TO BUILD SMELTER

Washougal Mining Company Will Spend $500,000.

PLANT TO BE NEAR CITY

Will Employ 400 Hands and Will Treat Ores From Company's Mine Near Cape Horn and From Alaska.

More than $500,000 is shortly to be invested in the erection of a smelter near Portland. Eastern capitalists interested in the Washougal Gold & Copper Mining Company, which is operating on the Washougal River, have decided to establish a smelter near Portland and it will be running full blast in less than a year.

Announcement of the smelter was made last night by F. A. Mabee, of St. Louis, president of the Washougal Gold & Copper Mining Company. Mr. Mabee is now a guest at the Hotel Portland in company with a score or more of capitalists who are associated with him.

Most of the men are from St. Louis and Texas. No Oregon money has been invested in the enterprise.

"We shall begin work on the smelter as soon as we finish the development of our property near Cape Horn," stated Mr. Mabee last night. "You can state that the smelter will be in operation in less than a year. Before very long we shall have an output at the mines of about 500 tons of ore daily. This ore will be shipped from Cape Horn to our smelter near Portland. We also expect to obtain ore from Alaska."

Among the stockholders of the company who are now at the Hotel Portland with Mr. Mabee, are John Scobour, of Dallas, the biggest cattleman in Texas; Henry Dorsey, Holt Harton, Dallas capitalists; George Kramer, of Waco, Texas, and Father Preaker, also of Texas, a Catholic priest, who has some interest in the company. The party leaves this morning for Cape Horn to inspect the property.

Mr. Mabee stated last night that he and all the others interested with him, are satisfied that they have one of the greatest copper mines in the country, and are ready and willing to expend hundreds of thousands of dollars in the enterprise. The stock of the company is not for sale, and the stockholders for the most part are personal friends of Mr. Mabee.

To date the Washougal Gold & Copper Mining Company has expended about $300,000 on the property which is located 15 miles from Cape Horn. About 100 men are now at work. About half of them are employed at the mine and the others are at work preparing the grade for an electric road to run from Cape Horn to the mine. This road will be of standard gauge. Before the mine can be operated at profit, about $300,000 more will have to be expended.

PIKE'S PEAK CENTENNIAL

Fairbanks Speaks to Huge Crowd of Pioneers and Descendants.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 25.—Pioneer day, the second in the Pike centennial celebration week, opened auspiciously as did the week itself with a vast throng of outsiders in the city. The day had been set aside for the glorification of the efforts and achievements of the early pioneers. The influx of pioneers from Colorado and neighboring states made a gathering that never has been equaled in this section of the country.

The formal exercises were conducted in the open air, the meeting being held at Stratton Park at the entrance to the famous Cheyenne Canyon, at 11:30 this morning. The speakers at this meeting were General Frank Hall, one time secretary of Jefferson Territory, and Judge Wilbur F. Stone, of Denver.

Owing to the fact that it was seen early that the Grand Opera-House would accommodate only a small part of the crowd that desired to hear the address of Vice-President Fairbanks, the meeting was held in the open air. The Vice-President spoke from the band stand in Acadia Park to fully 10,000 persons. He was introduced by Congressman Frank E. Brooks, and seldom has a speaker received such an ovation in this city.

A public reception at the home of Mr. Brooks at 4 o'clock this afternoon has a speaker at the head of the parade. The banks was the chief social event of the day.

The throng that has been present at Camp Pike since the arrival of the Army detachments here on Friday and Saturday was undiminished today. The military features of today's programme consisted of a dress parade by the Twenty-ninth Infantry on the Cascade avenue plaza, followed by a concert by the Twenty-ninth Infantry Band. The polo and golf tournaments were continued today, and Indian dances at the Broadmoor and concerts by the military band this evening completed today's programme.

Taxation of Indian Improvements.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—In a letter addressed to Prosecuting Attorney Bennett, of Ferry County, Attorney General J. D. Atkinson tenders him the assistance of his office if he decides to carry to the United States Supreme Court the question of taxation of permanent improvement made on lands allotted to Indians under the act of Congress of February 1887. Under this act the lands are held in trust for the Indians for 25 years, at the end of which time they are to be awarded to them, free from all incumbrances.

Railroad Warehouse Robbed.

RAINIER, Or., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—The warehouse of W. H. Rambo, a merchant at this place, was broken open last evening by sneakthieves and several sacks of sugar, three barrels of flour and a quantity of canned goods were taken. The lock on the door was broken by the thieves and by this means an entrance was made. No clew of the robbers has been obtained.

DEMURRER IS FILED

Crowd in Court to See Young Velguth Disappointed.

ARGUMENT NEXT MONDAY

If Demurrer is Overruled, as It Probably Will Be, Date Will Be Set for Velguth to Be Arraigned and Plead.

For the reason that his attorney had filed a demurrer in the case and it was not necessary for him to be on hand, Bernard O. Velguth, accused of embezzling $2100 from the Portland Gas Company, did not appear before Judge Sears yesterday morning to plead to the information against him. The court set next Wednesday morning for argument in the case, and the demurrer was overruled, which will probably follow the course of proceedings. Velguth will be arraigned and will plead, and his case will thereupon be assigned to one of the departments by Presiding Judge Sears for trial.

