Attempted Hold-Up of Rock Island Train Proves Failure.

SCARED BY RESISTANCE

Conductor Murray Knocks Revolver From Robber's Hand, and Gang Flees After Stopping Heavily-Loaded Train.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 14.—Four masked men attempted to hold up passenger train 311 on the Rock Island Railroad one and a half miles north of Peoria tonight at 10 o'clock. But for the presence of mind of Conductor Murray, who dismissed one of the men after being struck on the head, the passengers would have been robbed. There were about 75 persons on the train, which left Chicago at 7 o'clock.

Sheriff Foster and a force of deputies and Peoria police are searching the woods near the scene.

The would-be robbers placed an obstruction of railroad ties on the track and brought the train to a standstill. They then, at the muzzle of revolvers, commanded the engineer and fireman to remain on the engine. Running back to the front end of the smoker, they mounted the platform with drawn revolvers.

Conductor Robert Murray met them at the door. One of the bandits pushed a pistol into his face. He struck the weapon up and knocked it from the man's hand. He was struck over the wrist and the head with a club, but the robbers became alarmed at his unexpected resistance and fled.

The men are described as being about 25 or 30 years of age and of slight build. All wore masks, but evidently were amateurs at the business.

Many of the passengers were women and children. One traveling man, representing a Peoria brewery, had on his person $150 as the result of a day's collections, and sat near the front end of the smoker.

BETTER WAR THAN DESPOT

Rebel General Says Cubans Want Liberty, Not Intervention.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The World today prints the following message which its correspondent with the insurgents in Santa Clara Province cables he has received from General Guzman:

"Headquarters in the Field, Central Adriaeta Plantation, near Cruces, Santa Clara Province, September 11, 1906.—To the American People: Difficulties have arisen among us, questions of liberty, and of law or peace. We do not ask for sympathy; we ask only an open field that we may settle with Cubans and for Cubans the issues that we have joined.

"There has come a time in the history of this Republic when the only way to secure a permanent and righteous peace, safe in guaranteed constitutional liberties, is by war.

"Under the empty name of a Republic, the shackles of overthrown Spanish dominion have again been imposed upon us. Our constitution has been cast aside with contemptuous egotism, the royal laws of the ancient regime have been revived and issued to us with the very forms and words of the royal Spanish decrees. Absolutism was again fastening itself upon Cuba, and in the more dangerous guise and formulas of a republican system that was but the shell of democratic ideals.

"It has become necessary to resort to arms—not for war, if it can possibly be avoided, but as a demonstration before the court of last resort, that the spirit which for a century has fought against royal oppression still endures and will suffer again the hardships of campaigns rather than yield the fruits of hard-won liberties. By a vast majority Cuba is with us.

"If the present administration in Havana so chooses it will be war no longer.

"Shall we be tricked by commissioners from Palma and armistices whose legality and validity he then denies?"

"The intervention of the United States we do not wish. This is our own Cuban question; a question of our rights and liberties that we ourselves must settle. And in considering the question we ask consideration of the fact that it is one fraught with more consequence to Cuba than momentary commercial loss or gain.

"The rights and properties of Americans will be respected by our forces.

"That all in Cuba will suffer as the result of the depression due to war is unfortunate and inevitable, but it is the Cubans, our countrymen, who will suffer most, and with their patriotism they are gladly accepting the sacrifice; for out of it will emerge the firmer rights and absolute liberties of real constitutional government.

"To those Americans who believe in the liberties of all peoples and that right and justice should triumph, even over peace, we present our cause and ask their sympathy.

"Eduardo Guzman, General Jefe de la Division de las Villas.

"Crestes Ferraz, General de Brigada.

"Sabino Caballero, General de Brigada.

"Joaquin Rodriguez, General.

"Jacinto Portela, Coronel.

"Abelardo Rodriguez de Repteniente Coronel.

"Chief of the army in Santa Clara Province."

KILLED ON BRIDGE

J. D. Bond Crushed Between Car and Girders.

DIES GOING TO HOSPITAL

Resident of University Park Leans From Steps and Is Knocked to the Track Between St. Johns Car and Trailer.

J. Dayton Bond, of University Park, was killed last night on the Steel bridge by being crushed between a street car and the girders of the bridge. He received immediate medical attention and was hastily dispatched to Good Samaritan hospital but died on the way.

Mr. Bond was standing on the bottom step of a St. Johns car which left the city shortly before 7 o'clock. While crossing the bridge at the center of the draw span, he leaned too far from the car or was pushed by someone higher up on the step and a bridge girder struck him across the chest, throwing him down and crushing his chest in a horrible manner. The car was going slowly and was stopped in about ten feet. Bond was picked up between the first car and the trailer.

The injured man was taken to the drug store of W. C. Cable, on the corner of Holliday avenue and Larrabee streets, where he was attended by Dr. White. Holman's ambulance was called and the man was ordered taken to the hospital but he did not reach the place alive. He died half an hour after the accident.

Mr. Bond was 23 years old and had lived off and on six years in Oregon. He had lately returned from a trip to New York and had been employed as private chauffeur by Herman Wittenberg for about a month. Mr. Wittenberg called at Finley's undertaking establishment last night, where the body was taken, and expressed great regret at the accident. He spoke very highly of the unfortunate man.

Bond was a member of the California Chauffeurs' Association. He is survived by a mother, brother and two sisters. Last night's accident makes three of similar kind on the Steel bridge this year when passengers on street cars have been struck by the bridge girders.

AN INVITATION AND A FEW INTERESTING FACTS

The Portland Brewing Co. has made the largest percentage of gain in sales during the past six months of any Brewery on the Pacific Coast. Taken under the new management on March 14th last, the Brewery will be running full capacity within the fiscal year. A recommendation that illustrates fully the excellent quality of the beer.

We have set aside tomorrow between the hours of 1 and 5 P. M. to have our friends call and inspect the Brewery; in fact, we are always pleased to have the general public call at all times.

It is our intention to make EDEL BRAU, which is the brand of our beer, a family password by keeping the quality just a little better than the majority of beers offered on this market. It is brewed a mild stimulant, the best natural tonic for convalescents, and an excellent friend to those delicious Dutch suppers so often participated in after the theater.

You can have the bottle beer delivered to your home direct from the brewery if you so prefer it. If you have not already received a sample, please telephone us for one. Main 708.
