Richard Cornelius, president of the Car-men's Union, stated that in view of the United Railroads building barracks or stockades and making other preparations for housing strikebreakers it was evident to the union that the company intended to make a bitter fight, and there was no ceason why the carmen should wait onger for a reply. BLOW TO LOCAL OPTION

Move to Extend It to Countles Fails Platform Favors Oregon Idea on Election of Senators and Indorses Bryan.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22.-Samuel A Hoskins for Secretary of State, Charles W. Haupert for State School Commiser, Rodney J. Diegle for State Dairy and Food Commissioner and George E Nyawonger for a member of the Board of Public Works constituted the ticket named by the Ohio Democrats here to-day in a session somewhat fervid in temperature, in oratory and in methods of

The day was close and sultry, few de egates were coats, and many sought cooler places outside the hall before final adjournment, this last fact making posole the casting of the votes of severa delegations by unauthorized persons dur-ing the last few ballots. A number of countles were challenged and several persons put out of the hall for such im-proper voting, but it did not seem to affect the result materially in any case. County Option Turned Down.

During the first hour and a half of to-day's assistion the question of an indorse-ment of county option in Prohibition legislation was under discussion, an at-tempt by W. L. Finley to amend the platform and give such an indorsement being defeated on a roll call. The dis-cussion developed opposition to the gen-eral idea of county option, in which some delegates insisted that in having "ap-proved unqualifiedly Governor Pattison's policies," the platform already was strong enough on the very point for During the first hour and a half of to strong enough on the very point for which Mr. Finley contended. Fight for County Option.

The proposition of Mr. Finley for local option by counties the present laws prodistrict option came before the conven-tion as an amendment to the report of the platform committee. Mr. Finley and those with him on the county option voted for the balance of the platform and there was no dissent from its views. The proposal made by Mr. Finley to the committee was rejected, but was submitted by him as an amendment to the report of the committee on resolutions when that was presented to the convention. Mr. Powell moved the adoption of the report but before a vote W. L. Finley offered his amendment as a substitute for the initiative and referendum plank, and moved its adoption. J. C. McMahon, of Daytou, also a member of the resolu-tions committee, voiced the views of the majority of that committee. On a roll call the substitute plank was lost and the majority report was then adopted.

WRIGHT AND WARD WIN TENNIS DOUBLES TROPHY.

Behr Defeats Larned for Singles Championship-Ward's Play Surprises the Critics.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 22.-Two championship cups were lifted and another firmly fixed for at least one year other firmly fixed for at least one year more in the tennis games at the Casino today. Beals C. Wright, of Boston, and Holcomb Ward, of Orange, N. J., are the permanent owners of the doubles trophy by defeating H. H. Hackett and B. F. Alexander, of New York, three to one, while Karl H. Behr, of Yale University, put out in the all-comers' single tournament former Champion William Larned, of Summit, N. J., who had one more victory to obtain possession of the singles championship cup. Championship cup.

The doubles match was the champion round, Ward and Wright defend-ing their title against Hackett and Alexander, the champions of the East, and winning, 6-3, 3-5, 6-3, 8-2. The Behr-Larned contest was in the second round of the all-comers' tournament, and the scores were, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5. The result of the doubles was expected by many, but Lamed's de-feat was unlooked for. Behr waited until the first set was well started before he began running his service. After that he played very fast.

The doubles match was a much harder-fought contest than that of last year, when the same quartet met in the challenge match. Ward's play in view of his obsence from the play, in view of his absence from the game since his return from Europe, was a surprise, while the work of Hackett and Alexander showed considerable improvement. Wright is rapidly rounding into form for the championship match in singles next week.

Practically, the second round of 32 matches in the singles tournament was cleared during the day and a good beginning made on the sixteenth in the third round. Except for the Behr-Larned contest there were few surprises, and straight-set victories prevailed.
