

FIVE DAYS NEWS $13,150 FOR FUND

Campaign for Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Buildings Makes a Good Start.

WORKERS ARE ORGANIZED

Today Active Campaign Begins and Appeals Will Be Made to Generosity of All Classes, From Newsboys to Millionaires.

STATUS OF Y. M. C. A. AND Y. W. C. A. BUILDING CAMPAIGN: Necessary to be raised, $350,000. Already pledged, $3,150. Balance to be raised, $346,850.

Money for the new building to be erected jointly by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations rolled in on the soliciting committees' headquarters from many sources yesterday.

This showing is flattering one when it is considered that the day was taken up chiefly by work of organization for systematic money-getting. Today the campaign will become a more active and veritable army of workers will lay siege to the generosity of hundreds of business and professional men who can afford to give and who have been called to the front by the active interest in the cause to loosen up their wallet-strings.

The progress of this novel and ambitious fight for a new home on the part of the two associations will be indicated at all hours of the day by the committee headquarters, Sixth and Morrison streets, northwest corner, a huge clock-like mechanism has been set up. The hands indicate the amount raised, being changed as each five or ten thousand dollars is added to the fund.

S. G. Reed, secretary of the citizens' committee, in company with Secretary Stone and International Secretary Ward of the Y. M. C. A., went out on a little hunt yesterday afternoon and when they had secured $31,000 in pledges. These subscriptions were made by: R. Livingston, $100; Dr. J. B. Wetherbee, $100; Samuel P. Lockwood, $100; Pacific Export Lumber Company, $100; Drs. S. A. Brown and E. C. Brown, $50; P. J. Mann, $100; Mr. and Mrs. James F. Failing, $100. Smaller contributions, ranging from $10 to $50, totaled $220. The total amount raised today is $33,150. Not a few of these contributions were taken to headquarters by anxious enthusiasts.

The citizens' committee met at noon yesterday at the Portland and talked business during luncheon. There were 28 members of the committee on hand and every one manifested the most enthusiastic interest in the work. Expressing willingness to make any little sacrifice necessary to devote time to the work. Tom Richardson, being present, called on the young men's views and made a brief impromptu address, dealing with the value of the association work from its material standpoint. He advised the young men to be diligent in achieving the task which has been set about in the matter of raising funds and the erection of the building under construction. He said that more than $100,000 had been spent in systematic advertising.

That the undertaking has the widest public sympathy is demonstrated in many ways yesterday by the active interest taken by committee workers, but in no way more forcibly than when a newsboy stepped into headquarters and seeing Mr. Ward said: "I've got 50 cents I want to give for this new Y. M. C. A. you're getting up."

Mr. Ward suggested that he interest other newsboys and pool their subscriptions. Later in the afternoon, when he had all but forgotten the incident, Mr. Ward was called to headquarters by two delegations of newsboys who said they had organized to raise money among the boys and that they would put their best legs on it.

When last evening came the organization of the two principal committees, to which the bulk of the money-raising work has been assigned, was fully completed and ready for work. The women's committee, headed by Mrs. E. A. Rockey, met at 2:30 o'clock at the Portland, and the men's committee, headed by Miss Ford, met at the same time at the Young Men's building. It is safe to say that they will raise their $100,000 days ahead of time.

Tonight at a banquet at the Portland Hotel the younger workers will launch their campaign. There will be a joint meeting of the young men's and young women's associations, and the young men will be the guests of the young women. A large invitation list has been sent out and many acceptances received. The younger workers have volunteered to raise $50,000, and are insisting that they be assigned to raise $50,000 of the amount, leaving $10,000 to be raised by the young women.

WOMEN ASSIST IN GOOD WORK Y. W. C. A. Workers Take Active Steps to Raise $100,000.

A large number of prominent women answered the call for the meeting of the subscription committees at the Portland Hotel yesterday afternoon and deep interest was manifested in the plans for the building campaign by the various speakers. Mrs. E. A. Rockey, chairman of the general women's committees, presided, and Miss Taylor, Miss Barnes and Miss MacCreary spoke at length on the object of the work to be undertaken, the sacrifices involved, the manner and spirit in which the work should be accomplished. The meeting from every standpoint was very successful, and there seems to be no doubt but that the $100,000 which this committee has pledged itself to raise will be forthcoming as soon, if not sooner, than the amount which the men are attempting to collect.

A carefully arranged plan of soliciting funds has been prepared and the greatest pains will be taken not to get the names and territories confused so that citizens will be approached by more than one worker of the building committee. The committee members are dividing themselves into sub-committees of ten with a chairman to whom they report daily and from whom they receive instructions. Mrs. Rockey will be at headquarters at Sixth and Morrison streets each day during the campaign and her services are at the disposal of all committee workers. The headquarters telephone is Main 3345.

Many Are Enlisted.

