Don Johnson Says He Was Driven Out of Seattle.

PUTS DAMAGES AT $30,000

While Serving as Night Foreman in Puget Sound Town Plaintiff Clashed With Union and Was Dropped From Membership.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 20.—Don E. Johnson, who claims he was driven out of Seattle and then expelled from the Typographical Union, today began suit against the Seattle Union and 27 of its members for $30,000, filing his action in the Federal Court. President Campbell, of the local union, alleges that the suit will merely put the union to the trouble of defending its action and that Johnson had forfeited his rights.

Johnson was at one time a night foreman employed by the Times. He discharged a printer for "slandering," but the man was subsequently reinstated by the local union. Another man against whom he charged dishonest conduct was also reinstated. Johnson was fined $50 on a charge that he had not acted for the best interests of the union, but he won on an appeal. He says in his complaint that he was forced from his position, which paid him $35, as a result of bad feeling between him and other union men and was finally dropped from the union.

Johnson alleges that Johnson lost his standing when he went to the Los Angeles Times, a paper employing nonunion printers.

The local Typographical Union holds $5000 worth of stock in the Labor Temple and has considerable property. The individual members made defendants to the suit are also well provided with funds.

Pilot Rock Merchants Cash Worthless Checks Written by C. Cousins.

PENDLETON, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—According to information given the Sheriff's office yesterday, three merchants of Pilot Rock were recently swindled out of amounts ranging from $24 to $28 each by Charles Cousins. Several days ago Cousins was given a check for $15 by K. G. Warner, and the number of the same was 9. The check was cashed in Pilot Rock and Cousins thought No. 9 was a lucky one, for he wrote out three more, using that number, and signed each with Warner's name. One check for $28 was cashed by John Sylvester, another for the same amount was taken by Sturdivant & Co., and the third for $24 was cashed by Jordan saloon.

Yesterday forenoon it was discovered that the three checks were forged, and the Sheriff was notified. Cousins had been working for K. G. Warner for some time, but is an old resident of this country. The checks were drawn upon the First National Bank of Pendleton.

WHEAT OF INFERIOR QUALITY

Grades in Effect Last Year in Washington Have Been Re-established.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—The grain grades that were in effect last year were re-established for the ensuing 12 months at the annual meeting of the state grain commission today, in the offices of the state grain inspector. All three of the commissioners, J. W. Arrasmith, W. H. Reed and D. F. Anderson, were present.

Not so large a per cent of the grain will grade No. 1 this year as last, is the opinion of the commissioners, who have been spending great deal of their time lately in inspecting the grain fields of the state. Most of the wheat will be of an inferior grade.

ADAMS HEARING POSTPONED

Elvie Mason, Alleged Accomplice, Gives Himself Up at Wallace.

WALLACE, Idaho, Sept. 20.—The preliminary hearing of Steve Adams, witness in the Steenberg assassination case, and charged here with the murder of John Doe Tyler, was being continued Saturday, when the state will ask a continuance until Monday. Elvie Mason, charged with being an accomplice, came to Wallace with an attorney and gave himself up. He is in jail. Thomas Glenn, wanted as a witness, was arrested today, but is not held in jail.

Took Liquor Upon Reservation.

PENDLETON, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Bert Cartano, the Athena saloonman and hallplayer, and Charles Gay, also of that city, were arrested yesterday afternoon for being found on the reservation with liquor in their possession. At the time of their arrest they were on a hunting expedition from Athena to the mountains, and they were arrested at Thorn Hollow. Last evening the two men were brought to Pendleton by the Indian police and required to appear before Commissioner John Halley, Jr. He fixed their bail for appearance in the Federal Court at $100 each, and this was furnished by each man.

The case against the above two is identical with that of those who were arrested on the reservation one Sunday recently, and they will probably be disposed of by Judge Wolverton at the same time.

Big Crowds at Yakima Fair.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—At 2 o'clock this afternoon a special train of 16 coaches arrived from Seattle, bringing over 1,000 visitors to the state fair. Today was Seattle and Alaska-Yukon-Pacific day and a special programme was given. I. A. Nadeau, director general of the exposition, gave a brief address at the fair grounds in the afternoon.

Tomorrow will see a crowd here of larger proportions than has ever been seen in the city. Nearly 1,000 Tacoma boosters arrived here Tuesday and the larger part of them stayed over. Over 600 people came here yesterday from Kittitas county and, with the 100 or more from Seattle today, the city is lively. The hotels are crowded and private residences are being rapidly filled.

Suit Affects Entire Holdings.

SPOKANE, Sept. 20.—A suit has been started in the Superior Court of Spokane County that questions the validity of the entire holdings of the Northern Pacific Railway Company extending from Seattle to St. Paul. It also questions the right of the company to hold any of the lands granted the Northern Pacific Railway Company, which have since been acquired by the Northern Pacific Railway Company.

The suit is brought by Joseph H. Boyd against the Northern Pacific Railway Company and the Northern Pacific Rail-

Nautical Training School Proposed.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—A nautical training school will be proposed to the next session of the Legislature. Shipping interests will be asked to use an influence with the Legislature and to provide a training ship for the school, if the Navy Department will not follow out an act of Congress that authorizes the Navy Department to turn over training ships to the state for the purpose of providing for the maintenance of the training ships. On the Pacific Coast are the Ranger and Adams, which would be available, and the President has authority to detail naval officers to act as instructors.