It was rumored around the Courthouse at the time the demurrer was filed that Velguth was in the building, and much curiosity was manifested to get a glimpse of the young man, but W. W. Banks, his attorney, last night declared that his client was nowhere near the Courthouse at any time yesterday.

Although District Attorney Manning declared that he intended to prosecute Velguth with the utmost vigor, and that it was his calculation to force the young man to trial as speedily as possible, he will have to reckon with Attorney Banks in some of his estimates, for the District Attorney of Multnomah County will be met by a lawyer who knows several turns in the road; hence there is no telling when Velguth will face a jury, as any shrewd lawyer is capable of creating all kinds of delays if he feels so disposed.

OLD DAMAGE CASE BOBS UP

Final Evidence Taken in Suit of Mrs. Jane Ingfield.

Hearing of final evidence in the $10,000 damage suit of Mrs. Jane Ingfield against the Portland Consolidated Railway Company was concluded before Judge Cleland yesterday afternoon and the case taken under advisement. The case was partially tried at the June term, and but few witnesses testified yesterday. The plaintiff set up in her complaint that on October 12 last she attempted to board an Eleventh street car, when it started and she was thrown violently to the ground, sustaining a serious shock to her nervous system. Besides sundry contusions, by reason of no report of the accident having been made to the officials of the company, they defaulted on answering the complaint of Mrs. Ingfield, and the only question for Judge Cleland to pass on relates to the measure of damages.

This is the second time within the past year or so that Mrs. Ingfield has been injured in car accidents, and upon a previous occasion recently she collected $3200 damages on that account. Her attorney for plaintiff, while Dan J. Malarky represented the defense, Judge Cleland gave out no intimation when he would decide the case.

TXAS STEER' A GREAT FUNMAKER.

The announcement that several of Hoyt's imitable comedies are to be revived by the Baker Stock Company will be a welcome one to Portland, as these old favorites are always new and we all love to laugh. "The Texas Steer" is promised for next week, and with Miss Lawrence as Basie and Mr. Thornton as the Senator, it will be equal to any of the old road companies which produced this famous funmaking comedy.

"Millionaire Tramp" Coming Here.

Either Walters' great production of "A Millionaire Tramp," which is coming to the Emure next week, is said to be one of the best things on the road this season. It is replete with comedy and the many features which amuse the masses, the scenery is a remarkable feature and the great temperance lesson which is unfolded with the plot places it on a high plane in stanzel.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS

Grand Opera at the Grand.

This week the Grand is giving a bill of superior vaudeville. It is strictly high-class, for the acts are presented by people famous in the vaudeville, minstrel and operatic world. Every person with a cultivated musical taste will be delighted with the Nellie Andrews Company in the selections from "Il Trovatore." Charles D. Hazelrigg is carried especially to direct the orchestra for this act.

"East Lynne" at the Star.

Miss Oswald, the new leading woman of the Allen Stock Company at the Star, is giving one of the best portrayals of Lady Isabelle in "East Lynne" that Portland theatergoers have ever seen. This is not surprising, since Miss Oswald was leading woman for the tragedian, Charles E. Hanford, and played the leads with the noted Dearborn Stock Company, in Chicago, and the Columbia Stock Company, in Spokane.

Pantages Strong Bill.

The feature of the new bill at Pantages Theater is "The Four Bees," a novelty military act from Chicago. The act is something entirely new to Portland. The moving pictures are also a feature this week, showing the wonderful racing film, "The Hundred-to-One Shot."

"A Cuban Spy" at the Lyric.

The play that suits everybody is hard to find, but the Lyric Stock Company seems to have discovered it this week in "A Cuban Spy" and the stock company is making the most of the find. It is a powerful semi-military melodrama of Cuban life and conditions and at this time is especially timely.

SOCIETY DRAMA AT THE BAKER

"The Wilderness" Is Admirably Cast and Beautifully Staged.

"The Wilderness," this week's unparalleled offering at the Baker, is a society drama in the true sense of the word, but it may also be styled a problem play. The situations which lead up to the solution of the problem, that of a young woman's unsuspected love for her husband, are adroit and masterful and go to make up one of the most beautiful plays we have enjoyed from the pen of Edmond. The piece is admirably cast and beautifully staged. All week, with Saturday matinee.

TWO PERFORMANCES TODAY

Georgia Minstrels at the Hellig Afternoon and Night.

There will be two performances at The Hellig Theater today—a bargain matinee at 2:15 o'clock and the last performance tonight at 8:15. This celebrated colored organization has played in this city for many years and has always given the best of satisfaction, which can truthfully be said of their performance this season, as the past two crowded nights will attest. Seats are selling at the theater for both performances.

MISS SMART'S POPULARITY AT EMPRE.

The management of "Mad Love," the great successful drama which is the week's bill at the Empre, is unusually fortunate in having secured Miss Marjette Smart as a star. She is a young California girl, only 15 years old, but her remarkable talent and earnest work have pushed her to the top of the ladder at this early age. "Mad Love" is a beautiful play, and with Miss Smart in the title role of Lady Audley, is irresistible. All week and Saturday matinee.