Among the committee workers who have pledged their services for the three weeks of the campaign are the following: Mrs. E. L. Thompson, Mrs. Stephen

Smith, Mrs. A. L. Pease, Mrs. F. H. Northrup, Mrs. H. H. Northrup, Mrs. John Gill, Mrs. H. Cardwell, Mrs. E. E. Lytle, Mrs. W. C. Knighton, Mrs. A. L. Bliss, Mrs. H. C. Clinton, Mrs. James Failing, Mrs. Henry Waldo Coe, Mrs. A. H. Smith, Mrs. Milton Smith, Mrs. A. H. Breyman, Mrs. Samuel Connell, Mrs. Frederick Egger, Mrs. W. H. Beharrell, Mrs. S. C. Armitage, Miss Camille Doeh, Miss Delta Watson, Miss Alice Sanbury, Miss Hilda Plummer, Mrs. Frank H. Elliot, Mrs. Charles F. Failing, Miss Hazel Dolph, Mrs. Frank Kerr, Miss Irene Timms, Mrs. Ernest Laidlaw, Mrs. Byron Nichols, Miss Caroline Coleman, Mrs. M. G. Smith, Mrs. F. C. G. Mrs. C. F. Tinker, Mrs. C. A. Dolph, Mrs. E. D. Connell, Mrs. W. R. MacKenzie, Miss Shelby, Miss Virginia Wilson, Mrs. G. F. Russell, Mrs. Martha Hoyt, Mrs. P. J. Mann, Mrs. Ralph Hoyt, Mrs. Charles Curry, Mrs. C. H. Carey, Mrs. A. C. Emmons, Mrs. W. J. Honeyman, Mrs. H. A. Allen, and all members of the board of directors.

There are many others who will join this committee, but their names will not be published until they have given the committee a personal pledge of service. Arrangements are being made for a daily meeting of the committee, and it is probable that the luncheon at which the men meet to talk over the progress of their collecting will be selected.

Banquet at Portland Tonight.

Tonight the young business and professional men and women of Portland are to have a banquet at the Portland Hotel, when plans will be laid for their individual efforts in raising their portion of the big fund. Mr. MacCreary, chairman of the young men's business committee, will preside, and Dr. Sarah Whiteside, chairman of the young women's committee, and Miss Harriet Moorehouse, associate chairman, will occupy places of honor. Fine music will be provided by the Y. W. C. A. orchestra, and there will be many prominent speakers. There have been nearly 300 acceptances of this banquet, and it is expected to outline that given Monday night. College yells and songs have been prepared.

Money for the new building to be erected jointly by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations rolled in on the soliciting committees' headquarters from many sources yesterday. By evening $31,500 had been pledged, and this as a result of the first announcement of the whirlwind campaign whereby it is intended to raise $350,000 in a period of 15 days.

This showing is flattering one when it is considered that the day was taken up chiefly by work of organization for systematic money-getting. Today the campaign will become a more active and veritable army of workers will lay siege to the generosity of hundreds of business and professional men who can afford to give and who have been called to the front by the active interest in the cause to loosen up their wallet-strings. It will not be surprising if $30,000, or even more, of the required $350,000 is obtained by tonight.

The progress of this novel and ambitious fight for a new home on the part of the two associations will be indicated at all hours of the day by the committee headquarters, Sixth and Morrison streets, northwest corner, a huge clock-like mechanism has been set up. HOUGHTON IN TOOLS

Paroled Convict Must Serve Remainder of Sentence.

ARRESTED FOR STEALING

Companion of Linnton Road Highwaymen Confesses He Helped Them Rob Clothing Store in the North End.

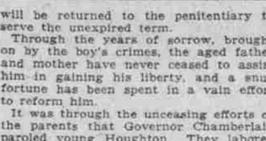

"Chick" Houghton was arrested by Acting Police Detective Circle yesterday afternoon on a charge of stealing clothing from a North Third-street store, and he made a full confession to Captain of Detective Bruin. The prisoner is a noted criminal whose "line" is anything from larceny to highway robbery and whose record is posted throughout the country in rogues' galleries. He was out on parole, and has yet two and one-half years to serve in the Oregon Penitentiary for larceny from the person.

Hardly had the young criminal—he is only 23 years old—been lodged behind the bars when his father, bent with age and totally blind, led by a friend, entered police headquarters to inquire as to the amount of bail that would be required to release his wayward son. No bail was fixed, because of the conditions of the parole, the probability being the prisoner will be returned to the penitentiary to serve the unexpired term.

Through the years of sorrow, brought on by the boy's crimes, the aged father and mother have never ceased to assist him in gaining his liberty, and a snug fortune has been spent in a vain effort to reform him.

