NO TRACE OF MISSING BOY

MRS. DELL BELIEVES SON WAS KIDNAPED OR DROWNED.

Was Seen by Acquaintance in Rowboat—Mysterious Woman Figures in Case.

One week ago yesterday morning, Richard Dell, the 15-year-old boy, who is mysteriously missing from his mother's house, was seen by a man who knows him, bailing out a small row boat at the foot of Jefferson street. From this circumstance, his mother and the police incline somewhat to the belief that, instead of being kidnaped, the lad fell overboard and drowned. Since he was seen in the rowboat, the boy's whereabouts is unknown, and his mother is most anxious concerning his fate. Stricken with grief at his prolonged absence, she cannot sleep or eat, and is worn with suspense and fear. The tears

STORMY SESSION IS HELD

LITTLE DONE AT MEETING OF ST. JOHNS CITY COUNCIL.

Dispute Over Extension of Fire Limits Results in Postponement of Action on the Subject.

ST. JOHNS, Or., Sept. 25—If tonight's session of the City Council be a criterion, Mayor Hinman's administration will be no exception to the stormy ones of his predecessors. An effort to re-establish the fire limits precipitated a vigorous discussion, in which pointed personalities were exchanged between Councilmen Hewett and King, questioning each other's motives. Mr. Hewitt championed a new boundary and Mr. King opposed any change. After lengthy discussion the subject passed over for a week. An effort to remove an incandescent light in Councilman Hewitt's precinct was postponed for a week's consideration. The bid of Goodard Hoffman of $170.00 for the improvement of Oswego street between Portland boulevard and Dawson street was accepted. Recorder Thornlyke asked for instruction of the Council in paying City Engineer fees. Engineer Goodrich refuses to pay advertising expenses out of the 5 per cent commission allotted him. City Attorney Greene interprets the charter that his fee covers the advertising, while another section of the charter, Mr. Goodrich contends, relieves him of it. To make matters worse, Mayor Hinman declared all appointive offices vacant when he assumed the Mayoralty, and has so far failed to appoint a successor to the Engineer. An effort to extend the veto privilege to the Mayor, now denied him by charter regulation, precipitated a heated discussion. In which Councilman Hewitt contended it was a move to defeat the proposed readjustment of the fire limits, as Mayor Hinman is presumed to be antagonistic to the new movement. The veto ordinance went over for a week. P. J. Peterson, Chris Ohlms and John Poff were selected appraisers in the extension of Allegheny street. Mayor Hinman retained the privilege of Woman Attempts New Swindling Game.

Orders Dress in Name of Another Woman—Fails to Carry Scheme into Effect.

If you need a new Winter suit or a gown of the latest style and happen to be "chey" on coin, just get busy on the telephone and do what a clever bunco woman did yesterday. After partly completing the job this unknown individual evidently got "cold feet" and quit, probably fearing arrest. Yesterday morning a feminine voice called up Mrs. Joel A. Eastman, 111 Royal avenue, Tabor Heights, and asked, "Are you going to be home all day?" "Who is speaking?" asked Mrs. Eastman. "Oh, a friend of yours," the voice gave the order was an impostor, and the trick was exposed. No one ever called at the store for the gown that was ordered, and it is believed the person became frightened and feared to return for it.
