Rose City Park
THE NEXT!

From the Minneapolis Journal.
Appropos of the mushroom growth of new towns on the Western frontier a locomotive engineer relates the following:
"One day I was driving my engine across the prairie when suddenly a considerable town loomed up ahead where nothing had showed the day before.
"What town's this?" said I to my fireman.
"Blamed if I know," says Bill. It wasn't here when we went over the road yesterday."
"Well, I slowed down, and directly we pulled into the station, where over 500 people were waiting on the platform to see the first train come in.
"The conductor came along up front and says to me:
"Jim, first we know we'll be running by some important place. Get this town down on your list and I'll put a brakeman out on the rear platform to watch out for towns that spring up after the train goes by."
