

DEATH GOES TO MRS. JEFF DAVIS

Slight Rallies Prolong Her Life One Day Beyond the Expected End.

UNCONSCIOUS FOR HOURS

Only Surviving Child Watches at Deathbed of Mother of Confederacy—Second Attack of Pneumonia in Year Is Fatal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Jefferson Davis, widow of the President of the Confederacy, who had been ill for a week at the Hotel Majestic in this city, died at 10:35 o'clock tonight.

Death was due to pneumonia induced by a severe cold which Mrs. Davis contracted upon her return from the Adirondacks, where she had spent the Summer months. Although grave fears were felt from the first, Mrs. Davis' wonderful vitality, which brought her safely through a similar attack a year ago, gave hope of ultimate recovery until last night, when a decided change for the worse was evident and the attending physicians pronounced that the end was near. It was then believed that Mrs. Davis could not survive the night, but she rallied slightly during the early hours of today.

Shortly after 7 o'clock this morning she had a similar spell and Rev. Nathan A. Seagle, pastor of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church, was hurriedly summoned to give religious comfort to the patient in her last moments of consciousness. The clergyman remained some time and an hour later it was announced that Mrs. Davis had lapsed into a state of coma. The period of unconsciousness continued to the end.

At the bedside when death came were Mrs. J. Addison Hayes, of Newark, N. J., the only surviving daughter of Mrs. Davis; Jefferson Davis Hayes, a grandson, who is a student at Princeton University; Mrs. Charles N. Bateson, a niece; Dr. and Mrs. Gustav Webb, the latter a granddaughter, and Dr. Robert H. Wylie, who, with Dr. Webb, cared for Mrs. Davis throughout her illness. J. Addison Hayes, husband of Mrs. Davis' only living child, had been summoned from Colorado Springs and was hurrying across the continent when a message announcing Mrs. Davis' death intercepted him.

Mrs. Davis has for some years made her home in this city, where she had a wide circle of friends. Throughout her illness, solicitous inquiries regarding her condition were continually made at her apartments.

It is understood that services will be held here by her pastor and it is definitely known that the body will repose beside that of the late President of the Confederacy in Richmond.

BUNGLING TRAINROBBERS GET $60 FOR TROUBLE.

Hold Up Rio Grande Train, but Fail in Dynamiting Safe—Possé in Hot Pursuit.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Oct. 16.—Two armed men boarded the engine of Denver & Rio Grande passenger train No. 5 at Malta tonight and at the muzzle of revolvers compelled the engineer and fireman to uncouple the express and baggage cars. They then forced the engineer to pull the car several miles up the road. When the train stopped, the bandits went to the express car and covered the messenger with their weapons, attempted to blow open the safe. They only succeeded in securing about $60.

The second section of No. 5 was three hours late leaving Salida. It was in charge of Conductor Conway and Engineer Campbell. When the train reached Leadville Junction, the fireman and men climbed over the tender and covered the engine with revolvers, ordered them to stop the train. This was done and one of the bandits marched the fireman to the express car, which he ordered uncoupled. This was done so quickly that the rest of the train crew were not aware of what had happened. The fireman and the bandit then leaped aboard the car and pulled up the track.

When passing Killbuck siding, the conductor of waiting freight train noticed the flying train and, suspecting something wrong, notified the local agent. Meanwhile the engine and express car sped up the track for about two miles. It was halted and the robbers, forcing the engine men to walk in front of them, ordered the express messenger to open the safe, threatening him with death.

One of the robbers attempted to dynamite the safe, but the job was a bungling one, and it is stated that all the money secured was about $60 in loose packages.

A posse of 11 men headed by Sheriff O'Mahoney is in pursuit of the bandits, whose description tallies with that of two men who blew open a safe at White Sulphur Springs in Summit County a few nights ago.

HIGH-PRICED HUSBANDS

WANTS $10,000 FOR RETURNING TO DESERTED WIFE.

Robert T. Robb Writes From Portland, Making Strange Demand. Wife's Answer Is Divorce.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—When Robert T. Robb, of Portland, flitted from the altar an hour after the marriage and left his wife, Nellie, of Milwaukee, to battle alone in the world, he placed a high estimate on his value as a husband and head of the family.

Judging from a letter which he sent later to his betrayed spouse, Mrs. Robb told Judge Tarrant about the letter this morning. It was dated from Portland, Ore., and contained the cheering news that her husband would never live with her again unless her mother would give him $10,000, with which to embark in the land business in Canada. He directed his wife to answer, "Yes or No," by telegraph immediately on receipt of his letter.

