SKIPPER OF THE SELLWOOD AND ALBINA FERRIES MUST KEEP LOG

United States Inspectors Order Record Made of Trips, Passengers, Repairs and Incidents.

CAPTAINS of Albina and Sellwood ferriesboats have been ordered to keep a mariner's logbook just the same as on a deep-sea ship. Now, wouldn't that alter your timbers? County Auditor Carl A. Brandes yesterday issued orders on a local firm for the supplying of the books for the three ferries. It is now expected that the captains of the vessels will advertise for good-looking young women to take charge of the logbooks.

BIDS ON FORAGE OPENED

Three Portland Firms Submit Tenders for Army Supplies.

Proposals for hay and oats to be delivered at Portland for shipment to Manila for army use were opened at the local office of the Quartermaster yesterday and forwarded to the Quartermaster-General at Washington, where an award will be made. The call was for bids on 800 tons of oats and 500 tons of hay.

Gay Lombard, Albers Brothers Milling Company and the Acme Mills Company all submitted bids on oats and Albers Brothers alone on hay. Lowest among the bids for oats and recommended by the local office was the Acme Mills Company's bid of $25.19 a ton for 200 tons. Next came Albers Brothers with a bid of $25.94 on 1500 tons and $27.24 a ton on 2500 tons.

Lombard submitted a bid of $30.80 a ton for the entire quantity. Albers Brothers submitted a straight bid of $19.40 on 3500 tons of timothy hay and have no competitors. A summary of the bids follows:

Oats, 500 tons---Gay Lombard, $30.80 on entire quantity; Albers Brothers, 1500 tons at $25.94, 500 tons at $27.24; Acme Mills Company, 200 tons at $25.19, 800 tons at $28.98, 200 tons at $30.45.

Hay, 500 tons---Albers Brothers, $19.40 on whole amount. Although but three bidders appeared, this is as many as generally participate in bids upon Government Quartermaster

LEMP AND WIFE SEPARATE

Millionaire Brewer Leaves Wife and Will Seek Divorce.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16---William J. Lemp, who succeeded his millionaire father as head of the Lemp brewing interests, today left the Lemp family home, at 3043 South Thirteenth street, and took quarters at the Washington Hotel, where his brother also has rooms. Young Mrs. Lemp and her son now occupy Lemp's residence alone. Her picturesque title, "Lavender Lady," is due to her preference for a stunning toilette in which lavender is a dominant note. She is a daughter of A. H. Handlan, president of the Handlan-Buck Manufacturing Company.

Little Girl Dies of Burns

BERTHA HAHN, the 5-year-old daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Hahn, formerly of Portland, died yesterday at Colville, Wash., from the effects of burns received six weeks ago. Mrs. Hahn is well known in Portland, having been born and raised here and will bring the body of her dead daughter to Portland for burial. The little girl was singularly bright, rare presence of mind to run to a hydrant, where she turned on the faucet, allowing the water to pour out on her until the flames had been extinguished.

Epicures Covet His Prize Pears

SECRETARY LABER, of the Board of Trade, has been kept more than busy the last few days fighting off epicures bent on appropriating an appetizing display of pears which covers the top of his desk. A whole box of prize winners is on exhibition, but everyone who enters the office thinks, or pretends, they are there for free distribution. "Thank you for this pear, Mr. Laber. They're the best I have ever seen." When Mr. Laber hears this remark, or something to the same effect, he hastens to intercede before the pear is ruined for show purposes by the imprint of human teeth. He explains they are there for show and not to be eaten, and that besides they are not yet ripe. Mr. Laber is in a quandary what to do with them. He has no place to put them out of reach of the hungry and they are of such unusual size and beauty that he declines to split them away, although he admits the latter course would save him much trouble and time.

The pears are of the Clargave variety and were exhibited at the Hood River Fruit Fair by Richard Scott, of Milwaukie. They were awarded first prize in their class. Mr. Scott raised the pears on his farm near Milwaukie. The box will average 15 ounces to the pear and some of them weigh as much as 23 ounces. Mr. Scott represented the Board of Trade at the Hood River Fair and when he returned presented the pears to Secretary Laber.

SEAL RAID DELIBERATE

Japanese Crew Compelled Captain to Consent to Slaughter.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 15---Clear evidence is forthcoming by advices received today by the steamer Empress of Japan that the raid on St. Paul Island by Japanese sealers was premeditated, and the statement that the Japanese landed for water and were treacherously fired upon by the Americans, as reported to the Japanese government by directors of the raiding schooner, is shown to be untrue. Hunters of the raiding schooner, Toyo No. 2, which appeared off St. Paul Island two days before the raid, went to the captain with the ultimatum that unless he permitted them to go ashore and club seals on the rookery, they would refuse to work and compel him to return. The master agreed. Further discussion took
