

READY TOO MUCH FOR THE BEAVERS

Pugilist - Pitcher Arrests the Proud Career of Pennant-Grabbers.

PORTLAND UNABLE TO HIT

Commuters Take Advantage of Cal-liff's Off Day and Make the Bases Look Like a Merry-Go-Round.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Results.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Oakland 6, Portland 0.	1	0	1
Seattle 5, Fresno 4.	1	0	1
San Francisco 4, Los Angeles 4.	0	0	0
Standing of the Clubs.	W.	L.	P.C.
Portland	10	34	.293
San Francisco	20	14	.588
Los Angeles	20	11	.645
Seattle	16	22	.420
Oakland	12	28	.300
Fresno	11	29	.273

Bill Reidy, who knows as much about the art of bluff, bang and side-stepping as he does about elusive curves and slow ones, hunched the Indian sign on those pen-nant-grabbers of ours yesterday. The clever ex-leaguer sent them back to their tea and desert runnels, while the so-journers from what was formerly known as San Francisco's bedroom, chased seven runs over the spot that made Lou Mahaffey yell, "You're safe."

It's a long cry from Cinnabar Springs to the ball park, and those Portland run-chasers should have been more considerate than to put up such a flatless exhibition when such a distinguished visitor was present. Calliff must have been thrown into a fit when he caught sight of the whisks which the man wore. Either this or some one must have stepped on the Oregon City lad's foot. The only thing he exhibited in the pitching line was his toe plate, and that not being in the way of the Commuters, Van Halteren's crew passed it up and took a special delight in pelting Calliff's curves into spots where the Giants weren't.

While Calliff was unsteady, old Bill Reidy teased McCredie's sluggers with his slow ones and took up his fast ones, so that what few wrappings the Giants were able to jam into safe territory were scattered like a Klonicker's gold after he has hit God's country. To help Reidy, not that he needed it, Portland threw a session of bone head into one inning, and it gave the visitors one more run than they were entitled to.

The put-ups did not blacken the grandstand or the land of bleach, so the fact that only a few witnessed Oakland in the act of really winning a game helped take off the sting of Oakland's shrewd Hackett around the circuit in the second inning. That was because Blais stole second and pilfered his way home on a squeeze play. The next time the put-ups were executed successfully. Hackett did his own running this time, and was safe when Haley dumped one down towards first.

In the fifth, sixth and seventh innings Oakland chased home their runs in couples. When the curtain fell on the seventh and seven runs were marked up for the Commuters the fans who were off, and they began rooting for Oakland.

Pete Lister was the bright and shining star for the homers. Twice he took a journey into the smoky atmosphere, dug his digits into balls that had a time order for the bleachers, and as he came down he speared the runners. McElie also came in for a clever catch or two; so did Mike McElie, the score:

AB.	R.	B.	P.	O.	A.	E.
McElie, cf.	4	0	1	0	1	1
Smith, 1b.	3	0	0	0	0	0
Mitchell, rf.	3	0	0	0	0	0
McCredie, 2b.	3	0	0	0	0	0
Smith, 3b.	3	0	0	0	0	0
Moore, 2b.	3	0	0	0	0	0
Donahue, c.	3	0	0	0	0	0
Lister, 1b.	3	0	0	0	0	0
Calliff, p.	3	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	28	0	5	27	15	3

OAKLAND.
AB. R. B. P. O. A. E.
Smith, cf. 4 0 0 0 0 0
Kraus, 1b. 3 0 0 0 0 0
Helmuth, 1b. 4 1 2 12 1 0
Hackett, 2b. 4 0 0 0 0 0
Dreweck, 3b. 4 0 0 0 0 0
Haley, 2b. 4 1 0 3 4 0
Frasia, 1b. 3 0 0 0 0 0
Reidy, p. 3 0 0 0 0 0
Totals 31 7 27 14 1

