ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct 23.—The total number of dead in the wreck of the electric train which on Sunday afternoon, loaded with passengers, plunged into the waterway separating the city from the mainland is now placed at 53. two bosites remain unclaimed in the temporary morgue and two people are known to have been drowned, but their bodies have not as yet been recovered. A special car containing the bodies of the Philadelphia victims left tonight for that city. The day has been one of unceasing activity, of graesome scenes and pathetis incidents. Wrecking crews with derickle succeeded in bringing one of the two submerged cars to the surface, and divers working in relays, brought up bodies until their task was completed and they reported that no more dead remained either inside the second car or anywhere in the vicinity. or anywhere in the vicinity.

Coroner's Jury at Scene.

Interest now centers in the work of the Coroner's jury, which today made a careful inspection of the scene of the wreek and the drawbridge at which the train left the rails. The jury sworn in by Coroner Gaskill is headed by State Senator Edward S. Lee as foreman. The jurors met at 1 o'clock and, accompanied by the Coroner, Prosecuting Attorney Abbott, City Selicitor Wootten and several other city officials, proceed to the scene of the tragedy. At the bridge they were jointed by Mayor Stoy and W. W. Attorbury, goneral manager of the Ponnsylvania Railroad.

surface and the divers who had been at work on the wreckage all day long had made a final examination of the bodies, Mr. Atterbury, who with several of his assistants had been on the scene

since Sunday night, expressed his belief that the total number of dead would not

Cause a Mystery to Atterbury.
On returning from the drawbridge Mr. Atterbury said the cause of the accident still was a mystery to him. Mr. Atterbury himself showed the jurous how the bridge is operated and explained in detail the manner of opening and closing the draw. On the return to this city the jury decided to hold the first session of the inquiry on Thursday.

Although reasonably certain that the waterway into which the electric train fell had been relieved of all its dead, the divers continued their work later into the night and maintained a diligent search. The wrecking crew is also kept busy preparing for the holsting of the second car and it is expected that this will be raised before morning. The debria of the last car which struck and was held fast by an abutment has not yet been removed an effort in that direction resulting in half the coach sliding into the stream.

Special Land Agent Frank Parks has received no reply from Washington to his recommendations that the present opening be unnulled on account of irregularity. He asserts that today's proceedings are an injustice to those who sought to obey the laws regarding the opening and whose efforts were baffled by those who rushed through ahead of time because the boundary lines were not properly guarded. Had lines were not properly guarded. Had it not been for the work of private citizens, who assisted the 14 Indian police, there would not have been the slightest semblance of regularity in the pening.

He stated in his dis-patch that, on account of the lax meth-ods observed, hundreds of prospectors had paid no attention to the time set for the opening.
