STAND-PATTERS

Determined to Defeat Every Republican Nominee to Congress From lowa.

DEMANDING A NEW DEAL

Propose to Make Horrible Examples of Party Members Whose Views Are Similar to Those of Governor Cummins.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Wash ington, Aug. 19.-The "stand-patters" it lowa propose to knife practically the en tire delegation in Congress and defeat the Republican nominee for Governor this year, if they can do so. They are and are demanding a new deal, And yet all this comes on top of a con-

And yet all this comes on top of a convention which adopted a tariff plank in its platform which was claimed to be a "stand-patt" victory.

The "stand-patters" alleged they had made Cummins surrender, and yet when Cummins prepares to go into the campaign on a platform which these same stand-patters claim to have written, they declare their intention of kulfing the ticket and defeating almost every nomiticket and defeating almost every nominee for Congress.

The "stand-patters" of lows are the Shaw people. They claim to dominate the state, and yet, in face of this claim, they propose to go to the polls and de-feat practically the entire Republican ticket. This crowd does not like a sin-gle member of the Congressional delega-

Allison Is in Disfavor.

They do not like Senator Allison berause he would not write a letter and declare himself an out-and-out "stand-patter." They do not like Senator Dolliver because he straddled. They look upon most of their Congressmen as weaklings on the tariff question, and propose to elect Democrats in their place, "just to show the strength of the 'stand-pat-

In other words, they propose to elect to Congress men who would vote for tariff revision in a minute, simply to make horrible examples of a few Republicans who have tariff views that coincide with those of Governor Cummins. And yet, after all their boast, some of the strongest men in the "stand-pat" camp admit that Cummins will be reclected, and believe that the Republican delegation in Congress will be returned. delegation in Congress will be returned. This strange attitude naturally raises the question. Who is the most consistent protectionist, Cummins or Shaw? Cummins favors a revision of the tariff by its friends; Shaw favors a policy that is bound in time to result in the election of a President and a Congress that will not revise, but will destroy the protective

ASPIRE TO THE GOVERNORSHIP

Jerome and Hearst Will Fight It Out at the Polls.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Wash ington, Aug. 19.—Two Democratic aspir-ants for the Governorship of New York are hoping to secure the nomination at the regular Democratic State Convention next month, and each stands ready, if the other is nominated, to run as an independent candidate. One is William R. Hearst, the other William Travers Jerome. Jerome has not declared himself as yet, but his closest friends have said that he will run, and have pointed out that he is virtually forced into the race in order to protect himself. There are no two men in the State of New York who entertain as much hatred New York who entertain as much hatred toward each other as Hearst and Jerome Jerome has made it hot for some of Hearst's friends and has falled to get after some of his enemies. Hearst, through his papers, has lost no opportunity to lambast Jerome. Jerome has to fight to save himself, and in saving himself, the most defeat, theory, there's hearst hearst hearst hearst. self he must defeat Hearst. Hearst, to win, must down Jerome, and there is prospect that each will kill off the other. eaving a comparatively clear field for the Republican candidate. With Hearst and Jerome in the field rammany will divide, but Jerome will probably get the stronger faction. Prominent among Jerome's political allies would be Mayor McClellan, of New York, who beat Hearat for the Mayoralty at the election last year: Big Tim Sullivan and Senator Pat McCarren, all powers in Greater New York, and each controlling a vast number of votes in his own right. Hearst is atrong in Greater New York, regardless of Tammany. That is a field where he has worked long and falthfully to capture the labor vote, and he would appliedly get as many votes in Greater probably get as many votes in Greater New York as Jerome. In a three-cornered New York as Jerome. In a three-cornered fight between Hearst, Jerome and some strong Republican candidate it would be quite within the bounds of possibility for the Republican to carry New York City.

Jerome would appeal to a class in New York State would not take to Hearst, should he be the regular Democratic nomines. Many such voters would support Jerome, even though they believed two votes against Hearst, provided the Republicans name a strong man, and one likely to win as against Jerome and Hearst.

Altogether there is opportunity for a lot of shrewd politics in New York State this year, and it promises to be a fight conducted by the younger element. The old bosses of both partles appear to have fallen behind the procession, and the plan of campaign seems to be in the hands of young men who have heretofore acted in a minor capacity in the notable state annealized.

This campaigns.

This campaign probably marks the passing of a lot of old ringleaders—Depew, Platt and Odell on the Republican side, and some of the cast-off Tammanyites on the other—though, for the most part, the Democrats have already unloaded their local and are today following the deadwood and are today following the leadership of younger and more vigorous

When Carriage Appears on Streets Bombs Are Hurled at It.

WARSAW, Aug. 19.-The revolutionists who Sunday attempted to assassinate the Governor-General adopted a stratagem to induce him to leave the palace. A few days ago a revolutionist, disguised as an officer, appeared at the German Consulate, quarreled with the Vice-Consul and boxed his ears. Owing to this incident the Governor General was compelled to visit the Vice-Consul and offer an apology,

Meanwhile the revolutionists had rented a flat near the Vice-Consul's residence, and when the Governor-General's car-riage appeared they threw bombs at it. The police having been informed that a light-haired girl threw the bombs, ar-rested all the light-haired girls in the neighborhood. Nevertheless the miscreant was not captured.

Fast Freight Runs Down Work Train in Pennsylvania.

RAIN BLINDS THE ENGINEER

Some of Workmen Are Not Wakened by Death Blow, Others Lie Moaning in Pain on the Ground.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 19.—Plung-ing through a blinding rain storm at the rate of 45 miles an hour, early today, a fast freight train on the Pann-sylvania Rallroad crashed into a slow-ly moving work train at Sang Hollow, killing seven and seriously injuring seven others of the work train crew.

Three of the latter probably will die.

The work train had stopped to take water. The freight was following and because of the rain the engineer was unable to see the work train until just before the crash. The freight engine plowed its way through the work train. All of those on the work train were asleep and the killed probably never knew what happened.

According to reports, Engineer S. N. Woods, of the freight train, had increased the speed of his train and had exceeded his orders. He jumped and was fatally hurt.

Some of the injured who had been thrown from their berths to the side of the train were crying and moaning on the ground. One man lay by the side of the train were crying and moaning on the ground. One man lay by the side of the train badly crushed and kept crying feebly for his wife and child. The engine lay on its side, beiching streams of hot water and clouds of steam, which enveloped several of the injured men on the ground. With all haste the wreckage was lifted away from the injured men. One of these, a one-legged man, was pinned under a timber from the derrick and terribly crushed. Calling one of the wreckers to him, he said:

"For God's sake, kill me and put me out of my misery. I can't live, anyway. Please don't tell my wife I am out of my misery. I can't live, anyway. Please don't tell my wife I am hurt. She is away on her vacation, and it would be a shame for me to spoil things for her."
