hancock's Hall last night, L. E. Dause presiding, took up the question of the East Third-street franchise, now pending before the Council. M. G. Griffin took the initiative. He declared the ordinance in its present form should not be passed; that it gave to the O. R. & N. Co. a franchise of great value without adequate return to the city. He practically a free franchise upon the company, the abutting property-owners only receiving compensation through a fill that will greatly enhance the value of their property, while the city receives only a nominal compensation.

After general discussion the resolution, printed elsewhere in this column, was adopted by the club.

In the matter of obstruction of streets, property-owners on Division street between Union avenue and the river, made a protest against the parking every night of 20 slabwood wagons in this street. They have just improved this street and they want it kept clear of wagons. The wagons belong to the Banfield-Yeager Company.

G. W. Prosser reported that when the matter was taken up with M. C. Banfield he told them, "If you don't like the situation here you can ask for his resignation. It was reported to the club that repeated efforts had been made to get the street cleared. An arrest had been made, but Judge Cameron had not acted in the matter, and had entered into an arrangement with Mr. Banfield to keep the wagons of Division street Saturday and Sunday nights.

This, the property-owners declared, was not sufficient and they want Division and other streets kept clear. A resolution was passed directing the president and secretary to ask the city engineer to enforce the ordinance regarding obstructing these streets.

A resolution was passed favoring the submission to a vote of the people at the next general election of the proposition to purchase Hawthorne Park.

M. G. Griffin introduced a resolution favoring the changing of the charter by giving the Council the right to improve a street and lay sidewalks when it is deemed necessary. Mr. Griffin pointed out many cases in which the property-owners had been able to obstruct improvements where the people wanted them to go forward. The resolution was adopted.

It was decided to hold a public meeting in celebration of the new fire engine-house now being built, and the letting of the contract for the Brooklyn sewer. M. G. Griffin is chairman of the committee of arrangements for this celebration.

CIRCUS COMES NEXT WEEK

Forepaugh-Sells Show Will Be Seen Here Monday and Tuesday.

Monday and Tuesday next will be Portland's circus days and if there is a man, woman or child who is not down Monday morning to see the Forepaugh-Sells Forepaugh-Sells parade it will be because that particular individual cannot come. Circus day is for the young, the old and the middle-aged, but all the good, old-fashioned, time-worn and stable qualities of the best is that which deals with the father who has to go to the circus to take the children, and there are fathers foolish enough to try to fool their neighbors with the fraud about going to the circus purely to please the children.

The more candid frankly admit that they go to please themselves. For love of the circus is born; it lasts while life lasts; they have enjoyed it since the days when they used to carry water to the elephants or crawl under the tents to see the marvelous shows of their youth, and catch the circus fever today as they did then, even if they don't gaze with the same open-mouthed wonder that they did in their youth.

Circus day is always an event and it always will be. There is something about this sort of entertainment that is different from any other sort of diversion. Perhaps it is the wide diversity of skill shown by the performers; perhaps it is the noise and the thrills and the frank aggregation of the sidewalk splendors; more likely it is a little of all; but whatever it is, there is a fascination that catches the imagination of the youth and stays with him through life, and to the red-blooded citizens circus day is, and always will be, an event.

The street parade, which leaves the circus lot at 10 o'clock Monday morning will, it is promised, be of an unusually attractive character. The management of Forepaugh-Sells have, it is said, been

Going To College? WHY WE ASK

IF YOU ARE ABOUT TO CHOOSE a college in which to pursue your studies, an instructive booklet entitled "To Seekers of Higher Education" may be helpful to you. The articles in it are written by alumni and students of Pacific University. Of especial interest is the one by H. W. Scott, editor-in-chief, Morning Oregonian, and Pacific's first alumnus, the substance of which may be summed up in one sentence:

"SMALL COLLEGES AT HOME ARE BEST"

Pacific University is a private collegiate institution with large endowment and excellent equipment. It is co-educational, nonsectarian and one of the oldest schools of Higher Education on the Pacific Coast. Its courses are of the highest standard and everywhere recognized as such. The preparatory department passes students to best Eastern Colleges. The Conservatory of Art and Music is favorably known in Oregon. The library contains more than 15,000 volumes. An estimate of the average necessary expenses for a college year, hours of instruction, tuition moderate, living expenses low.

Pacific University is located at Forest Grove, a town of natural beauty, 25 miles west of Portland (on the Southern Railway). Of especial interest is the one by H. W. Scott, editor-in-chief, Morning Oregonian, and Pacific's first alumnus, the substance of which may be summed up in one sentence:

"Opportunity treads upon the heels of achievement."

Make ready for success—young man and young woman—by equipping yourself with the knowledge and skill which not only deserve success but which accomplish it, in spite of obstacles.

The Holmes Business College has contributed this to the success of hundreds of young men and women: careful, intelligent, painstaking training to develop the qualities and knowledge demanded by modern business methods, and then, after graduation, lending them every assistance in securing positions offering opportunities for advancement.

We are proud of the immense file of letters received from our students who graduated ten, fifteen or twenty years ago. They all ring with a tone of "achievement" of "success." Almost every one attributes his success to method, habits and knowledge acquired at the Holmes Business College. You are at liberty to read as many of them as you please.