SCORE BY INNINGS.
Portland 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Oakland 0 1 0 2 2 1 0 0 0
Hits 1 0 0 2 2 1 0 0 0
Errors 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Struck out by: Reidy 2, by Calliff 1. Bases on balls—Off Calliff 4, off Reidy 1. Two-base hits—Helmuth (2). Double plays—McElie to Donahue and Smith to Fraisia. Sacrifice hits—Van Halteren, Sweeney, Devereaux, Kruger, Hackett. Stolen bases—Donahue, Kruger, Hackett. Wild pitches—Calliff. Left on bases—Oakland 7, Portland 5. Time of game—1 hour, 53 minutes. Umpire—Mahaney.

Seattle Wins in the Eighth.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Seattle won in the eighth inning when four hits netted three runs. The score:

R.H.E.	R.H.E.
Seattle 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 1	Fresno 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 1
Batteries—Jones and Blankenship; Hall and Dashedow.	Umpire—Fertine.

Angels Fall Through Errors.
OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 21.—Costly errors lost the game for Los Angeles. The score:

R.H.E.	R.H.E.
Los Angeles 4 6 3 0 0 0 0 0 1	Batteries—Nagle and Mangarino; Simons and Wilson.
Umpire—Hodson.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Pittsburg 8, Brooklyn 7.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 21.—With the score 7 to 1 against them, the Pittsburg tied the score in the ninth inning and won out in the tenth. It was the most sensational finish of the season. Strickland was effective up to the ninth inning, when Pittsburg made six hits and scored six runs. Score:

R.H.E.	R.H.E.
Pittsburg 8 15 1 Brooklyn 7 7 3	Batteries—Leifeld, Philippi and Phipps; Strickland, McIntyre, Bergen and Ritter.
Umpire—Emble.

Chicago 4, New York 2.
CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—The leaders again defeated New York today, making it three out of four in the series. Brown and Ames pitched about equally as to the number of hits, but the latter by giving four passes forced in Chicago's tying run in the sixth and was hit for a single, a double and a three-bagger in the seventh, which, with a sacrifice, scored three runs. Slagle was the star of the day, making two sensational catches of hits that started off like triples or home runs, and also led in the batting, with two singles and a three-bagger. McGinn was out of the game and was pitched off the field by Klem in the seventh. Score:

R.H.E.	R.H.E.
Chicago 4 4 3 New York 2 4 0	Batteries—Brown and Klinger; Ames and Bowerman.
Umpire—Klem and O'Day.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Boston 5, Detroit 2.

BOSTON, Aug. 21.—Boston batted Slevier hard today and defeated Detroit. Dineen pitched good ball. Score:

R.H.E.	R.H.E.
Boston 5 4 1 Detroit 2 1 0	Batteries—Dineen and Carrigan; Slevier and Payne.

St. Louis 1, Philadelphia 1.
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—Rala today interfered with the double-header. The first game was a tie, and the second being called off. Score:

R.H.E.	R.H.E.
St. Louis 1 1 Philadelphia 1 1 0	Batteries—Fowell and Spencer; Bender and Peters.

Washington 0-2, Cleveland 2-1.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The double-header today between Washington and Cleveland resulted in a victory for each team. Both games were brilliantly played.

R.H.E.	R.H.E.
Washington 0 0 2 Cleveland 2 1 0	Batteries—Hughes and Warner; Rhodes and Bemis.
Second game.
R.H.E.	R.H.E.
Washington 2 2 1 Cleveland 1 1 0	Batteries—Patten and Wakefield; Hess and Burlew.

No Game at New York.
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Chicago-New York game postponed; rain. Two games tomorrow.

GARNISHES McLEAN'S SALARY
Dr. Chipman Asks $350 for Operation on Ballplayer's Wife.

