SUBPENA SERVED ON MRS. SNYDER

Will Give Testimony in Mysterious Murder Case Before District Attorney.

HEARING TO BE TOMORROW

Widow of Murdered Man Refuses to Make Statement for Publication. R. M. Snyder Expected to Come to Portland.

A subpena was served last night in Portland upon Mrs. Madge Snyder, citing her to appear in Hillsboro and testify be-fore Harrison Allen, the District Attorney, concerning her knowledge of the circumstances surrounding the mysterious death of her husband, Carey M. Snyder, which occurred December 4 of last year. The investigation before the District Attorney will be conducted tomorrow, and it is hoped by the authorities to gain fom the story of the beautiful young widow some information which, together with the facts already known, will lead to the apprehension of the murderers of the bon vivant and son of the Kansas City

The District Attorney's summons, signed by his deputy, Bert Tongue, of Hillsboro, was served upon Mrs. Snyder at 19:30 o'clock last night in front of the Hotel Portland, where she is registered by A. G. Vaughn, of Portland, represent-ing Sheriff Connell, of Washington Coun-Sheriff Connell came to Portland upon this mission earlier in the day, but was unable to find Mrs. Snyder, and returned nome, leaving the matter in charge of home, leaving the hatter in this property is a constant of the leavest of the lea County town yesterday, after promising the authorities Sunday that she would do so. There is a general impression that she could reveal more than she has yet seen fit to lay before the officers, and it is hoped that whatever additional facts she possesses will be brought out in her testimony. To friends she has said that she will tell everything that she knows, at the same time maintaining that her previous statements have been correct in Upon Mrs. Snyder's arrival in Fortland Saturday she registered at the Hotel Ore-gon, but did not remain, as the rooms were all taken. She then went to the Hotel Portland, where she has since been staying. Although registering in her own name, she used every precaution to keep her whereabouts secret. She changed the number of her room soon after arriving, and repeated calls for her at the hotel at various hours of the afternoon and even-ing clicited the information that she was Nowhere could he find her and was called home on business before completing his mission. #### BLOOD ON THE OVERCOAT.

Snyder May Have Been Carried Far After Murder.

HILLSBORO, Or., Oct. 8 .- (Special.) The fractures on the skull of the late Carey M. Snyder, killed December 4, 1966, are not the only evidence that he was killed and carried to the place where his body was found. Close examination of the overcoat, which was found on a log several feet away from the body, discloses several places, which are blood discloses several places. discloses several places which are blood stained, some of the spots being heavily charged with the congelation. This is sufficient evidence to show that the murdered man might have been killed miles away from the spot, and his head wrap-ped in the overcoat to keep the blood from getting on the murderer's clothing, or on the bed or seats of the conveyance. The suicide theory seems entirely ex-ploded because a man with a pistol shot clear through his head would neither be nany feet away from it.

The watch which Mrs. Snyder could not identify has been traced to its forme owner. The last day Snyder was in Hills-boro he went to E. L. McCormick's music store and traded a music box which he had bought from Wright's music store in Portland, for a 15-size 14K gold filled hunting case watch, the case number being 7,377,706. When Snyder made the trade he said he was in a hurry to take the train to Portland-this was at noon December 4. McCormick's invoices show that he had this case on hand at that time, and he identifies the watch as likely to take off his overcoat nor roll

having been traded to Snyder. Before Mrs. Snyder left yesterday she looked at the teeth, which she declined to do in the merning, and she went away satisfied beyond any doubt ag to the identity of the body.

Mrs. Snyder said yesterday that her brother's whereabouts has been unknown to any of her family for months prior to last December and not to her knowledge has he ever been on the Coast. She said that a time prior to the disappear-ance of her husband she and Mr. Snyder had met a man in Hillsboro who asked Perry, and that Mr. Snyder went th the stranger to Portland to find

It is also said that Mrs. Snyder thinks that Snyder did not have the revolver found with the remains with him when he left home to go to Portland. If this is the case then the gun in question was being carried by the man who killed Snyder, although it might have been one Snyder's weapons. Mrs. Snyder failed to arrive here at noon today, nithough she agreed last night to come to Hillsboro to confer with the officers. District Attorney Allen is expected here at once to take up the threads of the case.