It was through the unceasing efforts of the parents that Governor Chamberlain recently paroled young Houghton. They labored early and late, securing numerous signatures to a petition, and at last were rewarded. They were happy in the belief that their son would improve the opportunity and mend his ways, but the police declare he is strongly suspected of complicity in some of the recent daring crimes in Portland, among them the robbery of a jewelry store.

"Chick" Houghton is said to have been for at least one week a pal of Jesse Hall and Tim Bernard, automobile bandits recently arrested by Captain of Detectives Bruin and Policeman Price, after holding up two parties of autoists on the Linnton road. Hall and Houghton were in David Stein's North Third-street store ten days ago and Hall purchased a revolver for Houghton. The latter is said to have stolen three pairs of trousers while the proprietor's attention was on the revolver.

At the Temple Ahava Shalom the New Year will be celebrated two days, Thursday and Friday. The services will be read by the cantor, Rev. R. Abrahamson, assisted by Mr. Garfinkle. The sermons will be preached by the rabbi, Rev. Dr. Gendel. The services will be held at 7 o'clock on Thursday and Friday mornings at 7 o'clock. Subject of sermon this evening, "Retrospect"; tomorrow morning, at 9:30, "Looking Forward"; tomorrow evening, "Peace"; Friday morning, "A Few Questions."

NO HOPE OF CONVICTION

Pawnbrokers Escape Punishment for Keeping Open on Sunday.

Legal technicalities threaten to shut off the police in their crusade against local pawnbrokers and second-hand dealers. The city ordinance seems to be as delicate as the old concert-hall law. Six defendants, arrested upon complaint of John A. Meers, of the detective bureau, were held in Municipal Judge Cameron yesterday morning and pleaded no answer to the charges of keeping their establishments open on Sunday. Trial date was set for September 25.

The ordinance relative to pawnshops is the one that is just now causing trouble. Unlike the ordinance governing second-hand stores, it does not provide that the doors shall be closed Sunday, and there the police find their source of annoyance.

deeds left in destitution, and Portland was called on to supply their immediate wants; but all this has been changed. Ewing and barns have been rebuilt, fences replaced and more land cultivated. In the Springwater district, and at Lents, where fire was the most destructive, all evidence of the march of that pest has completely disappeared. At Springwater the farmers have this year reaped the biggest harvest in years. No more charred homes and barns are to be seen in that section. All about Mount Scott new homes have sprung up and a 12-room schoolhouse has taken the place of the two-room building that was then destroyed by fire.

HEBREWS HAVE HOLIDAY

Celebration of Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashanah, Begins Tonight.

Celebration of Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, will begin this evening, ushering in the year 5667 since the creation, according to the old reckoning. Tomorrow will be observed as a general holiday among Hebrews, and has yet two and one-half years to serve in the Oregon Penitentiary for larceny from the person.

The orthodox churches observe two full days in celebration of the Jewish New Year, having services from Wednesday evening until sunset Friday evening. Temple Beth Israel, the reform congregation, is the only church in Portland which will confine its observance to one day.

The first days of the year are supposed to be given up to meditation and thought in preparation for the day of atonement (Yom Kippur), which is ten days after the new year, falling on Saturday and Sunday of next week. This is the most solemn day of the whole Jewish year and is given up to prayer and fasting.

The characteristic feature of the Jewish New Year is the sounding of the shofar during the service. All synagogues observe this custom. Music is written especially for these services and the most beautiful music in the Jewish church is the solemn, stately music of the fast day.

Rosh Hoshanah will be observed at Temple Beth Israel tonight and tomorrow morning. The services will be held at 7 o'clock on Thursday and Friday mornings at 7 o'clock. Subject of sermon this evening, "Retrospect"; tomorrow morning, at 9:30, "Looking Forward"; tomorrow evening, "Peace"; Friday morning, "A Few Questions."

The funeral of Mrs. Jacob Fleischer was held yesterday morning at her late residence, 231 Seventh street. Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of Temple Beth Israel officiating. While the funeral was private, the large family connection of this prominent pioneer woman filled the residence of a long line of carriages to the cemetery, where the interment was made. The floral offerings were remarkable for their profusion and beauty.

The eulogy which Rabbi Wise delivered at the bier of Mrs. Fleischer was rarely sympathetic, beautiful and true. He was her personal friend and as her pastor he had known her for many years. He spoke of her life and the traits of character which went to make her one of the best loved and highly respected women of Oregon. Her generous charities for which she had become well known were spoken of, and the gentle homelife which commanded the personal devotion of her several children and scores of friends throughout her life were eulogized in beautiful terms by the gifted speaker.

The deceased was mother of I. N. and Max Fleischer, Mrs. Rudolph Goldsmith, Mrs. Solomon B. Hirsch, Mrs. George H. Davis, of San Francisco.

