GERMANS IN LATIN AMERICA

Major Sears Will Tell in Lecture the Benefits of Their Influence.

Major Alfred F. Sears will address the Oregon State Academy of Sciences to-night on "German Influence in Latin America." Major Sears spent 15 years in Mexico, Central America and Peru as a member of the Government Engineer Corps. Since his return he has been a corresponding member of the Geographical Society of Lima, Peru. His main-tains that German influence is not Ger-man monarchism, but that it is the greatest civilizing and liberalizing influence in Latin America.

J. D. Lee, formerly secretary of the Board of Trade of this city, will give a paper on the "Chinook Jargon." The meeting will be held at the City Hall at 8 P. M. and the general public is invited. Admission is free.

END OF THE RAINY SPELL

Forecaster Beals Predicts Fair Weather for Today.

After being compelled to wear rubbers, rainy-day skirts and extra flannels during the past week on account of the wet spell, the citizens of Portland are to be given a different brand commencing today, according to District Forecaster Beals, who announces that there will be a change in climatic conditions in Portland and vicin-ity today and that the people may expect some real nice, made-to-order weather for a day or two.
 Yesterday the barometer indicated a change, and before nightfall it became apparent that the rain would cease for a while and the forecaster said that today will be clear and fine, and also that the same conditions are likely to prevail Sunday.

This will be welcome news to the hop-growers, for unless their crops have been damaged already the coming of warm and sunny weather will cause the mold now making its appearance to vanish, which will prove welcome to both grower and picker alike.

The rainfall in Portland since September 1 has been 1.81 inches, of which 1.28 inches has fallen in the last three days. From 6 P. M. Thursday to the same hour yesterday 0.72 inches of rain fell in this city.