Boschke Starts Spokane Depot.

A contract was recently awarded the Barber Asphalt Company for the excavating, which will cost $55,000 as there is a large amount of rock work to be done. The depot, including the umbreila sheds, will entail an expenditure of approximately $75,000. Mr. Boschke is preparing to let a contract for the first grading on the Knappton extension of the I. #### FRAME CONVICT ROAD LAW

Commission to Prepare Act Outlines Its Plans.

Secretary R. A. Harris, of the commission, appointed to prepare a bill to allow the employment of convicts in the con-struction of a state road to California in particular and on public roads in gen-eral, says that the sub-committee appointed to draft the bill will get busy by November. At present Judge Lionel Webster, author of the Legislative enactment authorizing the commission, is absent, but authorizing Ine commission, is absent, but will be back soon. The sub-committee appointed to draft the bill is composed of Judge Webster, E. F. Cannon, secretary of the Automobile Club; C. H. Gram, of the Oregon Federation of Labor; W. K. Newell, Mr. Cavender and R. A. Harris, A great deal of data has been gathered and Secretary Harris and other members.

by Secretary Harris and other members, but it is expected that Judge Webster will draw the bill with the assistance of the foregoing committee. In a letter last week to Secretary Harris, Judge Webster outlines some of the plans proposed, as well as some of the problems to be solved, to make an effective enactment. Secretary Harris said yesterday that the commission desires to take the whole matter out of politics, and Judge Web-ster says in his letter to Mr. Harris that the principal problem will not be in fram-ing the bill, but in carrying its provisions out after it has become a law. Two suggestions are made by Judge

Webster, one being to perpetuate the present commission, giving it authority for putting the law into effect, and an-other is to put it into the hands of the other is to put it into the hands of the County Judges. Judge Webster says both plans have their objections, and on this point no conclusions have been reached as to what will be done. He said, however, on his return he will take the matter up.

PASTORS WILL SHARE COST

Methodist Clergymen Form Plan to Pool Traveling Expenses.

If a minister in the Oregon conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church lives on the borders of the furthermost dis-trict, it will cost him no more to attend future annual conferences than it will cost the pastor of the charge that en-tertains the gathering, for a plan has been adopted whereby every member of the conference will contribute to a fund the conference will contribute to a fund to be used for traveling expenses. At the last annual conference, which was held at Sunnyaide one week ago, it was shown that pastors who were obliged to travel from charges in Southern Ore-gon, on the Eugene, West Portland and Klamaith Mission districts, were put to great expense, and in no case were they able, because of meager salaries, to bring their wives and children.

One pastor of a charge in the Klamath Mission district, was put to nearly $100 expense for travel from his church to the seat of conference, and his salary was about $100 for the year. about $300 for the year. Rev. W. B. Moore, pastor of Clackamas and Oswego charges, is treasurer of the newly-formed organization which, next annual conference, will equalize traveling expenses of the members.

CAMPAIGN ANEW

Christian Associations Determined to Continue Fight for New Home.

A reorganization of the campaigning Now that the identification of the remains of Carcy Snyder has been made positive by the testimony of his wife, it is said that R. M. Snyder, father of the murdered man, will come immediately to Portland. He wrote to a friend in this city that he would come here as soon as committees are in the field in earnest. committees are in the field in earnest. Lists of probable subscribers are being compiled anew, and apportioned among the various workers.

Including the amount raised yesterday, the total at hand is only a few dollars short of the $225,000. To be exact, the present total is $224,174.30. With a month to work in and the biggest part of the fund already secured, the workers anticipate no difficulty in securing the additional amount, although the need for lib-erality and prompt response from rich and poor has not diminished, nor has the of the campaign ceased to rest
