

WOMAN KILLS BEAR

Exciting Chase Through the Tillamook Brush.

DOG PROVES A GOOD ALLY

Mrs. M. J. Cone Found Her Clothing Cumbered in the Rapid Pursuit, So She Discards Much of It on the Run.

TILLAMOOK, Or., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Mrs. M. J. Cone, who lives with her husband at Netarts, and who rents the well-known Maxwell place at the rocks on Netarts beach, today was the heroine of an exciting chase. She had gone to the Maxwell place, and returning home along the horseback, and having as much garden truck as she could carry, she came across a large bear in her way.

Avoiding the bear as much as possible, Mrs. Cone drove her horse at full gallop to her home, and obtaining a 22-40 Winchester and a shepherd dog, she returned to the place where she had seen the bear. The bear was soon located at the sheep-pen, and from that time on Mrs. Cone had a highly-exciting time. Getting within close range of the bear, she fired her first shot at the animal, which broke off on three legs.

Mrs. Cone followed it up and fired again at close range, the bullet striking the bear in the nose and coming out at the side of the head. For some time the bear wallowed around with Mrs. Cone and the dog after it when it dashed off into the thick brush. This did not daunt Mrs. Cone in the least, for she followed as fast as her clothes would permit, some of which she threw off so as not to impede her progress.

Every once in a while she came up with the bear, and did not miss an opportunity to fire. For over a mile she chased her quarry in the thick brush, and succeeded in hitting the animal four times. The dog, nipping at the bear's heels, forced him to take to a log, when a desperate fight occurred between the two animals. The bear kept running the dog off with its paw. Mrs. Cone came up and, at about 15 feet distance, took aim and shot the bear in the breast of the neck. When the log and the dog jumped on it, when another savage fight commenced. At the mouth and the bear caught it by the mouth and the bear caught it by the mouth and the bear caught it by the mouth.

W. S. UREN IS VERY WILLING

If the People Demand It He Will Accept United States Senatorship.

OREGON CITY, Or., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—"I have never given an interview on the question of my becoming a senator," said W. S. Uren, of this city, who was recently suggested by a Portland paper as a likely successor to the late United States Senator C. W. Fulton in 1908. About the same time an alleged interview from Mr. Uren on the same subject was published in an Oregon City paper. These published reports were followed by editorial comments of such a character that Mr. Uren's true position with relation to the subject may be considered of interest. When seen today, he said:

"I am not the kind of politician who expects to succeed by concealing my plans. As to running against Senator Fulton in 1908, I have no plans. That any one should consider me worthy of the office of United States Senator is high honor and for that I am grateful. But I realize that I am not a senator, and I will have against all comers in that race, if he wishes to be a candidate before the people to succeed himself.

KENDRICK WOMAN TREASURER BRAVES WRIT OF COURT.

Her Lawyer Gets Judge's Ear Before the City Attorney and Case Is Postponed.

MOSCOW, Idaho, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—A writ of mandate was today served upon Miss Anna Nelson, treasurer of the Oregon State Teachers' Association, who is being sued by the city of Moscow for the amount of $1,000. The writ was issued by the city attorney, and the case was set for trial in the district court today. Miss Nelson's lawyer, however, Miss Nelson's attorney called upon the judge by telephone, and it was agreed that continued proceedings should not be instituted before next Monday.

DISCUSS SCHOOL LEGISLATION

County and City Superintendents to Meet at Salem.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—The Department of Superintendent of the Oregon State Teachers' Association will hold a special session at the Capitol in this city on Friday and Saturday of this week, for the purpose of considering needed school legislation. The department is composed of all County and City Superintendents of Schools and all public school principals. Superintendent E. T. Moores, of Marion County, is president, and George W. Denman, of Clackamas, secretary.

Sidewalks for School Children.

BAKER CITY, Or., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Baker city four miles of sidewalk will be put in in Baker immediately, to enable the children who are to attend the North End School, which is to be opened this Fall, to get there without wading through mud and wet. The improvement was ordered in by the Council at the demand of the School Board, and is almost entirely within one ward. It is estimated that it will cost the property-owners about $500.

Christian Church Concluded.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Thursday and Friday the Central District Convention of Christian Churches will be held with the Albany church of that denomination. The local congregation is making elaborate preparations for the event.

Watchman Shoots Emmett Marshall.

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—At Emmett last night City Marshal W. E. Banks was shot by a young man named Ralph Black. The latter was acting as watchman in a fruit-packing house. During the night some hoodlums threw stones at the place. The watchman fired through the roof to frighten them.

Levy Reduced in Baker County.

