CASE OF DOG EAT DOG

ONE ST. LOUIS GRAFTER TRIES TO BLACKMAIL ANOTHER.

Ritter Arrested for Trying to Extort Money From Snyder for Not Testifying Against Him.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.—William H. Ritter, of Denver, an ex-member of the St. Louis House of Delegates, who wrote Governor Folk last week volunteering to come here and testify regarding the handling of boodle money when he was a municipal law-maker, was arrested last night at Hannibal, Mo., while on the Burlington train en route back to Denver. The arrest was made at the instigation of Circuit Attorney Sager, who charged that Ritter attempted to extort money from R. M. Snyder, of Kansas City, by threatening to testify that Snyder gave him boodle money to distribute when the Central Traction bill franchise was voted upon. The case against Snyder was dismissed Tuesday and Ritter, who had come here from Denver and kept his whereabouts secret, was returning to Denver when intercepted. He was brought to St. Louis today and placed in jail.

Eugene Sweeney, who was identified with the Central Traction deal as a promoter and who conferred with Ritter previous to the latter's departure yesterday, was also arrested and placed in jail. They will be held pending inquiry into the case.

should be "reimbursed," as he said others had been for services to Snyder. Sweeney told of a meeting with Fred G. Uthoff and former Delegate Louis Diekmann, also witnesses in the case, in Uthoff's saloon in Denver, and of Uthoff's remark that he intended to stay away from St. Louis. At this conference, he said Diekmann and Uthoff told him of Judge Reynolds' declaration at the former trial that if the necessary witnesses were not in court for trial, which was

Newest Fall Millinery

The Silverfield Millinery Salon is now complete with a most extensive array of Fall creations, and the apparent individuality will appeal to the most critical dresser.

Women's Smart Fall Suits

Beautiful new models will be shown here today—clever creations, with grace and individuality in every line and curve. In the selections of our many superb styles for Fall wear we have been guided by the two very important principles which have always characterized the elegant Silverfield displays.

A rare exclusiveness of style and very moderate cost.

Because of the fact that for years this store has been the recognized style center, unusual advantages are enjoyed. Not only are prominent makers and designers everywhere proud to have their most charming creations displayed here, but price advantages are invariably ours.
