Heads Race for Office of Collector of Customs.

OTHERS ARE YET ACTIVE

Westgate, Shelley, Geer and Hofer Boomed, but None of Them Is Expected to Land in Patterson's Shoes.

Friends of P. S. Malcolm believe that he has a successful lead over other aspirants for the office of Collector of Cusns, now held by I. L. Patterson, whose toms, now held by I. L. Patterson, whose successor is to be recommended by Senator Fulton. That Mr. Malcolm will land the job is considered quite probable on all sides and the fact that in years back, he affiliated with what was known as the Simon wing of Republicans, though urged by his opponents against him is not injuring his chances; in fact Senator Fulton has said that if this is the only ground on which he can be apposed, it is nothing against him.

against him.

Another candidate still in the race is G. A. Westgate, of Albany, but he has been eclipsed by the rising name of Malcom. Mr. Westgate has been a steadfast Republican and is chairman of the State Central Committee, but the loss of the governorship in the last election is working against him and besides, he does not have as strong influences behind him as Malcolm. J. M. Shelley, of Eugene, has some claim on Senator Fulton, because ha was one of the Representatives in the Legislature of 1903 which elected Fulton. Shelley's influence, however, has waned, for I. H. Bingham, State Senator for Lane, was elected against his bitter

T. T. Geer, of Pendleton, and E. Hofer, of Salem, have been boomed, but are not considered in the fight for the place. Malcolm has strong suporters in the amps of both the old-time factions of the Republican party. They are out fighting for him vigorously and think they have their man landed successfully. Among his supporters in the old anti-Simon camp are W. R. Ellis, of Pendleton; John L. Rand, of Baker City; and A. A. Balley, C. W. Hodson, Sig Sichel, John W. Minte and Phil Metschan, of Portland.

LAST TIME "DOROTHY."

"Dorothy" at Heilig Theater Tonight-"Babette" Tomorrow Night.

The charming comic opera, "Dorothy," with hook and lyries by B. C. Stephenson, music by Alfred Cellier, will he given for the last time tonight at the Heilig Theater, Fourteenth and Washington streets, by the Stewart Opera Company. Tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday vight, with a apecial matinee Saturday, Victor Herbert's "Babette" will be given. Seats are new selling at theater box-offee for the now selling at theater box-office for the engagement.

"VAGRANTS" AT THE BAKER

Miss Lawrence and Miss Slossen Appear as Two Boys.

Judge Cameron has put the professional vagrant under the bar, but the "Two Little Vagrants" at the Baker Theater continue to be immensely popular, and there is not a court in the country but would award them the palm for an artistic portrayal of the life of the misfortunate urchins of France who are compelled to beg and steal until rescued by kind fate. Mina Gleason is at her best this week, but interest continues to center around Miss Lawrence and Miss Slessen as the two boys. The house is crowded every night. Matinee Saturday.

'On the Bridge at Midnight."

Sunshine and shadow in the form of humor and pathos alternate rapidly in the great scenic play, "On the Bridge at Midnight," which is attracting so much attention at the Empire this week. It is romantic without be-ing sensational, and bears the marked distinction of being natural, same and whole-

EXPLOITATION THE TOPIC

Effort Will Be Made to Adopt Plan of Advertising Resources of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

Widespread interest is being taken in the Pacific Northwest Convention, which will be held in Spokane, Wash., Tuesday, September 25. Anticipations are that the attendance will be very large. From the favorable reports that have been received it is reasonable to believe that practically every commercial organization of importance in the four states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana will be represented Idaho and Montana will be represented by creditable delegations.

A large delegation will go from Portland and other Oregon cities. The delegation will leave Portland at 6:15 o'clock Monday night, September 24, and will return to Portland the following Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. This will give the party two full days in Spokane. The following is the official call for the convention issued by Theodore B. Wilcox, chairman of the executive committee of the Portland Commercial Club, and G. B. Dennis, chairman of the publicity committee of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce:

As the result of extended conferences held

FEW KNOW OF THIS LAW

Arrests Constantly Being Made for Violations of Sidewalk Ordinance.

Since Portland has reached metropolttan proportions, the police have been ex-periencing great difficulty in enforcing what is commonly known as "the side-walk ordinance," which is designed to keep the city's sidewalks clear of mer-chandise. Endless annoyance has been occasioned because of the numerous viooccasioned because of the numerous vio-lations by business houses, the agents of whom are said by the authorities to be unaware of the law on the subject.

"I wish the merchants would look up "I wish the merchants would look up the ordinance and learn its provisions." said Judge Cameron yesterday. "Nearly all of the violations arise because of ignorance on the part of the violators; they do not know the law."

"All that is necessary for merchants to remember is that the law allows them to use the sidewalks only for goods in actual course of delivery or receipt;" said Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald.

Drunken Woman Is Spirited Away

Wife of Policeman Saved From Arrest to Avoid Scandal, and Another Woman, Less Intoxicated, Put in Place.

EVERY one has witnessed lightning changes on the stage that were surprisingly rapid, but the most sensational quick shift ever coming to the attention of the Portland police came off at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon when bartenders at the Livestock Exchange Saloon, Fourth and Ankeny streets. shifted a badly-intoxicated woman from the establishment and put in her stead a less intoxicated one. Following the lgihtning change may come a small-sized sensation in the police department, for, according to a report made to Chief Gritzmacher, the woman who was hastly smuggled from the Live-stock Exchange Saloon, was the wife of a policeman. It was to save her from arrest, the bartenders stated, that they spirited her away to a secret place and kept her in hiding until the police left the place.

The police were called to the Livestock Exchange Saloon to arrest a woman who had been creating turmoil there to the disgust of near neighbors. When the officers arrived, they found that the only woman in the establishment was somewhat under the influence of liquor, but very quiet. It was quite evident the riotous one had gone. The bartenders finally confessed. She was the wife of a member of the police force, they ex-plained, and they hurried her away to avoid the scandal that would follow, they

DELIGHTFUL WOMEN

Admire Pretty Millinery and Enjoy Good Music.

Crowds of well-dressed women kept pouring in and out of 375 Washington yesterday. Sweet strains orchestral music reached the sidewalk. A representative of The Oregonian mustered up sufficient courage to follow the crowd of femininity in an endeavor to find out the cause. It was nothing more or less than the Fall millinery opening at Becker's, better known as the "Paiais Royal." it would be impossible for a more man to describe the beautiful and wonderful creations temptingly exposed for the inspection of the hundreds of visitors but judging from the expressions heard on all sides, the exhibit was a remarkable one, even for such a well-known establishment as "Becker's."