SPIRIT TOLD OF DEATH

MRS. TURNER WARNED OF SON'S FATE IN DREAM.

Portland Woman Identifies Body of Young Man Run Over and Killed at Salem.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—"Hero-worship," bad company and strong drink are responsible for my son's downfall and violent death," said Mrs. A. G. Turner, of Portland, who arrived this morning and identified the young man who was run over here Tuesday and died the same evening, as her only child and son.

He was a fatalist, and before leaving home Monday to beat his way to San Francisco, he told me that he was going to be killed. When I read the account of the accident and death in his spirit visited me the night he died.

"He had led an eventful and adventurous life ever since boyhood, but he began to travel the downward path more rapidly seven years ago, when he returned from service in the Philippines with Company I, Fortieth Infantry, U. S. A., and especially since his head was turned with flattery and his marriage, which turned out to be a failure. He has a darling little 3-year-old child, who was with her mother in San Francisco at the time of the fire, and the constant worry over her welfare has been heavy on his mind ever since, and caused him to drink hard."

Mrs. Turner says she is the widow of G. Turner, deceased, who was at one time one of the most noted attorneys and politicians of Nevada. Her son was a licentiate by trade, and worked with Bush & Mallett, of San Francisco, for several years before coming to Portland, since which time he had done practically nothing.

Turner resides at the Cosmos, 2634 Morrison street, Portland.

TENDERLOIN IS SCORCHED.

Four Frame Buildings Destroyed by Fire at Aberdeen.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Fire this morning destroyed four frame buildings in the tenderloin district and damaged one other. There was almost a panic among the denizens of that quarter, which is thick with frame buildings, and for a time the entire district was threatened.

The fire department kept playing upon warehouses and wharves and kept the flames confined to the buildings burned. The loss is between $10,000 and $20,000, with only $3,000 insurance. The buildings were owned by Samuel Benn, Ed Thompson, Alexander Castrino and Mrs. Alexander Castrino.

Yakima Democratic Ticket.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—At the Democratic county convention the following ticket was nominated today:

Sheriff, John M. Edwards; Prosecuting Attorney, Henry H. Wendt; Clerk, George Ley; Auditor, D. L. Thackin; Treasurer, C. C. Case; Assessor, Henry D. Wheeler; School Superintendent, Carrie Young; Surveyor, C. O. Adams; Coroner, A. G. Shaw; Commissioners, Peter Bonneau and Barney Morrison; Representatives, B. Stroback and J. J. McAulay, Floyd Hatfield, Richard Stroback, A. Winsor, Jr., F. H. Wendt, H. G. Snively, C. W. Schrader, T. D. Quinn and Joseph Liegett.

Road Fund Is Cleaned Out.

PENDLETON, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—For the first time in the history of Umatilla County there is no money in the road fund of the treasury. This condition has come about as a result of the flood of the early spring and during the month the county has spent more than $20,000 in repairs of various kinds.

This time on until the treasury is replenished the road work will have to be paid for by warrants which will draw interest at the rate of 6 per cent.

In the opinion of Treasurer Bradley it will be five or six months before the county will have money enough to get back on a cash basis for its road work.

Date of Thompson's Trial Set.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Chester Thompson, son of Will H. Thompson, noted lawyer and author, who shot Judge G. Meade Emory two months ago, will be tried November 15 on a charge of murder in the first degree. Young Thompson was to have been tried September 17, but his father showed that Mrs. Thompson, a paralytic invalid, was likely to die at any moment and he could not give attention to his son's defense. Judge Frater struck the case from the criminal calendar, but today fixed a date for the trial.

Gathered in an Ice Cream Parlor and Then Applied to the Piano Business

Reed-French's Man Goes Visiting and Learns a Thing or Two—It's Worth While, That's Why We Tell It. You'll Better Understand Then Why They Sell a Beautiful Piano for $290 That Up-town Retailers Must Ask $400 For.

The writer of this advertisement had occasion recently to hear two little boys talking ice cream. Now, this is a subject of which the writer, himself, is much interested, and naturally wanted to hear what the boys had to say.

It seems the finest ice cream parlor in this big town doesn't give as much ice cream for the money as some of the other parlors do, and herein lay their criticism. The writer investigated the facts and found the boys were correct. The best-fitted parlor gave smaller measure, but the plainer parlor, gave more ice cream and more cake.—The owner of the first place relied on his location—his swell fixtures—his long-established reputation and a whole lot of other phantoms of trade, but he forgot the mainspring of modern merchandising—that people go into an ice cream parlor for ice cream.

IT IS THE SAME WITH PIANOS—The dealer on the expensive street—his magnificent store—his big line of instruments—his versatile clerks talking three or four languages, and all the rest of it that go to make the swell establishment, doesn't amount to the snap of the finger when it comes to the tone of a piano.

Now, honestly, isn't it tone you're after when you buy a piano? For, if you're like other folks we know, you want the goods, not the glitter.

Let's be plain. The Reed-French location (Sixth and Burnside)—the Reed-French selling plan—the Reed-French pianos—considered together, make it possible for us to offer you a most exquisitely toned piano at a price that must stagger old line retailers.—$290 AND ON TIME.

Would it interest you to know we have sold over fifty pianos in twenty-six working days? There can be but one reason for this—A superior piano for less money, that's it—the truth is, we give more cream.