Mrs. Robb bravely told the court that she promptly notified her lord and master to "guess again," and that she had not seen him since they were married, June 25, 1902, and the $10,000 letter was written in April of this

HAD THAW ACCOMPLICE?

Jerome Hints Another Person May Be Indicted With Him.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—That another person may be indicted with Harry Thaw for the murder of Stanford White was intimated today by District Attorney Jerome, who indicated that such an indictment might be found during an argument before Recorder Goff as to the right of the District Attorney to issue further grand jury subpoenas in the case.

The attorneys for Harry Thaw have sought to prevent the examination of witnesses in the case by the District Attorney through the use of grand jury subpoenas in John Doe proceedings, alleging that such examination was illegal after Thaw had been indicted. When the matter came up before Recorder Goff today, Mr. Jerome said:

"There is no fiction in this case. I am not sure that there is not another that could be coupled with Harry K. Thaw for an indictment for murder in the first degree. It does not appear where Thaw got the revolver with which he killed White. It does not appear that words were not spoken that urged him on. It does not appear that the grand jury is not investigating for the purpose of finding a superseding indictment against others."

No decision was made by the Recorder. At the hearing Clifford W. Hartbridge, Thaw's counsel, called upon the prisoner at the Tomb. After his visit the lawyer explained that Thaw had read the evening papers and feared, from what he had seen of the proceedings before Recorder Goff, that an attempt might be made to indict his wife or other members of the family. Mr. Hartbridge said that he had merely called to see Thaw's mind at rest, as there was no danger that any other member of his family or anyone connected with the family would be indicted.

President Smith Can Use Pleasure With Mormon Church Funds.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 16.—Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon Church, cannot be enjoined from using the funds of the Mormon Church in commercial enterprises, nor can he be compelled to render an accounting for the tithing fund in his case as trustee of the church. A decision to this effect was rendered today by Judge Morse, of the State District Court, when he sustained the demurrer filed in behalf of Smith in the case brought by Don Carlos Muser and Charles A. Smurthwaite, former members of the church.

This is the third decision rendered by Judge Morse on the points involved, two previous petitions filed by the plaintiffs having been denied.

Angry Comment on Anti-Japanese Sentiment in America.

KOBE, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Anti-Japanese feeling on the Pacific Coast of the United States is having much effect here. Japan has long been friendly to Americans. This sentiment is disappearing. The Nichi Nichi, a popular opinion, declares jealousy of a new country womanish, and if it is caused by fear of competition, cowardly as well. The paper adds that if cheap labor is a menace, cheap goods are equally a peril.

REDUCTION ON EXCURSIONS

Not Less Than 100 Allowed at Excursions—Free Passes to Employes—Preachers' Families Get No Favors.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—A series of orders was issued Monday by the Interstate Commerce Commission relating chiefly to the construction of section 6 of the recently enacted railroad rate law. In substance, the rulings follow:

A contract, agreement or arrangement between common carriers, governing a division between them of joint rates on interstate business, is a contract, agreement or arrangement in relation to traffic within the meaning of section 6 of the act to regulate commerce, and a copy thereof must be filed with the commission.

Where a joint rate is in effect by a given route, which is higher between any points than the sum of the local between the same points by the same or another route, such higher joint rate may, until December 31, 1906, be changed by reducing the same to the sum of such local rates, but otherwise upon posting one day in advance a tariff of such reduced rates and mailing a copy thereof to the commission.

Reduced Excursion Rates.

Rates for a series of daily excursions, such series covering a period not exceeding 30 days, may be established upon notice in advance a tariff of such reduced rates, and separate notice of the excursion on.

NO DAWDLING

A Man of 70 After Finding Coffee Hurt Him, Stopped Short.

When a man has lived to be 70 years old with a 40-year-old habit grown to him like a knot on a tree, chances are he'll stick to the habit till he dies.

But occasionally the spirit of youth and determination remains in some men to the last day of their lives. When such men do find any habit of life has been doing them harm, they surprise the Celestials by a degree of will power that is supposed to belong to men under 40 only.

"I had been a user of coffee until three years ago—a period of 40 years—and am now 70," writes a N. Dak man. "I was extremely nervous and debilitated, and saw plainly that I must make a change. I am thankful to say I had the nerve to quit coffee at once and take on Postum without any dawdling, and experienced no ill effects. On the contrary, I commenced to gain, losing my nervousness within two months, also gaining strength and health otherwise."

"For a man of my age, I am very well and hearty. I sometimes meet persons who have not made their Postum right and don't like it. But I tell them to boil it long enough, and call their attention to my looks now, and before I used it, that seems convincing."

"Now, when I have writing to do, or long columns of figures to cast up, I feel equal to it and can get through my work without the fagged-out feeling of old."
