LONDON, Oct. 31 .- The Atlantic City disaster has called attention to the condi-tion of the numerous railway draw-bridges in England, many of which are worked without exceptional precautions. The Great Eastern Railway, however, employs at each drawbridge a pilot man, who is practically answerable for the safety of trains with his life After fixing the bridge for an approaching train, he must meet the train, which slows down and picks him up. He passes over the bridge aboard the engine and in case of an accident would share its fate. After crossing the bridge he drops off the en-

Russian Council of Ministers Gives

ALLOWED TO MORTGAGE

Peasants New Privilege.

ST PETERSBURG, Oct. 31 -- The Council of Ministers today adopted an im portant measure which gives communes guilds, and individual peasants the right, hitherto prohibited by law, to mortgage their communal lands on chares. The measure reserves the monopoly of such mortgages to the peasants' bank. It con-times the permission to mortgage strictly to the following cases: First, to purchase lands of departing immigrants; second, to purchase lands from the land fund, and third, to defray entail-ed expenses to stimulate and facilitate the transition from communal to indi-vidual ownership.

While the measure does not abolish out right the principle of alienability of com-munal lands, it strikes at the root of this idea and introduces a powerful factor which is designated to split the agrariar problem, break up the present communal ownership and increase the number of
