SEATTLE HAS CUT OUT THE PAODING

Negotiations at the Clearing-House Will Hereafter Proceed on Cash Basis.

CRITICISM IS TOO STRONG

For Many Years the Day's Balances Have Been Swollen by Checks Carried Over From Day to Day.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 4 - (Special.)-Seartle has abandoned the practice of paying balances by check and is con ducting its clearing-house negotiations on a cash basis, because adverse criticism aronsed such a storm that the clearing-house banks finally decided that the city ought to adopt the standard recognized the larger and more important finan-

For little more than half a month the change has been effective and Clearing-House Manager J. V. A. Smith estimates that the clearings show a decrease of between 15 and 20 per cent as a result. The difference represents what Seattle used to gain when the banks sent clearing-bouse checks collected for balan-due through on the following day. T swollen balances that were formerly mad a part of the next day's clearings have disappeared and a comparison of Scattle's clearings can be made understandingly in those communities which long ago adopted the cash payment system

Change Was Long Discussed.

The clearing-house banks have been talking about the change for more than six months, and a committee spent half a year figuring out a plan to change from the check system to the daily payment plan. There is not much of an effort made now to conceal the fact that the check system was an alluring plan in the days when the swelling of bank clearings meant an advertising gain.

The actual growth-of business is enough now to make a respectable and even an enthusiastic showing, and Scattle banks yielded to the criticism of an unfair clearing scheme. From a new niche on the pinnacle of rectitude Seattle is engaged in looking down upon Tacoma, where the dearing-house clings to the check plan. Portland criticism of the old system Portland criticism of the old system probably had as much to do with the change as anything else. The fact that Portland paid balances in cash was the first argument suggested yesterday in explanation for the Seattle change. That Eastern cities had approved this plan long but did not learn her name.

Banks Make Gold Deposit.

Dexter, Horton & Co. happened to have an unused safe and a window that could spared at certain times of the day the banks agreed to deposit $1,250,000 in that yault and to issue clearing-house certificates against it. These certificates run in value from $1000 to $500, any smaller sums than $1000 being paid in cash. Every day Dexter, Horton & Co.

The estimate Munager Smith makes that a loss of between 15 and 29 per cent le made by the change can be seen from the following comparisons. The clearinghouse adopted the new rule October 18 On that day there were carried over bal-ances that figured in the clearings, so it was not until October 19 that the effect of the enforcement of the rule is apparent. The record of daily clearings for October, 1966 and 1996, read with this fact in mind is interesting. It follows: 1906. 1906.

Change in Mode of Making Street Improvements Is Favored.

AUTHORITIES TALK

Think More Modern System Preferable-Not Agreed as to Abolition of Power of Remonstrance Now Allowed.

There is a strong sentiment among the municipal authorities favoring the amendment of the city charter to provide for the improvement of streets by districts. Coupled with this is a proposal to repeal the two-thirds remonstrance clause which at present gives property-owners the power to block arbitrarily street improve-ments. The two suggestions have been receiving considerable attention from mem-

"I am in favor of district improvements, and also of doing away with the power of remonstrance," said Councilman Bennett. "There are a great many instances where this power is abused, and the improvement of streets much needed is prevented. I think that the proceedings should be forced through here as they are in many other cities. If they were, the entire city would be the gainer."

the city authorities, it is an open question us to whether its benefits do not offset this drawback, and many are ready to say that they do,

Large Owners Block Progress.

From the records it is very evident that the power of remonstrance has often proved a serious drawback. The power to protest is constantly being invoked and in numerous instances improvements very important to the welfare of the municipality have been prevented. A peculiar feature of the practical operation of the provision is that the poorer property-owner is less likely to remonstrate than the owner of extensive holdings who is much better able to pay for the work. The records show that large estates, control-ing nearly all the property along proposed improvements have held back badly needed improvements. The Ladd estate appears very often in this role and through its intervention the betterment of many thoroughfares has been prevented.

In Seattle, where district improvements are the rule, and where the power of remonstrance is denied, the plan has shown good results. An enormous amount of work has been accomplished and it has been possible to improve large areas of streets in a single proceedings, resulting in districts of driveways to which the city

"I am heartly in favor of district im-provements, and would like to see the system adopted in Portland," said Mayor system adopted in Portland, said Mayor Lane last night. I am not so sure that it would be advised to a ways with the proves of advisable to do away with the power of remonstrance. I have not studied that question enough to indorse it yet."

"District improvement is an excellent plan. I believe, but I am not ready to go on record as against the remon-strance rule," said R. L. Sabin, chairman of the streets committee of the Executive Board. "In some cases where a big property-owner takes it into his hands to block an improve-ment it works a hardship on the city. In other cases, however, the arbitrary ruling of the authorities, without being a subject to protest, might work a hardship on the owners."

Councilman Vaughn's Views.

"I am in favor of district improve-ments for the central section of the city, but do not believe that the sys-tem is desirable when applied to out-lying neighborhoods," was the state-ment of W. T. Vaughn, chairman of the streets committee of the Council. In residence districts different kinds of improvements are often advisable for adjoining streets, and it is seldom that one kind would be best for all of the adjoining streets, and it is seldom that one kind would be best for all of the streets in any one section I am against repealing the remonstrance rule. I believe that the people always should have power to say what kind of an him this mornin, an he set. I'm a hotel-runner now, an it's a real swell place."—Philadelphia Press.

Varicocele,

YOU ARE NEVER SAFE WHILE THIS POISON REMAINS IN THE SYSTEM A person afflicted with Blood Polson cannot feel safe while any of the virus or polson remains in the system. This disease, with little doubt, is one of the most horrible and deadly which affects the human family, from the fact that though its beginning is manifested by only a small sore, in a short time it becomes constitutional; the blood is contaminated, the tissues break down, and a multitude of terrible symptoms follow, such as unsigntly skin cruptions, sore throat, falling of the hair, pains in various parts of the body, inflamed eyes, general emaclation and debility. Later may follow disease of the nerves, such as paralysis, locomotor ataxia, softening of the brain, insanity, etc. We will cure you if your case can be cured.

SYPHILIS, BLOOD POISON

PRONOUNCED NERVOUS DISORDERS

MEN WHO LACK VIGOR AND MENTAL CLEARNESS. There is a peculiar form of impotency to which men and all those whose brains are in constant action are subject to in a greater or less degree. It is sometimes referred to as brain-fag. The daily grind of balances, of collections, losses and business complications brings on a sort of apathy.

DESPONDENCY MAY ENSUE. The cares of business are already sufficient to overburden the mind, but when the nerve force and vigor seem to have given out, a very dangerous complication is added to the mental condition. We cure this ailment by our own scientific methods. Write if you cannot call. Hours-9 A. M. to 5 P. M.; evenings, 7 to 8:30; Sundays, 9 A. M. to 12 M.