The pallbearers all of whom were connected with the firm of Fleischer, Mayer & Co., were A. T. Higgins, G. O. Gibson, A. Howard, Samuel Hirsch, S. Frazer and Harry Kingsley. A long line of carriages followed to the Jewish cemetery, where Mrs. Fleischer was laid to rest in the family plot.

WILL BRING A TEST CASE

East Side Improvement Association in Earnest Regarding Sidewalks.

The East Side Improvement Association at its meeting last evening decided to bring a test case to ascertain definitely if the city can lay sidewalks and collect the money for the work where a property-owner refuses or neglects to do so. Conditions in Holladay Addition, where many blocks of wooden sidewalks have rotted out, inspired this action.

PAVING

Attorney for Barber Company Accuses Competitor.

TWO BIDDERS FOR JOB

Barber Asphalt Company Offers One and Mysterious Mr. Solon the Other—Good Faith of Solon Questioned.

A new phase of the local paving fight was brought to light yesterday before the street committee of the Executive Board in a discussion during which many charges and reflections upon the methods of the Warren Construction Company were made by Dan J. Malarkey, attorney for the Barber Asphalt Company. Mr. Malarkey accused the opposing firm of entering blind bids for street improvements in bad faith to the city and that if property-owners in other sections of the city were to follow the bituminous macadam pavement.

The trouble arose over bids made under the newly enacted bituminous macadam pavement ordinance, which was passed for the purpose of permitting open competition for street improvements. The improvement under consideration was for a single block on the west side between Second and Third. There were two bids, one from the Barber Asphalt Company and the other signed by P. O. Solon. The latter caused all the disturbance.

Attorney Malarkey addressed the board, declaring that in his opinion the bid signed by P. O. Solon was entered at the instigation of the Warren Construction Company. He asserted that he believed it was put in with the purpose of blocking the operation of the new law and holding up the signatures of Solon on the bids with the signature of Solon on Mr. Seabrook's power of attorney and found they were apparently written by different persons. Mr. Malarkey made use of the point, asserting that it was additional evidence that everything that was done to injure the Warren Construction Company was behind the Solon bid and was making it in an underhand way for the sole purpose of thwarting the proper laying of the pavement.

"Some circumstances about this matter appear very suspicious," said Mayor Lane. "If the Warren Construction Company is behind this bid they could enjoin the making of the improvement in their own name and then calmly submit to the injunction under the name of P. O. Solon. If that is the case, I mean to find it out, and this man Solon must disclose himself and show that all is on the square before we shall consider his bid."

After Richard Montague denied that P. O. Solon was connected with the Warren Construction Company the matter was laid over until a more thorough investigation could be made.

MUCH CHEAPER.

Grape-Nuts Accomplished What Ocean Travel and Medicine Could Not.

It's not what you eat, but what you digest that gives strength. Many men die of stomach trouble year after year half dead, because their food is not digested and he takes first one kind of medicine and then another without relief, because medicine cannot take the place of well digested food, and never will.

Give nature a fair chance, as a prominent German-American of Chicago did, and if you're in a bad fix from stomach trouble, read what he says and try it on.

"About a year ago," he writes, "I was afflicted with stomach trouble which so weakened me I had to quit work. I grew so lean I was merely skin and bones. I had the advice of six different doctors and two college professors. One thought I had cancer of the stomach, and another advised a change of climate and recommended ocean travel. I decided to follow this last and went abroad for three months. My health became worse and worse. The least amount of food caused me awful pain, and I obtained relief only by having my stomach pumped out."

"Nothing did me any good. Soon I could take no food at all except strained oat meal; then a time came when I could not even take that. I lost courage and prepared myself to die. At that time my wife brought me a package of Grape-Nuts, but I had no confidence in any lay man's word."

"She finally persuaded me to taste a few spoonfuls of the new food and to my surprise I retained it and had no distress. That made me feel fine and encouraged me to make another trial for life. For several months I ate nothing else every day a bowl of Grape-Nuts with cream, and thus I regained my health, my old-time weight and am now as well as ever. It could not live without Grape-Nuts." INCREASE IN ATTENDANCE

Total Number of Students at Public Schools Yesterday, 14,410.

Attendance at the Portland schools showed a good increase yesterday over the opening day, reaching a total of 14,410. Many additional pupils were added to the enrollment of each of the schools but the greatest increase was shown on the East Side. Hardly any hoppers have returned to the city and the attendance yesterday between the two institutions was much larger than on any previous opening day. Compared with the 12,870 for 1905, it is a very large gain because the schools opened one week later last year. In 1904 no record is obtainable of the first day attendance, as four of the largest schools were delayed in commencing work. In 1903, the attendance on the first day was 9,842; the preceding year it was 9,950, and in 1901 it was 9,288.

The High School pupils were divided yesterday between the two institutions. The West Side High School has an enrollment of 855, and the new East Side High School organization contains 306.