Dr. R. J. Chipman yesterday filed an attachment suit against Larry McLean, the catcher of the Portland baseball club, to recover $350 for performing a surgical operation on McLean's wife, last winter. Deputy Sheriff Moreland garnished McLean's salary by serving notice on Manager McCredie, and also on Judge McCredie, president, and George Shepherd, secretary of the club. It is believed that the action was taken because McLean is soon to leave the local ball team to join the Cincinnati Reds of the National League. McLean and Pitcher Essick were both purchased by the Cincinnati management. Essick is to pitch his last game for the Beavers on Sunday next.

FIGHT ARENA RUSHING UP
Great Demand for Seats at the Gans-Nelson Contest.

GOLDFIELD, Aug. 21.—The arena for the big fight is well under way and there is no doubt as to its completion by September 1. Its seating capacity of 10,000 is certain to be well taken up. Judging by the advance sale of seats. More than 10,000 orders for reservations have been received by the club already and nearly all the boxes are sold.

A heavy rain and at times sleet precluded much outdoor work on the part of the fighters today. The drop in temperature is very marked and was very welcome to both fighters, who are already "pretty fine" as to weight. Gans left his weight at 133 pounds today and McLean's 124½ pounds was likewise held.

A delegation of miners from the Miners' Union waited on "Larry" Sullivan yesterday and urged his permission to have his physician examine Gans. The examination was entirely satisfactory to all concerned. Gans' physical condition was found to be perfect.

OPENING MATCHES AT TENNIS

Wedding-Off Process for National Championship at Singles.

NEWPORT, Aug. 21.—An excellent beginning was made today in wedding the record-breaking list of contestants in the opening round of the National lawn tennis championship in singles. There were 16 matches on the list, and the first round of the singles tournament, and all but one were decided before the play closed for the day.

The defeat of Wagner and Emerson of the West to Hackett and Alexander of the East in the doubles gave room for the singles match between R. D. Little and P. C. Anderson in that court. This contest was fought in Little's favor in straight sets 6-3, 6-4, 8-6.

The match between the two Longwoods was a close one, but Wright, brother of the champion, and N. W. Niles attracted considerable attention, Wright winning 7-5, 6-2.

Raymer on his way into the second round in his match with H. A. MacKinnon, of Providence, and Hackett, of New York, was also successful in his contest with G. T. Exames.

Raymer on the Blacklist.
CINCINNATI, Aug. 21.—Fred Raymer, of the Boston Nationals, is the only former Pacific Coast League player included in the list of players ineligible to play Fifth National agreement club issued by President Garry Hermann, of the National Commission, yesterday.

Raymer, early in the Spring, failed to report to the commission, and was traded to Portland. Raymer jumped to the Johnstown team in the Tri-State or outland league, where he played a season. Graceland, Gray, Flood, Baum, Shields, Ross and Street, from the league in the West, are not named, indicating that the commission is inclined to be lenient with them, and is willing to give the players another opportunity to get back into organized ball.

Sutton Sisters Rivals at Tennis.
CINCINNATI, Aug. 21.—Sister against sister for the championship was the order in the Tri-State Tennis Tournament to be held here during the first week in September. It is conceded that the women's championship lies between Miss Mary Sutton, who has just reached the city from her trip to England, and her younger sister, Miss Florence Sutton. Miss Florence is said to be largely a beginner, while Mary is a veteran and a famous sister only in lack of experience. They are expected to be winners in the doubles with ease.

Vanderbilt Has Two Winners.
DEAUVILLE, France, Aug. 21.—W. K. Vanderbilt's Acadia won the Prix Conseil General and his Second Sight won the Prix Touques at the races here today.

No Races at Readville.
READVILLE, Mass., Aug. 21.—Today's Grand Circuit harness races were called off on account of rain.

Your complexion, as well as your temper, is rendered miserable by a disorder of the liver. Improve both by taking Carter's Little Liver Pills.

SWEDEN'S STEEL KING VISITS CITY

Harold Funch, Carnegie of Far-off Land, Is Making
Tour of World.