BAKER CITY, Or., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Baker's tax levy this year will be 30 mills less than half that in Baker City last year, while in the country districts the levy this year will be about one-third of that of last. The County Court has based an estimate, and although the levy has not been determined, it may be stated that the amount of an estimated levy for this year will be only about one-half of that of last year. In the city itself 30 mills will take the place of 67, which was paid in Baker last year.

HILLSBORO, Or., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—A bullet, one of the jurors in the highest case of Carter M. Snyder, today brought in the remains, and stated to the acting coroner that he had found an additional $125, which had slipped out of Snyder's clothes when the skeleton was being placed in a box for transportation.

KELSO DENIES KNOWLEDGE

County Seat Removal Campaign in Hands of Reputable Citizens.

KELSO, Wash., Oct. 2.—In the October 24 edition of The Morning Oregonian there appears an article dated Castle Rock, Wash., Oct. 1, and saying that a number of Castle Rock's petitioners had been stolen, presumably by some one in Kelso. The management of Kelso's campaign for the removal of the county seat from Kalama to Kelso, in Coville's hands, has been a matter of some reputation business men of Kelso, and this committee absolutely denies all knowledge of the above affair and challenges the man in the dark who wrote it to come out and fight.

Murdered by Highway Robbers.

OROVILLE, Cal., Oct. 2.—A hold-up murder occurred in the vicinity of Oroville, Cal., Oct. 2. A man named John Turner, a negro, and John Perry, a half-breed—employed as laborers on the railroad—were driving a street-car to their home in Oroville, when two men came upon them and ordered them to throw up their hands. Turner says he obeyed, but Perry refused and was murdered. The body was found in a ditch, and the man's legs were broken, and his body was badly mangled. Papers in the dead man's pocket would identify him as Walter B. Taylor, of Gale.

Man Run Over by Train.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Train No. 12, arriving at Centralia from Seattle, ran over a man named John Adams, who was walking across the tracks. Adams was killed about midway between here and Chehalis. One of the man's legs was broken, and his body was badly mangled. Papers in the dead man's pocket would identify him as Walter B. Taylor, of Gale.

Best Evidence Kept Quiet

Adams Trial Will Bring Out Sensations, Says Detective McParland.

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—James McParland, western manager of the Portland Detective Agency, returned today to Boise, where he was in attendance upon the hearing of Steve Adams on the charge of murdering Fred Tyler. In referring to the fact that Adams had been held over for trial, McParland said this evening:

"There was plenty of evidence at hand to make it necessary to hold Adams for trial, and to wit, his own more forthcoming had it been necessary to present it. In fact, not over one-third of the evidence in the hands of the writ of mandate today, City Attorney West left Kendrick for Lewis, to inform the District Court, which issued the writ of her resignation of the same and to ask that she be reinstated for contempt, the penalty being $1000. Before he reached that point, however, Miss Nelson's attorney called upon the judge by telephone, and it was agreed that continued proceedings should not be instituted before next Monday.

NURSERY BUYS LARGE TRACT

900 Acres of Prairie Land in Washington County to Be Planted.

HILLSBORO, Or., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—One of the largest realty deals ever made in Washington County was closed here yesterday, when the Oregon Nursery Company, for years doing business in Marion County, paid out over $90,000 for farm and orchard land in the vicinity of this city, involving over 900 acres of choice prairie, and all cleared.

RAILS TO PLOT ROCK

O. R. & N. Will Soon Build a Branch Line.

SURVEY IS COMPLETED

As Soon as All the Right of Way Has Been Secured the Work on the Road Will Be Commenced.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—That the Pilot Rock branch of the O. R. & N. will be built within a reasonable time is the assurance given the people of that place by General Manager J. P. O'Brien, of the O. R. & N. system, who has just returned to Pendleton from a trip over the survey of the branch line to the town of Pilot Rock. O'Brien was accompanied by J. W. Morrow, tax and land agent of the O. R. & N., and together they closely inspected the line of the proposed road and investigated the business prospects of that community, and, after making their observation, the people of Pilot Rock were assured by the officials that the branch will be a certainty. It is hoped to secure the remainder of the right of way soon, that actual work may begin. The line will have a junction with the main line of the O. R. & N. near the mouth of Birch Creek, and the branch trains will use the main line between the junction and this city. Pendleton will be the starting point for trains and will be the actual junction, although a switch will be placed two miles west of the city for convenience and to save building that much needless track for the branch.

The officials were well pleased with the outlook of the road surrounding Pilot Rock, and on their return to this city expressed the belief that portions of that country would develop into as rich and productive lands as any anywhere in the county, or in the inland Empire.
