MOODY'S BODY IS HURRIBLY CUT UP

Assassin of the Pine Valley Rancher Shot From Ambush Near Home.

HEAD BEATEN TO PULP

Features of the Wealthy Landowner Are Cut Away by His Slayer in Insane Frenzy After Murder Is Committed.

BAKER CITY, Or., Sept. 17.—(Special.)

—Mystery still shrouds the foul murder of Willard Moody, the most shocking crime in the annals of Baker County. After a day's investigation the Coroner's inquest failed to give a single clew that suggested more than a simple possibility. Unless family troubles caused it, no one can explain the awful deed of the assassin.

Moody was found on a trail leading from Pinetown and the Portland Trading Company's store to his ranch, a quarter of a mile through a thicket. He had been shot through the head, his eyes were gouged out and his lips and nose cut out. Then with the butt of his gun the assassin beat the head until it was an unrecognizable outp.

When Moody left the Portland Trading Company's store for his house the assassin was waiting for him and when the victim got within a few feet shot him dead and in a frenzy of demeniacal rage mutilated the body most cruelly.
It was not until Sunday evening that the body was found. The man had been dead 15 hours. The murderer had escaped. With him he carried Moody's eves. If the authorities can locate eyes. If the authorities can locate Moody's brother-in-iaw, named Cole, he will be held to tell what he knows of the crime. Cole mistreated his wife and the Moodys interfered for their sister, Willard Moody, the dead man, being es-pecially stern in demanding justice for

Cole was ejected from the farm upon which he had lived, and the wife went back to her brothers. It was on this farm that Willard Moody was killed. Cole has not been seen since, and the authorities will hold him for questioning if he is found. He is said to have threat-ened the Moody family. Moody had been married twice himself and was twice divorced. He was 44 years of age, a son of George W. Moody, of Portland, one of the first settlers in the Pine Valley, and was the owner of a 400-acre ranch and the wealthlest man in the

VALUATIONS RUNNING HIGHER

Washington Equalizers Are Faced by Large Surplus.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 17 .- (Special.) -OLYMPIA, Wash, Sept. 17.—(Special.)—With only the verified figures on personal property assessments to be received from King and Stevens Countles, it is practically assured that the valuations of the State of Washington for this year will reach $525,000,000, and may be $5,000,000 more than that. This will be an increase of $200,000,000 over the values as equalized last year.

Today's meeting of the State Board of Equalization was devoted to a discussion of the subject of the basis on which the equalization will be made. State Auditor Clausen and Secretary of State Nichols advocated equalizing down to about $50.

year's figures. Other members of the Board favored this year's returns with a eduction of the levy.

Clausen argued that the arbitrary rate of one-tenth of a mill for military purnoses and one-fourth of a mill for roads poses and one-fourth of a mill for roads would produce more money than needed for these funds, and called attention to the constitutional prohibition against transferring such moneys to other funds. The other members thought it best to increase the valuations and lower the levy for schools and general fund purposes, and by a vote of 4 to 2 the following resolution was passed by the Board:

"Resolved, That the Board proceed to classify property and counties the assessclassify property and equalize the assessment thereof as between the counties, so that the total equalized valuation shall be as nearly as practicable equal to the aggregate valuations returned by the Board has adjourned till Thurs

When Esther Mitchell Came to Seattle She Impressed Lawyers With Her Lack of Good Sense.

SHATTLE, Wash., Sept. 17.-Will H

Morris, the attorney who defended George Mitchell when tried for the mur-der of Franz Edmund Creffield, was the most interesting witness in the Mitcheli-Creffield insanity hearing today. The session was short. Aside from Morris, Mrs. Creffield and Dr. Snyder, the jall physiian, were the only witnesses examined. Mr. Morris testified to having seen Es-her Mitchell when she came to Seattle mmediately after the shooting of Creffield. He said that when he introduce himself as the attorney for her brother she refused to have anything to do with him, saying she had nothing in common with her brother George. He declared that he and the other attorneys interest-ed in the Mitchell case, including Deputy Prosecuting Attorney John F. Miller, had conceded at that time that the two women were insane. He said also that during the trial of the case he had had those who were known to have some unusual interest in the case sworn in as wit-nesses, so that they could be excluded from the courtroom, as he feared a dem-onstration might be made.

onstration might be made.

Morris declared that in his opinion the women have such a weak mentality that it will be impossible to secure a jury that will convict them. He declared his belief that they are crazy, and will never recover. He said he thought the girl had done the shouling because of the done the shooting because of a plan which had been arranged for the birth of a new "Christ," to which she was to have been a party, and which was stopped by the death of Creffield.

Mrs. Creffield was placed upon the stand during the session and questioned closely regaring her life and religious belief, and later Dr. Snyder told of the life of the women in the County Jail. Nothing of particular importance was brought out in the examination of either of the wit-

COUNSEL COTTON TALKS ALONG CONSTITUTIONAL LINES.

Hearing on Writ of Review Against Railroad Commission Heard by Judge Chadwick.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 17 .- (Special.)-The entire afternoon was taken up with arguments before Superior Judge Chadwick, of Whitman County, who came here today to take up the writ of review case brought against the Railroad Commission by the O. R. & N. Co., on the foint rate case. The state was represented by Assistant Attorney General A. J. Falkner and James A. Kerr, the latter appearing for the Puget Sound millers. Judge W. W. Cotton, general counsel for the Harriman lines, appeared against the commission. The argument was entirely on constitutional grounds. Judge Cotton took the position that the legislature had no power to delegate the ratemaking power, which the state constitution gives it, to a Railroad Commission and further the commission act is unconstitutional because it pretends to enact class legislation in that it exempts electrie interurban railways from the provisions of the law. Particular stress was laid on the latter contention.

Judge Chadwick has taken the matter under advisement. The hearing today was heard in the Supreme Court chambers. Judge Chadwick consented to come here to hear arguments, rather than put the commission to the expense of going to the commission to the expense of going to Colfax with all the office books and

First Time in Two Years. Women at forty, or thereabouts, have their future in their own hands. There will be a change for the better or worse, for the better if the system is purified by such a tonic as Dr. Williams' Pink Pilla. Mrs. D. C. Wedding, of Hartford, Ky., writes as follows concerning the difficulties which afflicted her:

"I was seriously ill and was confined to my bed for six or eight months in all, during two years. I had chills, fever, rheumatism. My stomach seemed always too full, my kidneys did not act freely, my liver was inactive, my heart beat was very weak and I had dizziness or swimming in my head and nervous troubles. "I was under the treatment of several different physicians but they all failed to do me any good. After suffering for two years I learned from an Arkansas friend about the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided that I would try them. The very first box I took made me feel better and when I had taken four boxes more I was entirely well, weighed fifteen pounds more than when I began resumed my household duties, and have since continued in the best of health. I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to many people on account of what they did for me, and I feel that I cannot praise them too strongly."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills restored Mrs. Wedding to health because they actually make new blood and when the blood is in full vigor every function of the body is restored, because the blood carries to every organ, every muscle, every nerve, the nourishment necessary to enable it to do its part. Because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red they restore lost weight, strengthen and revitalize the nerves, bring color to the cheeks, banish rheumatic pains and bring good health and spirits to the depressed.