HAS FORTUNE OF MILLIONS

Belonging to Aristocratic Family, He and His Wife Are Democratic in Manner and Travel Without Valets or Maids.

Harold Funch, the Carnegie of Sweden, has been a guest at the Hotel Portland for several days. Because of his thoroughly democratic ways and utter abhorrence of anything that even borders on ostentation, it was not generally known that the hotel sheltered one whose name in Sweden is what the name of Carnegie or Frick is in this country.

Mr. Funch is the most important single factor in the steel industry of Sweden, and is one of the most powerful steel king of Europe. His family's wealth is represented by tens of millions, embracing mines, foundries and tracts of forest covering 500,000 acres in Sweden. Some of the men members of the family look after the lumber business, and the others interest themselves in the steel industry. It is purely a family affair and although the mines are worked the steel manufacture and the timber are sold by the company formed for convenience, the shares are all held by blood relations.

There is nothing about the appearance or mode of living of Mr. Funch to indicate enormous wealth. He and his wife, a woman of many accomplishments and snappy, Mr. Funch has lived in Sweden for generations, but running through the family tree is a deep vein of Scotch blood. Mr. Funch looks decidedly foreign but, nevertheless, he has the set-up and push of the American business man.

He has four or five different languages at his command and speaks English with a perfect fluency. He is making a pleasure tour of the world and will be absent from Sweden altogether about 15 months. Mr. Funch differs from most of the European millionaires in that he has a disgrace or not in keeping with the dignity of the family name to engage in business, although he is of the blue-blooded of Sweden, in his country most of the great industries, or many of them, are owned or controlled by families. The aristocrats care little for business, and the business is oftentimes allowed to run down because of lack of attention of those who should be interested. This, to a certain extent, has held back the development of the country.

When Mr. Funch had finished his school education he immediately began a study of the steel business. He learned it in all its details. He studied other methods besides those in use in his own factories. He at last was given charge of the selling end, and during the last six years has wrought wonders.

Instead of sitting around on cushions with a mot of servants to attend to him, he has been in the steel business, waiting for business, he went out for it. He knew that his mines turned out the finest of steel and he found it. He had been sick for several months. Mr. Walsh was born in County Sligo, Ireland, and came to this country when he was a young man, settled in California, where he lived for four years. He then returned to New York. Later he settled in Clackamas County, where he has since lived. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Michael, Owen and Rose Walsh, of Milwaukee; Richard and Jack Walsh, of Portland; Frank Walsh, of Seattle; and Sister Mary Ignacia, of Sacred Heart convent, Seattle.

Michael Walsh, of Milwaukee, Dies.
Michael Walsh, a well-known farmer of Milwaukee, died at his home yesterday morning from heart disease. He was 63 years of age, and had been sick for several months. Mr. Walsh was born in County Sligo, Ireland, and came to this country when he was a young man, settled in California, where he lived for four years. He then returned to New York. Later he settled in Clackamas County, where he has since lived. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Michael, Owen and Rose Walsh, of Milwaukee; Richard and Jack Walsh, of Portland; Frank Walsh, of Seattle; and Sister Mary Ignacia, of Sacred Heart convent, Seattle.

Lad Took Horse From Stable.
OREGON CITY, Or., Aug. 21.—(Special.)—The authorities are looking for a lad who took a horse from the Clackamas County, a Clackamas County farmer, from the Sellwood livery stable.

at Stockholm, but the estate upon which are located the mines and factories is at Stjernadalen, Sweden. Krosters Company Ltd., is the name of the concern by which business is transacted.

There are several thousand people employed upon the estate who till the 4000 acres of agricultural land and work in the mines and factories. One of the mines now being worked has been steadily producing iron since the 13th century. The steel is made in Sweden and then exported. It is of very superior quality and brings a very high price.

