WHEATBUYINGSLOW

Dock Strike May Stop Local Trade Entirely.

EXPORTERS WILL

Much Underlying Strength of the Market, but No Inducement to Do Business Until Question Is Settled.

The effect of the grainhandlers' strike is beginning to show itself in the local wheat market. Business has fallen off in the last two days to a considerable degree and is likely cease entirely in a short time unless the clined to take on supplies for shipment from this port in view of the unsettled conditions. Millers are not buying now, in the absence of export demand, and as there is no wheat going to California and will be no special woment in that line before the first of the year it is evident that trading must come to an entire stop and the shipping of wheat to this point cease until dock matters are straightened out.

The strike is unfortunate at this time, as udillons are such that the farmers could sell now to good advantage if the exporters ere able to handle their wheat. The markets have been good for some time past and yesterday were particularly favorable. rom the advances at Chicago and San Francisco, the foreign markets were higher. Deand closed at 6s 54d, and English country markets were quoted 6d dearer. French country markets were firm. London cables reported Walla Walla cargoes steady at 29s 6d.

VALORIZATION PLAN ARRANGED. Brazil's Coffee Scheme Goes Through and Higher Prices Will Result.

Telegrams were received from New York yesterday stating that the financing of the Brazilian coffee valorization scheme had been arranged. This will undoubtedly mean higher

Bankers of New York and Europe have agreed to advance the money needed, about $20,000,000. The object of the plan is to maintain coffee at a remunerative price to the grower by establishing a minimum quotation at which it is to be upheld by purchasers of soffee un account of the three coffee status Interest on the loans made is guaranteed and paid by a tax on every bag of themselves to maintain in the native markets a minimum price of 32 to 35 milreis per bag of 60 kilos for the first year. This price is to be gradually raised after the first year to a maximum of 40 milesis. The exportation of inferior coffees will be discouraged and the extension of acreage prevented in 1907

Poultry Market Weak. The poultry market apparently is on the verge of a general break. Home dealers lowered 'their quotations I cent yesterday and an all-around decline can be looked for if today's receipts are heavy. The city creameries quote the butter market firm, but the feeling on Front street is sazy. Some cold-storage butter is being shipped to Fruit Supply Delayed.

The fruit supply ran low yesterday, as the Southern express was delayed. Grapes only were plentitul. Heavy arrivals of potatoes have caused weaker prices. A car of aweet potatoes arrived last night.

Stocks are Unsettled by Exaggerated Storm News.

GREAT CALAMITY FEARED

Subsidence of Political Discussion. Early Requirements of Money Market Expected to Be of Temporary Effect.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The currents of the stock market shifted as constantly today as yesterday and speculative sentiment seemed to undergo the same vacilitations during the day. The effective efforts on the side of higher prices practically ended after the shock caused by the alarmist rumors regarding the extent of the harm done by the storm in the Southern States, although there was a temporary recovery after it was learned how temporary recovery after it was learned how far the early rumors were exaggerated. As these rumors pointed to the annihilation of the City of New Orleans and almost a repetition of the San Francisco calamity, the effect on prices of stocks was natural when the results following the San Francisco calamity to the san proper were remembered. There were some results following the San Francisco callaga-trophe were remembered. There were some misgivings over the effect on the cotton crop. The advance in prices was largely in sym-pathy with the whipping up of Reading. There was some subsidence of political discussion with the adjournment of the New York party conventions until late in the day. The late hear drive against the market was accom-nanced with professions of anxiety over the panied with professions of anxiety over the possible disturbing effect upon business confidence of an active campaign waged along the lines indicated by the political outlook.

Fears of a pinch in the money market also played a part in the pressure on the market.

The largest requirements to be met on October 1 are expected to be of temporary effect and of a kind to find their way back at an early day into the channels of the money market It is pointed out, however, that large maturi the so time loans occur during October, es-pecially in the form of finance bills placed with foreigners and the open discrimination fately exercised by foreign money lenders against American borrowers raised the posshillity of difficulties to be met in renewing these bills in case of need. A gold engagement of $1,500,0000 was reported. A good impression was produced by the Bank of England authorities refraining from advancing its official discount rate, but the weekly statement shows a material weak-ness, both by loss of bullion and increases of leans. The Bank of France also showed a loss of $3,335,000 in gold and an expansion of $20,000,000 in outstanding loans. The sterling exchange rate at Paris declined in consonance with this showing. The tone of the call money market was hard but showed no disturbance.

The considerable rally at the last was due to covering of short contracts by the bears.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, pavalue, $1,778,000. United States bonds were changed on call.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Scritment in the wheat pit was inclined to bullishness all day. At the start, the market was influenced by comparative atrength of the wheat market at Liverpool, where prices showed moderate gains. Trading during the first part of the session Trading during the first part of the session was quiet. During the second hour, however, more animation was manifested and the market became strong. The upturn was due largely to covering by shorts, who became slarmed by the active buying of leading commission houses. A good demand for cash wheat also helped to stimulate the buying of options. The market closed strong, December opened unchanged to $1c higher at 75% $1. December corn closed $1c$ up at $75%.