"My visit to Pittsburgh came as a revelation to me," remarked Mr. Funch, when he had launched into praise of the enterprising Americans. "It's simply wonderful, wonderful!" and he talked on with the enthusiasm of a boy who has just seen something new. "It's hard to realize, but at Pittsburgh the Homestead works alone turns out as much steel in a month as the whole of Sweden does in a year. I spent five or six days at Pittsburgh and obtained much valuable information."

"It is like the West much better than the East. In the East the people are nearly always rushed to death with business, and have but little time to give strangers. But out here it is different. You also have lots of business, but your people always find time in which to be polite and courteous."

"It is to be regretted that Sweden and Norway do not stand together," he said, shifting the subject. "Russia is a constant menace to Sweden, and Norway, too, the people of the latter do not realize this. We distrust Russia and Norway is suspicious of us. If Russia could take Sweden and Norway it would have an ocean port open to the west, which it has not now. Of course, the East could not do anything just now to overthrow Sweden or Norway, but you cannot tell what will come later, and we regard Russia as an ever-present danger."

Mrs. Funch is an artist of no little talent. She is a bright, active woman whose refinement is very apparent. She is immensely proud of her husband and he is of her. He admitted yesterday that he consulted his wife about many business matters, and that she had a true business instinct. He said she knew almost as much about the business as he did, as he made her his confidant.

LOG HAULER MEETS DEATH
ED J. TURNER FALLS IN WAY OF LOG-CARRIAGE.

Peavey Breaks as He Is Frying Logs Apart at East Side Mill and Accident Proves Fatal.

Ed J. Turner, employed as a log hauler at the plant of the East Side Mill & Lumber Company, met a horrible death yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock, being crushed to death beneath the huge carriage which is used to convey logs from the platform to the saws. Turner was at work with a companion pulling logs from the river onto the log platform or float and then rolling them on to the carriage nearby to be taken to the saws. Two motor logs became jammed on the platform and Turner, who was a powerful man of some 200 pounds, stepped toward the carriage and thrust his body between them to pry them apart. As he threw all his weight on the peavey it snapped and he fell backward directly in the path of the weighty carriage, which was coming back for a load.

Spectators shouted for the engineer to stop the machine but their warning came too late. The heavy carriage struck the prostrate man and crushed the life out of his body.

The mill was at once shut down and the body called upon investigation. The coroner decided that no inquest was necessary, the death being caused purely by accident.

When Mr. Funch had finished his school education he immediately began a study of the steel business. He learned it in all its details. He studied other methods besides those in use in his own factories. He at last was given charge of the selling end, and during the last six years has wrought wonders.

Instead of sitting around on cushions with a mot of servants to attend to him, he has been in the steel business, waiting for business, he went out for it. He knew that his mines turned out the finest of steel and he found it. He had been sick for several months. Mr. Walsh was born in County Sligo, Ireland, and came to this country when he was a young man, settled in California, where he lived for four years. He then returned to New York. Later he settled in Clackamas County, where he has since lived. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Michael, Owen and Rose Walsh, of Milwaukee; Richard and Jack Walsh, of Portland; Frank Walsh, of Seattle; and Sister Mary Ignacia, of Sacred Heart convent, Seattle.

Michael Walsh, of Milwaukee, Dies.
Michael Walsh, a well-known farmer of Milwaukee, died at his home yesterday morning from heart disease. He was 63 years of age, and had been sick for several months. Mr. Walsh was born in County Sligo, Ireland, and came to this country when he was a young man, settled in California, where he lived for four years. He then returned to New York. Later he settled in Clackamas County, where he has since lived. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Michael, Owen and Rose Walsh, of Milwaukee; Richard and Jack Walsh, of Portland; Frank Walsh, of Seattle; and Sister Mary Ignacia, of Sacred Heart convent, Seattle.

Lad Took Horse From Stable.
OREGON CITY, Or., Aug. 21.—(Special.)—The authorities are looking for a lad who took a horse from the Clackamas County, a Clackamas County farmer, from the Sellwood livery stable.

at Stockholm, but the estate upon which are located the mines and factories is at Stjernadalen, Sweden. Krosters Company Ltd., is the name of the concern by which business is transacted.

There are several thousand people employed upon the estate who till the 4000 acres of agricultural land and work in the mines and factories. One of the mines now being worked has been steadily producing iron since the 13th century. The steel is made in Sweden and then exported. It is of very superior quality and brings a very high price.

"My visit to Pittsburgh came as a revelation to me," remarked Mr. Funch, when he had launched into praise of the enterprising Americans. "It's simply wonderful, wonderful!" and he talked on with the enthusiasm of a boy who has just seen something new. "It's hard to realize, but at Pittsburgh the Homestead works alone turns out as much steel in a month as the whole of Sweden does in a year. I spent five or six days at Pittsburgh and obtained much valuable information."

"It is like the West much better than the East. In the East the people are nearly always rushed to death with business, and have but little time to give strangers. But out here it is different. You also have lots of business, but your people always find time in which to be polite and courteous."

"It is to be regretted that Sweden and Norway do not stand together," he said, shifting the subject. "Russia is a constant menace to Sweden, and Norway, too, the people of the latter do not realize this. We distrust Russia and Norway is suspicious of us. If Russia could take Sweden and Norway it would have an ocean port open to the west, which it has not now. Of course, the East could not do anything just now to overthrow Sweden or Norway, but you cannot tell what will come later, and we regard Russia as an ever-present danger."

Mrs. Funch is an artist of no little talent. She is a bright, active woman whose refinement is very apparent. She is immensely proud of her husband and he is of her. He admitted yesterday that he consulted his wife about many business matters, and that she had a true business instinct. He said she knew almost as much about the business as he did, as he made her his confidant.

at Stockholm, but the estate upon which are located the mines and factories is at Stjernadalen, Sweden. Krosters Company Ltd., is the name of the concern by which business is transacted.

There are several thousand people employed upon the estate who till the 4000 acres of agricultural land and work in the mines and factories. One of the mines now being worked has been steadily producing iron since the 13th century. The steel is made in Sweden and then exported. It is of very superior quality and brings a very high price.

"My visit to Pittsburgh came as a revelation to me," remarked Mr. Funch, when he had launched into praise of the enterprising Americans. "It's simply wonderful, wonderful!" and he talked on with the enthusiasm of a boy who has just seen something new. "It's hard to realize, but at Pittsburgh the Homestead works alone turns out as much steel in a month as the whole of Sweden does in a year. I spent five or six days at Pittsburgh and obtained much valuable information."

"It is like the West much better than the East. In the East the people are nearly always rushed to death with business, and have but little time to give strangers. But out here it is different. You also have lots of business, but your people always find time in which to be polite and courteous."

"It is to be regretted that Sweden and Norway do not stand together," he said, shifting the subject. "Russia is a constant menace to Sweden, and Norway, too, the people of the latter do not realize this. We distrust Russia and Norway is suspicious of us. If Russia could take Sweden and Norway it would have an ocean port open to the west, which it has not now. Of course, the East could not do anything just now to overthrow Sweden or Norway, but you cannot tell what will come later, and we regard Russia as an ever-present danger."

Mrs. Funch is an artist of no little talent. She is a bright, active woman whose refinement is very apparent. She is immensely proud of her husband and he is of her. He admitted yesterday that he consulted his wife about many business matters, and that she had a true business instinct. He said she knew almost as much about the business as he did, as he made her his confidant.

There is nothing about the appearance or mode of living of Mr. Funch to indicate enormous wealth. He and his wife, a woman of many accomplishments and snappy, Mr. Funch has lived in Sweden for generations, but running through the family tree is a deep vein of Scotch blood. Mr. Funch looks decidedly foreign but, nevertheless, he has the set-up and push of the American business man.

He has four or five different languages at his command and speaks English with a perfect fluency. He is making a pleasure tour of the world and will be absent from Sweden altogether about 15 months. Mr. Funch differs from most of the European millionaires in that he has a disgrace or not in keeping with the dignity of the family name to engage in business, although he is of the blue-blooded of Sweden, in his country most of the great industries, or many of them, are owned or controlled by families. The aristocrats care little for business, and the business is oftentimes allowed to run down because of lack of attention of those who should be interested. This, to a certain extent, has held back the development of the country.

When Mr. Funch had finished his school education he immediately began a study of the steel business. He learned it in all its details. He studied other methods besides those in use in his own factories. He at last was given charge of the selling end, and during the last six years has wrought wonders.

Instead of sitting around on cushions with a mot of servants to attend to him, he has been in the steel business, waiting for business, he went out for it. He knew that his mines turned out the finest of steel and he found it. He had been sick for several months. Mr. Walsh was born in County Sligo, Ireland, and came to this country when he was a young man, settled in California, where he lived for four years. He then returned to New York. Later he settled in Clackamas County, where he has since lived. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Michael, Owen and Rose Walsh, of Milwaukee; Richard and Jack Walsh, of Portland; Frank Walsh, of Seattle; and Sister Mary Ignacia, of Sacred Heart convent, Seattle.

Michael Walsh, of Milwaukee, Dies.
Michael Walsh, a well-known farmer of Milwaukee, died at his home yesterday morning from heart disease. He was 63 years of age, and had been sick for several months. Mr. Walsh was born in County Sligo, Ireland, and came to this country when he was a young man, settled in California, where he lived for four years. He then returned to New York. Later he settled in Clackamas County, where he has since lived. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Michael, Owen and Rose Walsh, of Milwaukee; Richard and Jack Walsh, of Portland; Frank Walsh, of Seattle; and Sister Mary Ignacia, of Sacred Heart convent, Seattle.

Lad Took Horse From Stable.
OREGON CITY, Or., Aug. 21.—(Special.)—The authorities are looking for a lad who took a horse from the Clackamas County, a Clackamas County farmer, from the Sellwood livery stable.

at Stockholm, but the estate upon which are located the mines and factories is at Stjernadalen, Sweden. Krosters Company Ltd., is the name of the concern by which business is transacted.

There are several thousand people employed upon the estate who till the 4000 acres of agricultural land and work in the mines and factories. One of the mines now being worked has been steadily producing iron since the 13th century. The steel is made in Sweden and then exported. It is of very superior quality and brings a very high price.

"My visit to Pittsburgh came as a revelation to me," remarked Mr. Funch, when he had launched into praise of the enterprising Americans. "It's simply wonderful, wonderful!" and he talked on with the enthusiasm of a boy who has just seen something new. "It's hard to realize, but at Pittsburgh the Homestead works alone turns out as much steel in a month as the whole of Sweden does in a year. I spent five or six days at Pittsburgh and obtained much valuable information."

"It is like the West much better than the East. In the East the people are nearly always rushed to death with business, and have but little time to give strangers. But out here it is different. You also have lots of business, but your people always find time in which to be polite and courteous."

"It is to be regretted that Sweden and Norway do not stand together," he said, shifting the subject. "Russia is a constant menace to Sweden, and Norway, too, the people of the latter do not realize this. We distrust Russia and Norway is suspicious of us. If Russia could take Sweden and Norway it would have an ocean port open to the west, which it has not now. Of course, the East could not do anything just now to overthrow Sweden or Norway, but you cannot tell what will come later, and we regard Russia as an ever-present danger."

Mrs. Funch is an artist of no little talent. She is a bright, active woman whose refinement is very apparent. She is immensely proud of her husband and he is of her. He admitted yesterday that he consulted his wife about many business matters, and that she had a true business instinct. He said she knew almost as much about the business as he did, as he made her his confidant.

</